Community Party for Stewarttown Halloween

"Trick or Treat" was the call of the neighbourhood children Tuesday evening, Oct. 31 when the witches, goblins, ghosts, clowns, cats of all colours and descriptions, pirates, tramps, beautiful young ladies, graceful old ladies, young gentlemen, and scamps of all ages, rang doorbells up and down the streets.

Some of the very young were escorted by parents anxious to have the young fry take part in the activities of the evening, but felt they needed protection from the heavy traffic, which travels the roads of today.

By 7:30 p.m., they all wended their way to the township hall, where the Esqueving Women's Institute, under the convener-ship of Mrs. Fred Armstrong and Mrs. Wm Humphreys had decorated the hall in an attractive fashion, and planned an evening's fun for young and old alike.

Mrs. Armstrong, on behalf of the WI welcomed all present, and with Mrs. Reg Williams at the piano, these strange looking creatures, joined in the Grand March.

The Institute members are grateful to Dr. and Mrs. McCauley, who acted as judges for their task was anything but easy. Costume prizes were presented as follows:

Best Halloween Costume — 1. Mary Clare, age 8; 2. Ivan Hoffman, age 8; 3. Phyllis Briggs, age 8.

Best Original Costume — 1. Audrey McLean, a scarecrow; 2. Margo Williams, a clock; 3. Bob Harris, an artist.

Best Couple — 1. Margaret Lawson and Betty Grant, a negro couple; 2. Brenda Lantelle and Pat Woloshyn, as Mystery couple; 3. Laurie and Mary Jean Maxwell as two little old ladies.

Jack O'Lantern prizes: Margo Williams, Wendy Stewart, Diane Armstrong and Donna Stewart.

These were all artistic and it was difficult for the judges to choose.

Some are born savers

The squirrel does things by instinct. But humans are different. They have to be taught, just about everything. If you're a farmer, that means teaching your child many things, such as, crop rotation, livestock judging, successful marketing—but, first and foremost, it should mean teaching your child, early in life, to save.

Encourage him to open his own Savings Account at the "Royal", and to practice putting aside something on a regular basis. Show him that having something laid away can often make the difference between success and failure. Then (like the squirrel) he'll be prepared for the future.

Ask for a copy of our booklet "Financial Training for Your Son and Daughter". It provides a practical pattern of financial training for any parent with growing children, shows you how to encourage them to stand on their own feet in financial matters. It is free at your nearest Royal Bank branch.
