Euchre, Afternoon Tea Institute 40 Years Old

A happy and memorable occasion was observed in Limehouse Memorial Hall when the Limehouse Women's Institute celebrated their 40th birthday.

Neighbouring Branches
Ninety-five ladies from neighbouring branches signed the register and Mrs. William Mitchell and Mrs. James Noble greeted them at the door. After the president spoke words of welcome, the ladies were entertained playing euchre. First prizes went to Mrs. R. L. Davidson and Mrs. W. Sinclair; seconds to Mrs. McIntyre and Mrs. Robin. Miss Somerville and Mrs. R. Lawson were seated on the lucky chairs and each won a potted plant.

Attractive
The hall was attractive with large baskets and vases of blue and yellow iris and spirea. The tea table was centred with a large bouquet of blue and yellow mums. There were blue candles in silver holders and a three-tiered birthday cake, which was cut by the president, Mrs. Jack Roughley.

Mrs. Maxine Ellerby and Mrs. A. W. Benton, both life members, poured tea.

District President
The ladies were honoured to have the district president, Mrs. Harry Wilson of Palermo. Miss Charlotte Turner, Mrs. V. Norris and Mrs. Campbell Sinclair brought greetings from other branches.

An attractive afternoon tea was served. Mrs. S. Matthews moved a vote of thanks to the Limehouse ladies for an enjoyable afternoon and Mrs. Frank Brown replied. Mrs. Ted Brown convoked the party with assistance from a hardworking committee which planned such a successful afternoon.

Drake-Baillie Wedding In All Saints, Kingsway

All Saints Anglican Church, Kingsway, was decorated with standards of white gladioli, yellow mums and white shasta daisies for the marriage of Audrey Joanne Baillie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex J. Baillie of 8 Saybrook Ave. when she became the bride of Frederick Ronald Drake, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Drake of Ashgrove.

Rev. T. A. Wilkinson officiated at the ceremony on Saturday, June 24 at 4:30 o'clock. Mr. Chalmers was the organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of pure white silk organza fashioned with long sleeves with self embroidery on the bodice and skirt. The veil of tulle illusion fell from a matching crown. Her wedding bouquet was a cascade of white carnations and lily of the valley.

Miss Donna Baillie, sister of the bride was maid of honour and bridesmaid. Both wore gowns of pale pink embroidered sheath over silk taffeta with a flowered pink hat and matching accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. Drake assisted her in a beige and green tones two piece suit of organza over matching underlay. Her hat was of beige flowers and her accessories were green. A corsage of yellow mums completed her ensemble.

For travelling on their honeymoon to the Eastern United States the bride wore a two piece suit in a banana shade with a matching flower and veil hat, soft green handbag, shoes and gloves and a gardenia corsage. Mr. and Mrs. Drake are residing in Mimic.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. P. McGuire, Miss Maryen Standbridge, Mr. W. P. Paton, all of Winnipeg, Manitoba; Mr. and Mrs. A. Johnstone, Scotch Plains, New Jersey; Mr. and Mrs. A. Newton and Jane Newton of Woodstock. Honoured guests at the wedding also were the bride's grandmother and the groom's great aunt, a former resident of Glen Williams Mrs. Gertrude McCallum.

Plans Community Centre "With or Without Help"

Disappointing Turn-Out For Organization Meeting

Frank Martel, representing the Georgetown (East) Ratepayers Association told a handful of delegates from three other organizations Monday, June 19th that if support is not given his group in their efforts to build a Community Centre they will tackle the project themselves and hope for assistance later.

"We would certainly appreciate the interest of every local organization in this. Those present have already indicated that in being here, but failing other support, the Georgetown East Ratepayers are concerned enough about the lack of recreation facilities to go ahead on their own," he said.

Forty-Two Invited
Mr. Martel, chaired the meeting attended by representatives from just three other organizations, Mrs. Howard Hube and Mrs. Jim Emmerson for the Legion I.A., Rev. Ewart Madden for the Georgetown Ministerial Association, and Charles Troit for Credit Masonic Lodge. Mr. Martel said letters of invitation were sent to forty-two local organizations, and attributed the disappointing response to poor timing and a pouring rain which started a couple of hours before meeting time.

The meeting of representatives was to have produced a Community Centre Committee, the first step necessary in obtaining a charter. Legal assistance has been offered by Maurice Manderson who said he would strive to keep the initial financial burden to a minimum.

Community Project
Mr. Martel defined the Georgetown (East) Ratepayers' part in the scheme. "We would like very much for the building of a Community Centre to be a community project, but if others do not want to help, then we will have to take the bull by the horns and start anyway. However, one organization can't do it alone. We will have to rely on others joining us once the thing is begun."

