Teacher, Insurance Man Are Married in Milton

Milree Hazel Wilson chose a full length candle-white gown finished with white hats and of faille for her marriage to Paul Clarence Armstrong in white cascading mums. Miss Hilary Conway was the flower girl in a white tulle batiste dress and white accessories, setting off her nosegay of pastel pink carnations. Mr. Wilson gave his daughter in marriage. The groom's twin brother, Michael Armstrong was groomsmen. Another brother, Martin Armstrong was an usher, along with Wayne Tompkins of Ennisdale.

Magenta Red
Mrs. Wilson received the guests in her Milton home wearing a green patterned Italian silk dress, a shaded feather hat and matching accessories. Her corsage was of yellow roses. Mrs. Armstrong wore a magenta red dress of peau de soie for the reception, matching hat and shoes and a cream-coloured rose corsage.

The bride's travelling ensemble was of a bronze-toned silk completed by a beige headed chenille cloche and boost brown accessories. She wore a corsage of pale yellow roses. After a trip to Montreal and Quebec City, Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong will reside at 39 Main St. Georgetown. The groom is an insurance agent and the bride is Mrs. Douglas Marshall. Their public school teacher in their dresses of silk organza over taffeta were in a melon shade.

JAW BONE OF AN ASS? WHO KNOWS

The town's amateur archeologists have eliminated the Bron-tosaurs and that crowd, but just what construction workers found four feet under Main Street is causing some head scratching.

The less fanciful are guessing the mammal skull unearthed deep in the centre of Main St. once belonged to a cow but the element of uncertainty excites the imagination.

Maybe it's the jawbone of an ass used by some North American strong man to defeat and army of enemies, or the rem-ains of a horse being ridden across country by a messenger warning the Yankees are coming. At least the plot sounds familiar.

Delrex Submits Proposal For More Land Release

On August 22nd, Rex Heslop, president of Delrex Developments Ltd., presented a proposal to Georgetown council, sitting in committee-of-the-whole, for consideration.

The meeting had been agreed to recently by council after the Delrex firm requested a discussion in an attempt to have more land released for residential building in an area precluded by an agreement made by the firm in 1954 to maintain a 60-40 ratio which presently is out of balance.

Context of the proposal is as follows:

The Mayor and Members of Council
Town of Georgetown, Ontario
Gentlemen:

As indicated in our letter of August 19th, we feel confident that a round table discussion in good faith can be successful in solving our mutual problems. With this end in view, we submit the following proposal without prejudice, for your consideration.

That all lots now on registered plans 680, 662, and 720 be released forthwith on the following terms:

- I. R-1 lots - No special requirements.
- 2. With respect to 801 lots zoned as R2, R3 and R4, it is proposed that at the time building permits are applied for, the developer pay to the Town the sum of $400 per lot to be allocated as follows:
 - (a) $200 per lot to be allocated for school capital costs.
 - (b) $200 per lot to be held in trust subject to adjustment on the following basis:
 - (i) As at the end of September each year, an average will be struck of the land and building assessment of all new residential construction in the area in question, completed during the preceding 12 month period.
 - (ii) Provided this average is between $4,250 and $4,500 the accumulated deposits would be forfeited to the Town forth with.
 - (iii) If the average is $4,500 or greater, the full amount of the accumulated $200 deposits will be refunded to the developer for investment in industrial and/or commercial construction.
 - (iv) As a continued inducement to the developer to pursue industrial development, all new industrial and commercial assessment created during the 12 months period be added to the total new housing assessment for the purpose of establishing averages.
- 3. Delrex Developments Ltd. would install all services in accordance with the requirements of the subdivision services bylaw (No. 30-32) except that roads would be asphalt surfaced instead of tar and chip.
- 4. Delrex Developments Ltd. would install all services as required for residential lots on Mountainview Road where it abuts residential lands at an estimated cost of $210,000.
- 5. Delrex Developments Ltd. would donate school site of 5.74 acres valued at $40,000.
- 6. Delrex Developments Ltd. would donate approximately 200 acres of valley lands required for conservation and recreation purposes valued on our books at $229,250. It would be understood that these land grants would also be regarded as satisfying the land grant requirements for our undeveloped lands lying south of Silver Creek and that these lands will be released on January 1st, 1964, on the same terms as detailed in clause 2 to 4 inclusive.
- 7. Delrex Developments Ltd. will forego its claim of $12,649,167 for services already installed

Frank J. Barber Was Musician, Glad Grower

Member of one of Georgetown's oldest families, Frank J. Barber, 91, was buried here on August 15th following funeral service at the Harold C. McClure Funeral Home, conducted by Rev. Kenneth Richardson.

Mr. Barber died on August 13th in Charlotte, North Carolina, where he had been a resident for twenty years.

Elders Member
Born in Georgetown he was the eldest member of the family of the late Mr. and Mrs. John H. Barber.
He was a fine singer and had his ATCM degree in vocal. He was choirleader at the old Congregational Church and later at First Baptist Church and when he moved to Florida, he conducted a choral group at Tarpon Springs.
Gladio growing was one of his hobbies and he had been president of the American Gladio Society.

Berwick Hall
Mr. Barber farmed in his early years on the present Alex MacLaren property, later lived in the old Barber home on Main St. South which is now the Berwick Hall apartments. With his first wife, Jean Alice Search he moved to Toronto and later to Florida. After her death he remarried while living in Charlotte, and was predeceased also by his second wife.
He leaves three children, Mrs. H. E. Coffin (Kathleen) and Roaf of Charlotte and Gordon of Hamilton; two grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. He also leaves two sisters, Mrs. Daisy Brown in London, England and Mrs. Hazel Bell in New Jersey and a brother, John R. Barber of town. Two brothers predeceased him, Ray and Bert.

County Shield in Memory of Brother

A metal replica of the Halton County Shield was presented to the County by Deputy-Reeve Merry of Oakville. It will be mounted in the new County Building.

Deputy-Reeve Merry gave a short history of the coat of arms, which consists of the Lion and Unicorn, thistles, roses and leeks. The words "Honi soit qui mal y pense" are written around it. Freely translated it becomes "Evil to he, who evil thinketh." Legend has it that a lady at a royal dance dropped her garter, which Henry VIII gallantly picked up, saying the above words. Supposedly this led to the founding of the Order of the Garter with these words as the motto.

When James VI of Scotland became James I of England the Tudor roses and the Welsh leek were added to the Scotch thistle.
Mr. Merry donated the plaque in memory of his brother Harland, who was a well known Halton resident. No inscription will be on it, since Mr. Merry felt his brother would prefer no show.
