

CURLING CHATTER

FROM THE COUNTRY CLUB

The second series of games got under way last Monday evening. Some of the skips are having a better luck than at the start of the season, by topping the first two games while others are chalking up losses. The mixing up of the personnel gives every skip a chance to play with different partners and try different skips.

Noticed a fine display of curling enthusiasm Friday night between games Bob Costley had no curling beginners out showing them how to deliver the rock, and explaining the hand signals of the skips. If more of the experienced skips would lend a helping hand to beginners they would have that much more satisfaction that stays with you long after the game is over.

Spent a very pleasant half hour last Saturday afternoon watching the TV curling match. If any of you notice that the city fellows miss the broom as much as you or I. And they miss the runs in it, even more than our own ice. Now I'll get me wrong — our ice is very good — but occasionally we have sudden changes in weather, the ice will heave up anything that can be seen. But it was a sop to our eyes to see the big city rinks going through the same as the rinks all over the country.

SCORE - RARE EIGHT-ENDER
 AN OSHAWA RINK was the talk of the Mixed Bonspiel at the curling club on Saturday. The rink skipped by Bob Patti and including Jacqui Patti, Hal Butler and Jean Crawford achieved the rarer feat of an eight-ender, the first of the local season. They finished second in their draw.

Eight-Ender Features Oshawa Win at Spiel

The invitational mixed bonspiel had plenty of excitement at the curling club on Saturday. An eight-ender by an Oshawa rink highlighted the match. The rink skipped by Bob Patti of Oshawa attained the curling heights in a game with a rink skipped by Len Ward of Georgetown when all their rocks were in the scoring circle. This is the first eight-ender scored on the club ice this season.

The rink was composed of Bob Patti, skip; Jean Crawford, vice; Hal Butler, second; and Jacqui Patti as lead. Incidentally, after scoring the big end, the Patti rink only beat the Ward rink by two points in the eight ends. The Ward rink was composed of Len Ward, skip; P. Ward, vice; D. Patton, second; and M. Patton as lead.

The result of the draw at eleven o'clock was as follows: First — Allen Jones rink of Guelph with the other members being Alice Jones, O. Hunter and Mrs. J. Malcolm. Second — Bob Patti, Oshawa, with Jean Crawford, Hal Butler and Jacqui Patti. Third — Len Ward rink of Georgetown with P. Ward, D. Patton, M. Patton.

"100" Score Registered By Maher

Guess who mastered the difficult Georgetown Revolver Club range last Wednesday night? Why the Range Master of course, and in fine fashion.

Range Master, Norm Maher, elected to the post the same night, during a session of officers showed the club a significant with an amazing display of skill which earned him 100 points on the highest score possible on two targets. The feat was performed only one other time here when Ivo Warnock showed the way.

Measure Required To See Spiel Win

A Georgetown High School curling rink skipped by Bob Bingham had the smallest margin of victory of any rink since the high school league was launched at the North Halton Curling Club when a measure was required to determine a winner on the final end Monday.

John Hepburn 1 1 0 5
 Nort Nelson 1 1 0 5
 Bill Robinson 1 1 0 5
 Harold Cleave 0 2 0 0
 Ernie Curry 0 2 0 0
 Mac Mackinnon 0 2 0 0
 Nels Robinson 0 2 0 0
 Vern Archer 0 2 0 0

It might be pointed out that it is the duty of the vice skips to mark the score on the record sheet after each game. It would help those who are trying to keep the records if this was done promptly after the game. Thank you.

The mild spell Saturday caused the roof to sweat during the Mixed Bonspiel. These droplets formed little bumps on the ice and made the course of the rocks unpredictable. But the teams carried on and good scores were posted.

The perfect end was played on the rink Saturday in the bonspiel. It happened to an Oshawa rink skipped by Bob Patti. Congratulations to the visitors. Len Ward and his rink were the unfortunate victims, although they only lost the game by two points.

Legion Curling Finals Scheduled for B.C.

For six months each year thousands of Legionnaires have rocks in their heads. From the instant a temperature below 32 degrees can be induced under or around a puddle of water, their thoughts, talk and actions are all "curling".

This year over 7,500 such curlers from 900 branches set their aims for the G & W Trophy. Starting on March 14th one team from each province will take the ice at Trail, B.C. This four-day event will climax one of the fastest growing competitions in Canada... Canadian Legion curling.

Although only in its fifth year, the G & W Canadian Legion National Curling Championship already ranks as one of the outstanding events of its kind in Canada. Experts who have followed curling for years have expressed the opinion that arrangements and the calibre of play at these championships compare very favorably with any national curling event.

They have also been characterized by unbounded hospitality on the part of host branches. For while the competition on the ice gets more intense each year, each host branch has accepted the challenge to outdo its predecessor.

Gilbert Paces Toronto To Lopsided Victory

Four goals by Gilbert led the way for the Toronto entry in the local Industrial Hockey to an 11 to 1 drubbing of the Superior Foods team at the arena Sunday.

Gilbert also picked up three assists in the rout which was accelerated by a pair of tallies from Sackfield and singles by Beaudin, Mahoney, Nowuselski, Mierault, and Ducheck. Charlie Davies scored the only Superior Foods counter.

There were nine penalties in the game, four to Toronto and five to Superior Foods.

In the other game on the weekly twin bill Norway got two goal performances from
