

Hockey Activity Is Detailed By Speaker

Georgetown's Junior Chamber of Commerce received an education in the mechanics of minor hockey organizing last week at their meeting.

Minor hockey officials and the writers of the Herald's Kid Hockey column Red Asseltine spoke to the Jaycees on the past history of hockey activity locally and the organization's outlook for future years. The main theme of the talk was the upcoming Banham Hockey Week which the Junior Chamber is giving consideration to sponsoring.

Plans were finalized for the Charter Night scheduled for the Legion Hall Friday night. The director of the Ontario Research Foundation, Dr. A. D. Misener, will be the principal speaker and a number of other special guests including Halton's member of Parliament, Sandy Best; and the mayors of Oakville and Georgetown, will be in attendance. The three local service clubs have also been extended invitations.

Guest seats are still available from Junior Chamber member Bill Sunnucks.

The Jaycees have been informed that they have two seats available on the Industrial Commission and appointments are being considered.

Points Modern Facilities Over 30 Years Ago

John T. Armstrong (accompanied by Mrs. Armstrong), was guest speaker at the regular dinner meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club at the Jack O'Lantern on Monday evening. Mrs. William Smith introduced the speaker and Mrs. Elizabeth McCrae thanked him and presented Mrs. Armstrong with a bouquet of flowers. Mr. Armstrong is always an interesting speaker and his listeners always come away with a better understanding of the workings of a municipality at various levels. He compared our way of living today with that of thirty years ago, stressing our many present day privileges. He also spoke on the extension of the municipal franchise and this was particularly interesting to the members since it is one of the many projects on which the clubs at all levels are striving for.

A business meeting followed with reports from the various chairmen and the minutes and correspondence read and dealt with. An invitation was received from the Brampton Club to visit them on February 18th when Miss Nazia Dane will be their guest speaker. Several members plan to attend. Notification was also received giving the date of the Toronto United Nations Seminar. It will be held in the Royal York Hotel on March 11th and will last all day concluding with a banquet and speaker in the evening. Plans will be made to attend this at the next meeting.

Miss Jean Mackenzie and Miss Nora Krahnitz will comprise a committee on Employment Conditions. Two visitors at the club were Miss Marilyn Carter and Mrs. Atkin. The meeting closed with the club benediction.

Musical Talent Abounds At Local High School

Variety Night Well Paced Musical Show

Students and parents filled the high school auditorium last Tuesday for Variety Night, a new activity for the student body. And judging by the calibre of the show and audience reaction, it should be an annual affair.

From the opening numbers by the choir to the final strains of "The Saints Go Marching In" by what might be the nucleus of a school orchestra next term, it was a fast-paced musical show. School board member Douglas Latimer as master of ceremonies, tied it neatly together, with humorous references to his own student days.

Ray Norris, an accomplished pianist, played two groups of numbers and Chopin's Fantasia Imprompto was a particular favourite with the audience. Soprano Joyce McLean also made two appearances, singing for one number "Anywhere Under the Sun" an original composition by the school's music director, Dr. Charles Wilson of Geolphi. "Put Your Hand in Mine," another number from an operetta which Dr. Wilson wrote for a recent performance in Geolphi was sung by the choir.

Other soloists were Simon Frankruyter, Carolyn Hallitt and Sharon Sweeney. Roberta Hawes and Ellen Blehn sang a duet. Instrumental soloists included Jim Fiddler, cornet; Robert McCumber, saxophone and Rita Klooster, accordion. Peter Forgrave, Robert Armstrong and Ray Carter played a clarinet solo. Paul Baker and Rex Heslop combined on piano and drums for one number and Rex accompanied Pam Currie in a rhythm tap dance.

The current measles epidemic eliminated one number from the program, Marilyn Murray, who was scheduled to sing a solo.

In his opening remarks, Principal J. L. Lambert noted the musical talent which abounds at the school, and said it should dispel any idea that young people nowadays do not make use of their spare time for hobbies.
