

School Survey Proves Accurate, 1982 Total

The Georgetown Public School Board's pre-school survey conducted last year by trustee Roy Hansen's committee looked impressive when tabled, however the accuracy of the enrollment guide must have been underestimated by even the most optimistic.

Just Twelve Out

In its acid test last week when pupils replaced projected numbers, the survey came through with flying colours. The 1982 actual total reported at Wednesday's board meeting was just twelve over the calculated 1,970 entered on the survey sheet.

By schools the comparison went like this:

	Projected	Actual
Park	292	296
Wrigglesworth	396	392
Harrison	627	638
Kennedy	352	328
Chapel Street	327	304

The biggest surprises if they can be called that, were at George Kennedy, 24 unexpected pupils turned up, and at Chapel St. where the registration fell 23 short of expected.

Children are still in danger while walking along Princess Anne Dr. to and from Park Public School, according to principal Harold Catling who pointed out that a foot path promised by council after the board asked for a sidewalk had not yet been created.

The board while grieved at the situation, also felt a danger existed at the corner of Princess Anne and the Charles St. extension where a number of the pupils had to cross the road. A temporary crossing guard was to be sought to ease the problem.

The principal said he would like to see both a safety patrol and a footpath from Park School to the corner.

An unusually large enrolment at George Kennedy Public School in the Kindergarten primary classes prompted principal Hazel Allen to request some assistance for the teacher, Mrs. Fairers. The board agreed to experiment by employing an assistant there until Christmas on a trial basis.

A request by Harrison principal Harry Knapper to leave school half an hour early on Mondays from now until February was granted by the board. Mr. Knapper required the time to travel to a course in Supervision being taught at the O.C.E. in Toronto in which he has enrolled.

In reporting to the board at the meeting the public school principals announced that their association had collaborated to make school hours uniform throughout the town this term. The inconsistency of the hours had brought queries from some parents last year. This year's Principals Association is headed by Hazel Allen and has Harry Knapper as its secretary.

Other board business included the announcement that an accumulative sick leave plan covering all members of the school staffs had been adopted, and the passing of accounts totalling $9,196.00. Reminders of the fire which gutted a couple of rooms at Wrigglesworth have almost been erased it was reported by Wrigglesworth principal William Kinrade, who said that only a very few spots have yet to be touched by the renovations.

STEWARTTOWN

District Residents Appear on TV Screen

Stewarttown area was well represented on our TV sets during the past week. Many residents of the village could see Mrs. Tom Beer on Channel 3 on Tuesday, Mrs. Denney (Charles and Mrs. Harry Clarke) on Channel 11 Friday morning and Mrs. Dorothy Stone on Channel 9 the same day.

They were being interviewed about the activities of the Georgetown Arts and Crafts and their display on Saturday. Mr. Clarke made a tape recording of the Friday shows so that on their return the ladies could hear themselves as others heard them.

LOCAL FALL FAIR NEXT BIG EVENT

Following hard on the heels of the Main St. opening is the great annual event, Hafton's finest fair, in Georgetown, Friday and Sat., Sept. 22 - 23.

Ingersoll Possibility As Hockey Opposition

The Central Ontario Hockey League will have almost the same appearance as last season, but with the absence of Oakville Oaks it was disclosed the week following an OHA Intermediate organizational meeting at the Riverside Inn in Oakville.

Fifteen Intermediate A hockey teams will be in action in the province this winter including the Oakville crew which will contest the Niagara Peninsula loop. The hole left by the Oaks' departure from the COHL may be filled by Ingersoll but they are feetering on going Senior and will probably get the boost from the OHA.

No Play-Off For Horseshoe League

At a Georgetown Horseshoe executive meeting held on Sept. 6th, it was decided that on the completion of the schedule, the top team will receive the team trophy for one year without any play-off. Individual members of the winning team will each receive a prize.

On Sunday, September 17, the play-offs for the singles and doubles will be held starting at 1:00 p.m. and continued that day until winners are declared. All entries must be in by 12:45 p.m. that day. Paid up players only may enter. The players have been decided for the "A" and "B" groupings and prizes will be awarded in each of the groups. The double entries will be played first, then the singles. Entry fee for each player will be 25c for each.