The president of the Ratepayers, Bob McNeilly, enlarged on it. "A lot of people are asking why we are connected with the Community Centre Project and what part Mr. Heslop plays with us. A few months ago Mr. Heslop said in the Herald that he would donate land to build a Community Centre to a chartered organization which would complete the job. We waited and when no one else made a move we decided we should take him up on the Honoured guests were Brenda's godparents, Mrs. Lillian Vasey and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Stone of Capas, Michigan, who were holidaying with Mr. and Mrs. Eason and Brenda Faye.

Park Pupils Travel To Niagara Falls

A chronological account of Park School's grade eight class tour of the Niagara district by one of the pupils, David Illingworth.

Our class trip started at 7.00 in the morning, June 13, 1961, for which we all met at Park Public School. Our first stop was at the double locks at the Welland Canal. Here we saw the large lake boat "The Whitefish" which was just passing through the double locks.

235 Steps
Then, we proceeded on with our journey to Queenston. Here we visited the site of the Battle of "Queenston Heights" in which Sir Isaac Brock was killed. In memory of this battle an 185 foot monument was built, on which the Brock statue was placed. We went up the monument which was 235 steps and at the top we saw miles and miles of land which is very beautiful. After this we had a lunch.

Navy Hall
When we finished lunch we started for Ft. George. Here we went through many buildings such as the Navy Hall and historical homes at Niagara-on-the-Lake. We saw many old relics such as hats, guns, and swords which were used in the "War of 1812."

Generators
About 3.00 we started for the Sir Adam Beck Generating Station No. 2. Here we saw big generators which supply power for millions of people. There were also many instruments which run the generators and other things such as the Floral Clock which is just outside the station. Each year this clock has many different and beautiful designs on it.

From here we went to Niagara Falls where we saw the Falls and went under it by the scenic tunnel. We put on raincoats, hats and boots but that didn't keep Mr. Catling, our teacher from getting wet.

After all this excitement we started for home. Yes, this trip was certainly fun, educational and exciting and I think that everyone enjoyed himself very much.

Shied Away
Mr. Heslop cast a different light on the importance of the Community Centre. "Industry will only come when there is a healthy climate," he said. "If everything moves and grows I'm going to make this town's tax rate 36 mills in five years. I'm only interested in making this town go ahead." He revealed that at least one industry considered "on the hook" had shied away at the last minute when sent a copy of the local paper "because of too much friction."

The site made available by Mr. Heslop is on Mountainview Road, behind Loblaws. Prior to the meeting Mr. Martel cited the case of Ansonville, a northern Ontario town of 3,000, which was entirely without entertainment facilities until the local organizations banded together to construct a $75,000 building with seating for 2,000. The Ansonville centre, he said, included a stage, and facilities for almost every sport. The project took three years to complete and offered entertainment for adults and children alike.

Mrs. William Davidson Resident Ten Years

A resident of town for ten years, Gladys Corin Davidson, 58, died on June 12th in St. Joseph's Hospital, Guelph.

Toronto Born
Mrs. Davidson, who lived at 67 Mountainview Rd. was born in Toronto. She lived in Hamilton before moving to town. She leaves her husband William Davidson; two children, Mrs. A. Purdon (Verna) of Hamilton and Bruce Monroe, Vancouver, B.C., a brother Reg. Corin, Toronto and three sisters, Mrs. Ada Monroe, Mrs. Dorothy Howey and Mrs. Bess Murphy, Peterborough.

Funeral Service
Rev. Bruce Woods of Maple Ave. Baptist Church conducted the funeral service on June 15th at the Harold C. McClure Funeral Home with interment in Glen Williams Cemetery. Pallbearers were Floyd Hills, Bob Davidson, Bill Harvey, Toronto, and Fred Murphy, Reg. Tapp and Jack Murphy, Peterborough.

1960 Showed a Drop In Fatal Accidents

Transport Minister H. L. Rowntree in tabling the Ontario Motor Vehicle Accident Statistics for 1960, in the Legislature today said: "It is pleasing to be able to report that the fatal accident picture showed an improvement over 1959."

Fatal Accidents
The Minister said that fatal accidents had shown a decline of 1.9 per cent. At the same time the number of deaths fell by 1.3 per cent to 1,166. This is particularly significant in view of an increase of 4.4 per cent in motor vehicle registration.

Mr. Rowntree continued: "The total number of accidents of all types reported increased from 81,518 in 1959 to 87,186 in 1960."
