County Legion Organ Gift Dedicated at Halton Manor

By Muriel Thompson

Sunday afternoon, June 11, was a time of great significance and inspiration for the residents of Halton Manor, for on that afternoon a service was held in the chapel in order to dedicate several wonderful gifts that had been donated to the Manor for use in the chapel. The chapel itself was adorned with two white flower standards filled with lovely bouquets of snapdragons, mums and carnations. The altar was adorned with an altar cloth and altar cross, and the pulpit and lectern with antependiums. The cloth cross and antependiums had been given by the Presbyterian, Anglican and United Church congregations in Milton, and were dedicated during the service.

the auditorium and heard the service over the public address system. The Branches of the Legion were represented by their presidents and their chaplains. The deputy-zone commander was present.

Welcome Visitors
Other welcome visitors were Mr. Stan Hall, M.P.E.; Warden Alex Phillips—B.S.A.; former Warden D. Sargent, who is reeve of Georgetown and the present chairman of the Halton Manor Board, and former Warden J. A. Milne, who is the reeve of Nassagaweya and a former chairman of the Halton Manor Board. When the Colour Party had been stationed along the sides of the chapel, the dedication service began.

Altar Cross
The Invocation Prayer was offered by Rev. J. K. L. McGowan, minister of Knox Presbyterian Church in Milton and this was followed by the dedication of the altar cross, altar cloth and antependiums by Rev. J. L. Graham, minister of St. Paul's United Church, Milton. As was mentioned above these gifts were given by the Anglican, United and Presbyterian congregations in Milton. Psalm 150 was read by Rev. A. McKenzie, minister of Knox Presbyterian church in Acton and chaplain of the Acton Branch of the Legion. This was followed by the reading of verses 10-12 of Chapter 29 of First Chronicles, also read by Mr. McKenzie.

Legion Branches
A very important part of the service came next when Rev. D. A. Powell, rector of Grace Anglican church and Chaplain of the Milton Branch of the Legion, dedicated the organ. This organ had been donated by the Legion Branches already mentioned as a memorial to those who paid the supreme sacrifice in the two World Wars. It is a two-manual electronic organ and the beauty of its tone was disclosed after the dedication when Mr. Bernard Shrubsole played a very fine organ solo upon it. Mr. Shrubsole also played it for the singing of a very beautiful hymn, "Hark, Creation's Alleluiah," set to the tune of "Austria," which came next and preceded the Benediction. After the Benediction, Mr. Shrubsole played a medley of familiar hymns as an Organ Postlude.

Parade of Bands
After leaving the chapel and auditorium, the visitors and residents witnessed the parade of bands, Legionnaires and Auxiliary ladies as they marched back to the Milton Legion headquarters, leaving behind them many grateful hearts and pleasant memories among the residents of the Manor. All the gifts mentioned, the organ, the antependiums, the altar cloth and the antependiums will serve for a long, long time as reminders of the generosity of these friends of the Manor who donated them. The arrangements at the Manor were under the expert supervision of Mr. Stan Allen, the superintendent who used every means to make this event the delightful one that it turned out to be.

Motion Pictures
Two very attractive motion picture films were shown to the residents on Tuesday evening, June 6 by Mrs. Delbert Downs of Hornby. Since these films were in beautiful colour and were accompanied by an interesting commentary by Mrs. Downs, they were a delight to see as well as to hear. The first film had been taken during a trip to Vancouver and Victoria that Mrs. Downs enjoyed a few years ago.

Silver Mine
The pictures began with that of a silver mine at Tomagami and continued on across Canada showing such scenes as the grain elevators at the head of the Lakes, the Calgary Stampede, the mountain resorts of Banff and Lake Louise, Stanley Park at Vancouver and the Butchart Gardens at Victoria. The second film was outstanding for its beautiful pictures of flowers.

Bu. Trips
These flower pictures had been taken during several bus trips to Ottawa, Quebec City and Rochester, N.Y. Among them were a number of very lovely pictures of the tulips at Ottawa and the roses and at Buffalo. Mrs. Downs' mother, Mrs. Carton was able to be present, and Mr. Gerald Carton, Mrs. Downs' brother, was also a welcome visitor. Mrs. Downs has graciously offered to come to show more pictures and this visit will be eagerly anticipated.

North Halton Census Completed on Schedule

Enumerators Received Utmost in Cooperation

North Halton Census has been completed and no incidents of any kind are reported. According to Mrs. L. M. Clark, census commissioner for North Halton, cooperation from the citizens of her four districts was excellent and the census has proceeded ahead of schedule. Two weeks of steady calls was allowed in the towns of Georgetown and Acton, with time allowed for "call backs" and people who were away. Three weeks was given those in the rural areas of Esquesing and Nassagaweya, to fill in the lengthier agricultural forms. However in the agricultural areas, where many farmers had their forms filled when the census taker called, much of the area was covered in two weeks.

