

New Traffic Control Measures At Rexway-Highway Approach

Measures have been taken by the town police and engineering departments to overcome a traffic hazard at the Rexway Drive approach to the highway. Entrance to the much-travelled street has been a problem since it was created as a main traffic artery into new subdivisions in the eastern part of town. The entrance is much wider than that to a normal street and motorists have had difficulty in determining the proper paths for entrance and exit.

A sandbagging system has been adopted and three islands created to channel traffic into a set pattern. There are two entrances from the highway. Motorists coming from the west will enter a semi-circular approach, while those from the east will make a right-angle turn in an adjoining lane. Similarly, there are now two exits, a sloping one for those east-bound and a right-angle turn for those west-bound. Warning signs have been put in prominent positions to guide traffic into the proper lanes.

Sandbags will make the islands for several months in case a change is necessary for greater safety. When permanent lanes are established, the town plans to erect islands.

A sketch of the intersection, drawn by Town Engineer G. R. Bligh indicates the traffic control as it now exists.

OTTAWA REPORT

BI-MONTHLY OBSERVATIONS BY SANDY BEST, M.P. FOR HALTON

WHEN THE HOUSE OF Commons resumed sittings this week, it could look on a fair measure of accomplishment in the five weeks of the session in November and December. Exercising self-discipline, the three parties in the House of Commons vigorously discussed the measures brought forward and proposed by the government. Not for some time, has a parliamentary session got off to such a fast start and before the House rose for the Christmas recess, approval or consideration had been given to a number of important measures.

ONE OF THE MATTERS which caught the public eye and has received favourable comment was the important Trade Conference called by the Minister of Trade and Commerce, the Hon. George Hees. Many business leaders from Halton County gave pleased reactions with the efficiency with which the interviews were handled and the new information they gained about export possibilities. It is not unusual, of course, that a considerable number of delegates should have come from Halton County to this trade conference. With the many and diverse industries in our area, and the residence within the county of business leaders working in the centres of Toronto and Hamilton, Halton can indeed muster a wide variety of industrial and commercial talent. The conference is going to be followed by increased liaison between Canadian trade commissioners around the world, and business leaders at home. Several important trade missions from Canada in recent months have also made contributions to an improved trade picture. Canadians can gain some satisfaction in the 10 per cent rise in exports in the past three years, with a 3 per cent drop in imports in the corresponding period. Nevertheless, there is much more to be done.

A LARGE CROWD attended the opening of the new Joseph Brant Hospital in Burlington last Saturday. This splendid institution is the result of the dreams, hopes and concrete contributions of the citizens of the Burlington area. With most modern facilities and several innovations, this new hospital promises to play a most worthwhile role in the Burlington district. After difficulties, frustrations, over a period of years, the leaders in this project have at last achieved their goal. As the chairman pointed out, an institution like this hospital, with more than 200 beds, facilities for the Red Cross, the V.O.N., and other organizations is a result of cooperation in contributions, both financial and organizational, at many levels. The Federal and Provincial Governments contributed well over one million dollars to the construction of the hospital. Halton County Council has also made a most significant contribution.

AS WELL AS the organization and planning, a very substantial amount of the money has come directly from the citizens of Burlington. This probably is the most efficient money raised

NEW LOOK FOR PHONE BOOK

There's a new look, both inside and out, for the latest issue of the Brampton-Orangeville Telephone Directory, scheduled for delivery to Georgetown telephone customers early in February.

Colour Front
Bell Telephone manager for this region, Elyse Denby, said this week the 4,500 copies of the directory earmarked for homes and businesses in Georgetown will feature four-colour front and back covers for the first time this year. And inside the book, a new system of listing has been employed for Brampton, Huttonville, Victoria and Snelgrove numbers will be listed alphabetically under the Brampton section of the directory, Mr. Denby explained.

The Cataract
The front directory cover, he said, will show a sketch of Cataract Falls, and the back cover, a selection of colored telephones, including the Bell's new Princess set.

Same Total
In all close to 30,000 copies of the 1961 issue are slated for delivery to subscribers in this area. In Georgetown, the total for this year is the same as 1960. Brampton's distribution - the largest in the area - will be increased to 8,300 as against last year's total of 7,500.

Other Areas
Some 1,200 copies are slated for delivery to Huttonville, Snelgrove and Victoria telephone users, and in Milton 3,900 copies will be distributed.

Rev. Ian Fleming conducted the funeral on Saturday at the Harold C. McClure funeral home.

Teaching Machine Ideal for Home Study

This young woman is using a new self-teaching machine for home study. It is the first low-cost device of its type.

You can learn Russian, algebra, music, and a variety of other subjects at home up to three times faster than by conventional learning methods, thanks to a new teaching machine.

The machine, which sells for $29, is designed for use with a new type of instructional material which was developed by a leading educational psychologist. The method and the material have been extensively tested in a number of colleges and universities.

A person using the machine reads a short statement appearing in a window at the top of the screen. He then writes his answer to a question about the statement in a space provided for it. When the paper in the machine is advanced, the correct answer is revealed and a new statement and question appear.

This method allows a student to proceed at his own pace and provides him with the gratification of knowing immediately whether his answer is correct. The learning process is reinforced through feeding small amounts of information.

ATTENDS MEXICAN EXPOSITION

CRUIK Reid, Chipper, C.I., has returned from Mexico where he attended the exposition in Queretaro during the week between Christmas and New Year's.

Mr. Reid, who exports cattle to Mexico regularly, took a shipment of Holsteins and Jerseys to the exposition, as well as some sheep. The animals were exhibited and sold during the show to a number of Mexican buyers.

Entertain Guild at W.A. Pot Luck Supper

The ladies of St. Nicholas Guild, Rev. and Mrs. K. Richardson and family and Mrs. Philip Hayes were guests at a pot luck supper which preceded the first meeting for 1961, of the W.A. of St. George's Church.

After a bountiful meal of a variety of dishes, the ladies were entertained with an interesting film about mission work and unity in the Church of India, shown by Mr. Richardson. Mrs. S. Walker, president, chaired the business meeting which followed. The treasurer, Mrs. W. Chapin, gave the annual report showing a record year and the president thanked the members for all that they had done to achieve this.

Plans were made for the choir boys banquet which is sponsored by the W.A. and will be held on January 18th. The meeting closed with prayer.
