Conover Becomes Lornes C.O., Sunday Ceremony

U.-Col. E. F. Conover, CD, of Brampton, assumes command of the Lorne Scots (Peel, Dufferin and Halton) militia next Sunday, October 1st. He succeeds Lt. Col. Arthur Kemp, CD, of Burlington, who has held the post since December, 1957.

The historic and colorful change-of-command ceremony will take place at 2 p.m. in Brampton's Rosalea Park, and will be preceded by an inspection of the unit by the General Officer Commanding, Central Command Major-General H. A. Sparling, CBE, DSO, CD.

A colorful feature of the change of command ritual will be the presentation of the CO's claymore to Col. Conover by U.-Col. D. C. Haldenby of the 48th Highlanders. This claymore (sword) was originally presented as a goodwill gesture by the 48th at the previous change of command. At that time, in a reciprocal move, the local regiment presented a Lorne Scots dirk to be carried by the C O of the 48th.

THE NEW COMMANDING OFFICER

From bugler to CO is the army career of Col. Conover in capsule form. He and Sgt. Fred Hemphrey are the only two members of the unit with continuous affiliation since its inception in 1936.

Born in Brampton in 1923, he is the son of Col. and Mrs. H. V. Conover of Meadowvale. He is the second generation of Conovers to command the same regiment. His father was first CO of the Peel and Dufferin Regiment, 1922-25; CO of the 25th Infantry Brigade, 1928-1931; CO of the Lorne Scots, 1939-1941.

"Ted" as the new colonel is popularly known off parade, enlisted as a bugler in 1935 with the Peel and Dufferin Regiment (now perpetuated by the Lorne Scots). In 1940, while attending Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph, he joined the Officers Training Corp. and received his commission with the Lorne Scots following graduation from OTC at Brockville. He served overseas in the United Kingdom and in Italy. He was wounded near Anzio, in Italy, in 1944 and was invalided home.

Col. Kemp joined the Lorne Scots as a private in July, 1940. He was promoted sergeant in August, 1941, and is president of the Central Ontario Branch of the Canadian Infantry Association.

Returning to Canada in November, 1945, he was struck off strength of the active force in January, 1946. He rejoined the Lorne Scots Reserve in January, 1947, as a captain and was appointed Commander of B. Company.

He was promoted Major in May, 1950, and second-in-command in December 1954. He assumed command in December, 1957.

THE RETIRING C. O.

The retiring CO, Lieut.-Col. Arthur Kemp, 46, succeeded Lieut.-Col. S. R. Charters of Brampton, in December, 1947. During his years of command, he witnessed and supervised many of the drastic changes in Militia training in which the Lorne Scots participated. Most important of these was the introduction of Civil Defence (now Emergency Measures) training. During his tenure of office, the regiment was honored by having its pipes and drums participate in the Massed Military Bands tattoo at the Edinburgh Festival in 1960, and at the Vancouver International festival during the past summer. At Col. Kemp's invitation, the Duke of Argyll was an honoured guest at a regimental officers' dinner. Hereditary chief-lan of the Clan Campbell, His Grace represents a Scottish family whose enigma is worn by the Lorne Scots.

A resident of Burlington since childhood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. A. Kemp, Col. Kemp was educated in Burlington public and high schools. His late wife was the former Isabel Beatrice Smith daughter of Mrs. Beatrice Smith and the late W. Lawrie Smith. There are three children, Jan, 11, Kathleen 9, and Cameron 5.

HE'LL FIND OUT
"George," said a young boy to her husband, "I don't think our neighbor, Mr. Grundy, likes that drum you gave him for his birthday."
"Why not?" asked the young father.
"Mr. Grundy just gave Junior a hunting knife, and asked him if he knew what was inside the drum."

THE FIRST OF 4,000 boxcars on the Canadian Pacific Railway to carry a bright red shield to the left of the door advising that the cars are exclusively for newsprint service have been placed in service by the railway. The cars, 22 in number, are shown as they arrived at Montreal from the National Steel Car plant at Hamilton, Ont. They were the first of 1,150 new boxcars Canadian Pacific is acquiring this year for the "Red Shield fleet." Shown as he inspected the new arrivals is F. K. Hollyman of Montreal, general freight traffic manager for Canadian Pacific. Another 2,850 cars will be upgraded to protect shipments of newsprint being handled by Canadian Pacific. The 4,000-car fleet is part of the railway's effort to provide the utmost in transportation service to the $1.5-billion a year Canadian pulp and paper industry whose exports exceed $1.1-billion a year. Speedy return of the cars to Canadian Pacific lines is the key to success in achieving maximum results from the fleet, and Canadian Pacific has written 68 connecting carriers in Canada and the U.S. participating in the movement of this important traffic asking them to expedite return of the cars.
