

CANOING AND WOONG WENT HAND IN HAND

WILBER PARK LAKE occupied the 'flats' on both side of Guelph St. early in the 1900's. Canoes like these were common traffic on the pond, and after dark the strains of 'Moonlight Bay' drifted over the water as the boaters serenaded their ladies and those on shore.

NORVAL West End Bridge To Be Constructed Here Next Year

The sides of the hill east of the village that were so drastically cut down have been covered. The sides of the high way between Norval and No. 10 have been seeded with grass and covered with straw for the winter months and in the spring it will be good to see the green grass replacing the dust caused by the heavy machines working on the highway this summer and fall.

The bridge on the east side of the village was the scene of the first accident since the hill was cut down and the highway widened on Saturday night, October 7 when a car driven by Mr. Barrie Jeffrey of Georgetown crashed into it.

On approaching the bridge from Brampton the car was too far over on the curb and in attempting to straighten up it swerved across the road and crashed into the bridge causing considerable damage to the highway.

Barrie is in a Toronto hospital in serious condition with several broken ribs, a punctured lung and other injuries.

Norval residents feel that this bridge is now a danger to motorists as the improvements just being completed on the highway make it possible for cars to approach the bridge from both sides at a higher speed than before. This part of the road was not straightened to make the curve onto the bridge or they could quite easily lose control of their car.

To straighten this part of the highway it would necessitate a new bridge and as a new bridge will be built next year to improve the sharp curve at the west end of the village perhaps the Dept. of Highways tried to save expense by leaving the other bridge as it is.

We hope it will not be the scene of repeat accidents.

Former Avon customers of Mrs. J. de Silva will be looking forward to her friendly visit again as she resumes the Avon agency for this district.

Congratulations to John Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Wilson on winning the junior champion-hin for boys at the International Ploughing Match at Belleville.

Three Weeks at Camp

of excitement among the braves. It was a beautiful sight — the great white goddess arriving in her canoe, with the main and group campfires blazing and the moon a tiny slit of yellow high up in the cloudy heavens.

Too soon it was over, and the time came for the braves to turn in before it turned cold. We had to be careful that no camper became chilled, for the retarded children are very susceptible to colds and respiratory infection, especially the mongoloid children.

The time came for the little braves to drop their offertory sticks into the main camp fire and make their way over the hill to bed the strains of the spiritual 'Kumbiah' drifting out into the quiet summer night.

Look of Delight

There are many things that I will never forget about Belwood — the common friendliness and enthusiasm of the other counsellors, the look of delight on the children's faces at some new accomplishment, their pride when praised, the simple little church service on Sunday, the picnic trip to the Elora Gorge, the little mongoloid who insisted on being a clown for circus day, rather than a lion or tiger like the others, the boy who won twenty stars for swimming accomplishments, the child who had never participated in game periods before doing his first 'sit ups', or the look of surprise on the one who caught a butterfly on a hike one day.

Yes, the one thing that stands out in my mind above all my other memories of camp, is the face of the young Negro boy, Lorne, standing in front of the group, the light shining on his beaming countenance, as he sang:

"Yes, Jesus loves me, Yes, Jesus loves me, for the Bible tells me so!"

I am sure that on this last night of camp, the Friend of all children around the world must have looked down, seen these children, and smiled lovingly.
