Spring Dance Enjoyable Though Not Profitable

The Georgetown Revolver club's spring dance, though enjoyable, was not profitable.

Report on the dance was heard at a regular Revolver Club meeting last week chaired by Ab Whitney. Good news for the members was the announcement that a car parking lot adjoining the Limehouse indoor range, will be paved.

Junior members can now take part in the sport if accompanied by a guardian or parent member. The age spread is 14 to 21.

LOU REPORTS

Club member Alf Long, recent "big white hunter", will show his African Safari films in September.

The advantages of all joining the ORA were voiced by Ed French who spoke at the meeting.

Publicity man Sam Melter says shootin' at the range has reached a new high and scores are soaring.
