GEORGETOWN MEMORIAL HOSPITAL NEWS

There has been no official list of Hospital donations in the Herald for the past two months, mainly due to the apparent summer 'lag' in all activities.

With this in mind, the Herald brings the list up to date this week with a list of donations received since June 1st, 1961.

Readers may notice that a number of these are being repeated, because while they were published in the weeks immediately following the hospital opening, it is felt that with the large content of news about the opening, readers may have missed the original article.

If at any time an omission or an error is noticed, regarding this most important phase of hospital information, we would be most grateful if readers would phone the writer, Les Clark, 41 Main St., or Mrs. Wm. B. Hamilton, 8 Reid Court, for immediate attention.

Once again may we suggest that if anyone wishes to keep bright the memory of a loved one, one of the finest ways to do it is a pledge or contribution to our hospital. Truly a means of remembering that will endure forever.

Contributions may be made either to the Treasurer, Mrs. Wm. B. Hamilton, 8 Reid Court, or to any bank branch in town. And if anyone wishes to give a gift of farm produce, etc., we stress that this is most acceptable, and would count equally with a cash contribution.

Kitty-Lou Salon New Town Business

Combining names for a business title is popular nowadays and Georgetown's latest such business is the Kitty-Lou Beauty Salon at 221 Delrex Blvd.

Lou Imbro and his wife Kitty have recently purchased a home on Delrex and incorporated a beauty parlour in it. They have had several years of experience in the business and came here from Scarborough because they wanted to locate in a smaller town which gives the personal touch which a larger centre lacks.

IDAHO HOLDS OUT

Each state in the U.S.A. decides on its own special holidays (which coincide in most cases) but the Book of Knowledge points out that Idaho is the single exception to the general practice of honouring Washington's birthday.
