

THE THREE "R'S" OF LACROSSE

SHARINO STARRING roles with Brampton lacrosse clubs this season are the three Richardson brothers of Norval. Ken, a member of the senior Ramblers, is showing his 11-year old brother, Barry, how to handle a stick, while Jimmy, a member of the league-leading Excelsors, looks on. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Richardson of Norval.

Relishing Tabu

Body Slam, In The Steam Pipes Pro Wrestlers Get Their Knocks

By Anne Currie

What does a woman see at a wrestling match? Who knows? I only know they seem to get more excited and yell louder than their male counterparts. Not that the stronger sex don't make themselves heard, but they are outdone by the women. For myself, I can only say it's fun — great fun. The spectacle reminds me of old silent movies, where underplaying was unheard of, and facial contortions were the order of the day.

When Nikita Kalmikoff strode into the ring, to be greeted by resounding boos, I admired him. He's such a magnificent, strutting villain. To add to the atmosphere, an irate ringsider kept picking up a chair to "bean" Nikita, every time he had a hold on Kansas born John Foli. I wonder what the brave spectator would have done if the wrestler turned on him.

When the midgets bounced into the ring, at first I felt a twinge of sadness for the little men, but soon their mischievous antics, and obvious sense of humour, dispelled the feeling. Bounding around like lightning they made Referee Tiger Tasker look like a harassed kindergarten teacher. To complete the picture, instead of ordering Farmer Foli back to his corner, the referee merely waved him back to his stool.

After the bout when I was talking to them, I found myself patting them maternally on the head, and you know they are probably as old as I. Well, maybe not. They are like well-bred children, most polite and gentlemanly. It was kind of amusing to watch Farmer Foli mass a phone call standing on a chair or Billy the Kid, feet dangling off the floor.

Chairs heralded Whipper's entrance into the arena, and those greeted Stasiak whose only offence was to be Whipper's opponent.

After one of the many times Stasiak was thrown out of the ring, Whipper turned to the referee and spoke quietly. Was he "beefing" about something? Growling at him? No, I heard him say, "Better get these kids away from ringside, they'll get hurt."

There was deep gloom in Georgetown when the Mighty Whipper lost a fall to young Stan Stasiak. You could almost feel the mass concern for him as he lay there. However, when he came back triumphant in the end, bedlam broke loose. Whipper and Tiger Tasker who lived within a few blocks of each other, were childhood pals then later wrestled together. They reminisced about the early years of wrestling. One time they wrestled in Veteran's Hall on Dawee Road, for any of you east enders, where the mats had been placed directly on the floor. One of the mats covered a hot air vent. When Tasker body-slammed Whipper he broke through the grating and got stuck. This is one way of getting the hot seat.

Wrestling Fans to See Bulldog Brower

Bulldog Brower, the ferocious in wrestling today, leads Georgetown Wednesday August 16th. Dick the Bulldog has appeared in every main event at Maple Leaf Garden since June and has become progressively more disliked with each bout.

Brower, a native of Wilmington, Delaware, acquired the name "Bull" when working on construction jobs, simply because he was as strong as a bull. However, his ring tactics soon earned him the expanded appellation "Bulldog". Though only 5 ft 8 in tall, he weighs 270 pounds, and has a 58 inch chest.

His opponent in the headliner will be handsome Farmer Boy Townsend. This farmer has many things going for him. He is also a singer, who is well known on TV, radio and records, and in addition looks like a movie idol.

The semi-main bout should be a stand-out with Italian born Tony Marino, who appeared here in June and the promising young Stan Stasiak who wrestled Whipper Billy Watson here two weeks ago. The Quebec boy, who stands a good head taller than Tony, is a real ugh boy," to quote Whipper Watson. Featured also will be Prince Nero, the haughty Roman, and Pat Flannigan, veteran of many bouts. Promoter Sam Yanaki, owner of the Corner Cupboard, claims Pat is old enough to be his father, and claims Pat's baldness was caused by repeated handfuls torn out by yanking Yanaki, in his wrestling days.

Hopes are high for a full house Wednesday, August 16th.

ARGO STALWART NOW IN OAKVILLE

Stan Wallace, the Toronto Argonaut footballer without a home, apparently has found his much-sought haven in Halton County. Wallace, a defensive standout with the Argos last year and one of the main reasons for Argonaut success earlier this summer jumped the team because a suitable home could not be found for him and his family. Lew Mayman could not find an abode for his defensive genius but somehow Wallace set his compass for Oakville and another Argonaut will dock his family there. Argonaut trainer Don Cochran has been a resident of Oakville for three years.

MARINO, STASIAK PAIRED

WHEN THE THIRD local wrestling show takes place next week in the arena, fans will have an opportunity to see whether handsome Tony Marino or equally handsome Stan Stasiak is the better wrestler. Both have appeared here before, Marino (in picture) down one of the bearded Kalmikoffs and Stasiak to fall in his title bid with Whipper Billy Watson. Their match is one of three on the card promoted by Sam Yanaki.

Locals Understaffed Drop Game to Dundas

The only team to beat the season, Dundas Graftons, had to an understaffed local crew last Thursday night. Late arrivals forced the Georgetown team to juggle their lineup radically in the early inning when their bat boy, Russ Bradley, was called on to fill the centre field spot. A pitcher Jim McGill, held down the third base position and another hurler, Bernie Dore, had to make like a first baseman until the arrival of the regulars eased the situation.

While Georgetown employed its pseudo lineup the Graftons managed just two hits and three runs. The locals meanwhile scored their only run while ex-collected the only other Georgetown hit in the ball game, a single in the 4th. Wilson and Bailey paced the Dundas club in the hits department with 2 for 3 records at the plate. Lake, Wilson and Sebben were the only Dundas batters to hit for extra bases. Shields gave up one walk while Gibby allowed three bases on balls, and Georgetown stranded 3 men on base to Dundas' 7. Shields also had the edge in strikeouts 8 to 2.
