Garbage Contract Awarded to Lane

Robert Lane was awarded the town garbage contract for another year under a by-law passed Tuesday by council.

Cr. Bob Burke was a dissenting vote to renewing the contract without advertising for tenders. He thought it should be tendered on a 3-year basis and said he had found that, contrary to previous opinion, a 3-year contract is legal.

Cr. Cass said that while he sided with Cr. Burke's opinion, the fact that the present contract expires on Oct. 15th might leave the town without garbage facilities. He would vote in favour this time, he said, but in future thinks the job should have tender calls.

Mayor Hyde said he might have misled council unintentionally by quoting a daily newspaper report which stated councils could only sign one year contracts. However, the public works committee had not recommended tendering.

the world are going to survive and live in peace. It could have been his distress at the age-old problem of 'Man's inhumanity to man' that prompted St. Paul to write 'Charity suffereth long, and is kind.' Marilyn summed it all up very well with a little poem, taken from a Sunday School paper:

John Pallett Explains Duties of Party 'Whips'

OTTAWA (Special to the Herald) In military terms, a whip is a political party is a combination of military and intelligence officer. At least that is the way Mr. Pallett finds this the present government whip of his job comparatively in the House of Commons. John Pallett, describes his unusual duties for the House whenever the division bells ring.

Mr. Pallett, who represents the Ontario riding of Peel, is one of three whips in the House. Liberal party whip is J. A. Halbal of Cochrane and Arnold Peeters, MP for Temiskaming, performs the same duties for the nine-man CCF group in the House.

"In effect, I have some 205 problems to contend with every day the house is sitting," Mr. Pallett says, referring to the overwhelming majority of Conservative MPs. "And yet they rarely present serious problems for MPs are, on the whole, responsible people and leaders in their own communities. It doesn't take much pressure or prodding from a whip to make sure they are on the job and ready to cast their vote when required."

John Pallett Explains Duties of Party 'Whips'

Mr. Pallett was appointed government whip in January, 1959, succeeding L. E. Cardiff, MP for Huron, who served in the post in 1957 and 1958 and then was hospitalized following an accident. The appointment is the prerogative of the prime minister but it is the only position which is confirmed by party caucus. A whip remains in the post until he retires or is removed by his own party.

A whip is an unsung and unpaid party workhorse but in Mr. Pallett's case he combines the job with that of parliamentary secretary to the prime minister. Parliamentary secretaries are paid $4,000 a year over and above their normal $10,000 stipend as an MP.

The whip's duties are interesting but also time-consuming. Mr. Pallett finds his own participation in House debates is naturally limited, although by necessity he must spend more time in the Commons' chamber than any other MP. "I find that I am now able to work at my desk in the House on other business while my mind subconsciously follows the debate. It seems to automatically tune in when anything unusual is said and I can then be alert to any special developments," the youthful Peel MP explains.

'Discrimination' Topic at Esquering W.I. Meeting

Thursday evening Esquering into which they were born. In W.I. members, held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. J. C. Murray. The meeting opened in the usual manner with the president presiding. Mrs. H. P. Lawson read the Bible reading from Matt. 25: 14-30. A proverb was the answer to the roll call, answered by nine members and new visitors.

Donations were made to the upkeep of Adelaide Hoodless Home and also to the Poppy Fund. It was decided to have the annual Halloween Party in the Community Hall on Tuesday evening October 31st, and Mrs. Fred Armstrong and Mrs. Wm. Humphrey were named as a committee to be in charge.

A committee was also named to arrange for the fair display next fall. Some members felt that most of our display ideas, brought out and forgotten by the time next, and an early start might save the last minute rush. Mrs. R. Harris, Mrs. Robert Lawson and Mrs. Wm. Humphrey, Mrs. W. R. Lawson, Citizenship convener, was in charge of the program and read a paper she had prepared entitled 'Let's Take a Look at Discrimination'.

We will touch briefly on what Mrs. Lawson explained very well. The categories which usually form the basis for discrimination include race, colour, ethnic origin, religion, social class and sex. She used for example where white people are prejudiced against negroes. In Germany under Hitler, prejudice against Jews resulted in violent and drastic discriminatory action. The east system, as developed in India, placed many restrictions on people according to the caste.