Tentative plans have been made for a final get-together on Friday, October 13 and when plans are finalized, each captain will be notified.

Decide Tonight Girls' Softball

Palermo took a commanding lead in the Halton Rural Girls' Softball League, as they downed Hornby 2 to 0 in Hornby last Thursday night.

The pitcher, Helen Baker of Palermo, held the girls almost hitless throughout the entire game, which gave Palermo a 2 to 1 lead with the next game scheduled for Palermo.

The infield gave her great support as they only allowed one ball to pass them by. On Monday night, Hornby came from behind in the top of the seventh to score 2 runs to go ahead 4 to 3 and tie up the series with 2 games apiece. It was a real thriller all the way as Hornby opened up with two homers in the 2nd and 3rd innings, by Betty Brooks and Hazel Reid, only to have Palermo bounce back in the bottom of the 3rd with a homer by W. McFeeters, with one on base.

Not until the 6th inning did Palermo come through with a run by Marlene Sheppard, who hit a single, stole second and third and went in on a throw to first by the catcher at the batter's last strike. Still full of spirit, Hornby came to bat in the top of the seventh and rapped out two hits with runners on second and third. Ruth Break knocked a homer, only to be called out at third for not touching.

The Hornby catcher, Linda Wilson, was out of the lineup Monday with a stiff neck and a slight touch of the flu, but promises to be at the game Thursday. Ruth Break replaced her and did an outstanding job.

After the game, the Hornby team returned to Hornby Park for a chicken barbecue in honour of Bill Thompson and Earl McDowell, the coach and manager. Bill is leaving on Wednesday for University and will not be with the girls Thursday.

The girls showed their appreciation for the work the two have done all year, by presenting Bill with a travelling case and Earl with a combination clock and pen set. Everyone had a wonderful time.

So come on out Thursday night Sept. 14th, at 8:15 and see a real thriller of a game when the two teams slug it out for the final and Championship game.

THE LIGHTER SIDE
A woman was greatly annoyed because her husband obviously enjoyed being crowded next to a pretty blonde in the elevator. Suddenly the blonde turned around, slapped him and said: "That will teach you to pinch girls."
As the couple got off the elevator the man said to his wife: "But I didn't pinch her."
"I know," said his wife. "I did."

MAIN ST. IMPROVEMENTS DISCUSSED BY MAYOR

Talks to Ratepayers On New Radio Show

In what is planned to be a series of every-other-week radio talks on Saturday mornings on the Brampton radio station, Mayor Ern Hyde spoke on some of the town's civic matters on September 9th.

His talk dealt with the reconstruction of the downtown business section and is reported below in its entirety for readers who might not have been able to hear the broadcast.

Good Saturday Morning, Georgetown.

This is the first of a series of talks, which I hope will prove interesting and informative. I will try to show you where your tax dollars have been spent. I will discuss our by-laws and legislation. However, I want to make it quite clear that when I pass an opinion - it will be my opinion, and not necessarily the opinion of Council. I want to make this point quite clear, so that any issue that may arise that is controversial, or may be misconstrued, should only be used against me, and not against my friends and colleagues on Council.

I suppose that one of the most interesting and controversial subjects in Georgetown today is the reconstruction of our Main Street business section. At least as far back as 10 years, I can remember Councils and business men and citizens discussing what could be done with Main Street.

FIRST and foremost probably were the sidewalks, badly in need of repair, broken and uneven, and sometime through the year claiming at least two or three twisted ankles, usually amongst some of our senior citizens.

SECONDLY was the very inadequate partial storm sewer that two or three times a year could not possibly handle the severe storms, and as a result, caused claims on the Town, losses to our merchants, and costly maintenance.

THIRDLY, and probably one of the most important points, was the general appearance, which most certainly could not inspire either the merchants or the customers. Although I would inject at this point, that many of our business people did try, and some spent good money, to improve their storefront, only to have the improvement lost in the general appearance of the street.

All these things I have mentioned existed 10 years ago, and all these things were of great concern, and were the subject of a great deal of discussion through the years.

