in conclusion I should like On Industry to point out two of three specific examples of what has been happening in my own province of Ontario and across Canada. In our county of Halton we have parts of four river valley conservation authorities. There are some 20 odd of these auth orities in the province of On terio, and they are doing very successful work. They are various stages and ages, hat they are accomplishing work and focussing the attention of the public on the conservation of soil, land and water, and providing park areas, flood controls and many other bene-

Mental Heatth Branch Forming in Halton

Mental Health continues to attract attention in Halton County, Mr. Paul Lanz of Burlington, today announced an organizational meeting of a branch of the Canadian Mental Health Association for persons interested m mental health. This follows closely on the announcement by Dr. A. Bull, MOH of the establishment of a Mental Health Clinic for the County.

Mr. Lanz stated that for some time a group of interested persons have been working towards the establishment of a Halton County Branch of the Canadian Mental Health Association. The purpose of the Branch will he to bring together laymen interested in conquering Canada's number one health problem. Eighteen branches and over 18,000 members of the Association in Ontario contribute greatly towards prevention, public education, research and services to the mentally ill. Dramatic results have been achieved in the last few years through direct personal services to the patient and ex-patient by a local and devoted army of