The occupational hazard of the enumerators seemed to be sore feet and loss of voice, one that was quite understandable with the amount of walking and talking involved.

North Halton, the largest district (in area) was one of five in Halton, the others being — Oakville, Trafalgar, Burlington and Burlington Nelson.

With the heretofore small problem of New Canadians, it was found helpful to have some at least some with knowledge of more than one language. Locally a number of the enumerators were bilingual as they were in Acton. Indeed, in one area, two of the enumerators were well equipped, speaking as they did, a combined total of eight languages!

The Census, held every ten years, was in many respects similar to the last one in 1951. The Census is expected to give to the Department vital statistics useful in the development of the country in many ways.

Those taking the census in the various part of the county were: Esquesing: Fye Somerville, Wm. Cronar, Roy Smith, Harold Moyer, Mrs. G. Sargent, Mrs. M. Reid, Mac Sprowle; Nassagaweya: Bert Watson, Bill Price, Wm. Cohoon, Acton, Mrs.

M. Lidka, Mrs. Gordon Beatty, Miss Elizabeth Jany, and Miss Elm Jany; Georgetown — Ted Francis, George Anderson, Mrs. Carl Petterson, Mrs. D. Burns, Miss C. Biehn, Mrs. Wm. B. Hamiltch, Mrs. T. Williams, Mrs. M. Beaumont.

The information is of a highly confidential nature, only used by the Dept. of Statistics. Heavy prison terms as well as fines are levied against anyone involved in the census in any way who divulge information to anyone, either now or at a later date.

To ensure that complete coverage has been made, postal checks are being made, and for a double check, permanent officials of the Dept. will start spot checking the various areas shortly.

Anyone who has been missed or for any reason feel that their enumeration has not been carried out properly, are urged to contact Mrs. Clark, TR 7-3078.

According to the commissioner in this area, North Halton will rank high, not only for the speed with which it was completed, but also because not one case of lack of cooperation was registered, nor any serious incident occurred with any of the twenty three enumerators in North Halton.

Mrs. G. C. Hewson is convening the committee arranging tours of the Hospital on Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Names of those participating, and the hours on duty, were read.

Mrs. E. Bodnar, convener of Ways and Means committee, told the meeting of the progress in the sale of tickets for the Baby Contest.

She then outlined various projects suggested for the approval of the meeting. It was agreed to have:

They wish to take this opportunity to thank the generous donors for this attractive and useful gift.

Slow Down and Live Safety Campaign Theme

There is no reason why every motorist shouldn't get the fullest enjoyment out of his vacation motor trip," claims the Canadian Highway Safety Council. "All it takes is a little preparation and some common sense."

The Council, sponsoring in Canada the annual "Slow Down and Live" campaign through June, July and August in cooperation with the Association of State and Provincial Safety Co-ordinators, has issued a few tips for enjoyable motoring. First, it advises, the car should be safely checked before leaving. Make certain brakes, horn, steering, exhaust system, glass, lights, mirrors, wipers and tires are in top travelling condition.

Then start early so any sense of rush will be either eliminated or reduced to a minimum, and stop when tired or just to enjoy the scenery. Motorists who set tight schedules for trips procure tense nerves and muscles. A fast trip proves only one thing: that you might as well have used the time saved to get pleasure out of the trip.

Drive easily. Ignore others who insist on frantic pursuit of what they seem to think is a sense of superiority or leadership in traffic. Let them brag. They may come a day when their ego needs help.

Let the tail-gating, horn-honking driver pass. Forget the flare of temper that arises when another driver cuts into the safe space between your car and the one ahead. He'll probably still be there when you reach your destination. Obey traffic rules. Little can be gained and disaster can be produced by sneaking in a rule or two of our own.

"Generally," advises the Council, "drive relaxed and with patience. Annoyance at other drivers is senseless. If you must be annoyed, watch for some of your own driving faults and get annoyed enough to correct them." While you drive in traffic, the only thing you can teach other drivers is how to drive sensibly, and you teach them that by example."

NEVER FLY A KITE OR AN AIR-BORNE MODEL NEAR HYDRO LINES

Hydro lines carry electricity at extremely high voltages... up to two thousand times greater than the voltages used in the home. Any model plane or kite enthusiast holding a wire, wire-reinforced string or even a wet string that touches a hydro line can suffer serious injury or loss of life. The danger is increased if part of the airborne object is made of metal.

REMEMBER these safety rules:

1. Always keep to the wide-open spaces... well away from hydro lines and electrical apparatus. Warn others to do so. Do not use wire or wire-reinforced string.
- Never try to recover a model or kite that is caught on hydro lines, towers or other electrical apparatus.

PARENTS—Safety education begins at home. Be sure your children follow the above safety rules.