In 1960, the Municipal Council was again faced with this same old question - "What are you going to do about Main Street?"

The Council carefully considered the financing of such a project - Taking into consideration the debenture debt of the Town. Taking into consideration the fact that the Ontario Municipal Board had already warned a previous Council that we had reached a danger point in the per capita debt, and that they, the Municipal Board, would not look favourably on further borrowing, and would not allow the "Spend now - pay later" method, that had predominated in Georgetown, to continue. Taking into consideration that if we borrowed a dollar we would pay back two - and realizing that it was unfair to the tax payer in general to do this out of current revenue in one year.

In 1960, came the first positive step towards this problem, and I believe a new and realistic method of financing came into being in Georgetown. A sinking fund was set up for this program, and 20,000 dollars was set aside, and earmarked by the 1960 Council.

This, then, was the beginning of the means. Now came the actual plans - The problems of reconstruction - The worst out services that must be replaced - The hardship we would create to our business people while the actual work was in progress - The changing grades that would present problems to some of the existing buildings - The by-laws and legislation necessary to make the new look work to the best advantage of all concerned.

I for one, have had enough construction experience to realize, once this work commenced, that we - the present Council - would not be eligible for a popularity contest. That we would be fair game for many a sidewalk engineer, and that to do the work properly we could not help but hurt some of the property owners and shop keepers.

Right here, I would like to interject my own personal opinion, that our engineer has helped to plan and conduct this program with the greatest degree of ability and personal effort and forethought - and he should be commended for carrying the load that has been his this summer. I realize that he has come in for as much criticism as any member of Council, but the finished job will speak for itself and will prove a job well done.

With some of the foregoing statements, please don't get the idea that either our downtown merchants, or the public, have been unduly critical or unfair. Indeed I would suggest the direct opposite - that generally they have been most tolerant and uncomplaining, - that they realize this long overdue program must be done with dispatch and co-operation.

It is already evident that the merchants and property owners are more than willing to carry on with the program, and renovate and modernize their properties, and complete the new look of a business-like progressive heart to a sound and progressive municipality.

And now I would like to bring you up-to-date on the situation as it exists at the present time. The Contractor has scheduled for the actual paving to take place on Tuesday and Wednesday of this coming week. We did run into some difficulty due to the heavy rains and wet weather, and this has necessitated some extra work in the preparation of the sub-grade, but I do feel that the Contractor has put forth a tremendous effort. I feel that he should be commended, and as far as I am concerned, he has the confidence of this Council, and indeed the general public of Georgetown.

I suppose you have noticed that I have avoided the one very controversial subject of this whole reconstruction program. I will mention briefly now the situation as it is today, but I would like to spend a great deal more time on this particular subject at a later date.

At the present time, there is buried in the centre of the street, a plastic conduit, that will be used if, and when, the centre street lights are installed - but at the moment this is going to be done on a trial basis, where dummy islands, the same size and shape of the proposed islands, will be placed in the centre of the street, and in this manner we will be able to assess their value in respect to Traffic Control. During this forthcoming trial period, may I suggest to you that you give serious consideration to every aspect - that you take into consideration not only the controlling and flow of traffic, but the value that this median strip may be to pedestrians, and may I again suggest that this trial period should have long and serious consideration before it is either commended, or condemned.

I would like to assure you at this time, that the Main Street reconstruction program is well within its budget and that it would appear, at this time, that there will be a substantial saving from the original estimate.

With all of the foregoing we must realize that much of this planning and work will not show to its best advantage until the parking problem and parking areas have been resolved. However, this is another subject that I would like to discuss at a later date, but I can assure you that both Council and business men are working to this end, and I feel confident that much will be accomplished in the very near future.

On Friday and Saturday, September 15 and 16, I would like to invite you all to attend the official re-opening of our business section, and to meet the distinguished guests who will assist in this ceremony. Our Service Clubs and business people have combined their efforts to plan two days of festivities that will include fun for young and old alike, and I only hope I will see you all downtown, enjoying the celebrations.

Until two weeks time - Thank you very much.
