

ACTON-GEORGETOWN UNITE NEXT MONTH

GEORGETOWN BELL Telephone customers will be able to call Acton free of long distance shortly. Lloyd Henby, district Bell Telephone manager, told the Herald that the Georgetown - Acton hook up will be made in mid-December when Acton goes to dial phones. Georgetown added Huttonville in its free calling area in September. Mr. Denby said the widening of Georgetown's local calling area is part of a company wide plan to meet the demand for extended area service in neighbouring exchanges having a strong community of interest between them.

Park School Pupils Blend Voices in Song

The lovely sound of children's voices singing a variety of songs in which their voices blended beautifully, filled the auditorium of Halton Manor on Monday evening, November 13th, when sixty four boys and girls who are pupils at Park Public School in Georgetown came to the Manor to entertain the residents. The boys and girls were under the supervision of their principal, Mr. Harold Catling, and one of their teachers, Mr. Emerson. The excellent program of musical numbers that they presented was conducted by the music director of the Georgetown public schools, Mr. Ken Harrison, ARCT.

Catling Chairman | During the evening the visitors presented each resident with a chocolate bar. When Mr. Catling acted as chairman and after extending greetings from his pupils to the residents, he announced the various numbers of a very enjoyable program. Folk songs were represented by the Mexican folk song "In the Plaza," the Italian folk song "Marianina," and the ever popular American folk song "Skip to my Lou" and "Home on the Range." A song from the Gay Nineties, "Bicycle Built for Two," and a song "Good Night My Someone" from the Broadway musical "The Music Man" were also presented. The lovely spiritual "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot" was sung especially well.

Two very appealing duets were sung by Jim Scarlett and David Farnell. They were "I'm Singing for Jesus" and "In Paths of Peace." Hugh Brewster played an enjoyable clarinet solo.

Variety
A very talented lady, Mrs. William Cromar, who is a teacher at Park School, lent variety to the program by giving three readings. Two of these readings, Levinsky and the Wedding and Little Mary's Opinions on Husband were very humorous and caused many a chuckle among her listeners. Her third reading, a serious poem by Edgar Guest, was also well chosen.

At the close of this very acceptable program, cookies and cold drinks were served to the visitors and the residents, and the latter had the pleasure of chatting with these boys and girls whose friendliness and courteous deportment made a great impression upon them. Needless to say, a return visit by these very welcome visitors would be greatly appreciated.

Four Corners
Another gay and exhilarating evening was added to the list of such evenings provided for the residents over the past few years by the Four Square Corners dance club of Port Credit when about 35 ladies and gentlemen of this club visited the Manor on Tuesday evening, November 14th. Like the other evenings of entertainment presented by this Club this particular evening was outstanding in its friendliness and informality.

The president of the club, Mr. I. J. Shier was present and the duties of the caller were performed by Mr. Ron Brogan, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. John Ferguson and Mr. Peter Giles. The dances were performed to the music of records.

About twenty dances, in which some of the residents participated, were performed, and these included not only square dances but couples dances as well. The square dances included, among others, Alabama Jubilee, Just Because, Push Your Pa and Shine your Ma and the Happy Polka. The latter was a favourite with the Manor residents, was danced by request. In the list of couples' dances, good news to hear that a third one would be shown at Halton Manor whenever the club undertakes the next play.

Oldest Lady
Before the play began, Mr. Ambrose extended greetings to the residents from all the Downsview visitors and during an intermission he presented a corsage of roses to Mrs. Louise Brown, the oldest lady present. Mrs. Brown will be 95 in February.

The director, Mr. Ambrose, was assisted by Mr. Aki Tokuda, as assistant director and other capable assistants.

A very pleasant time was spent with these talented young people when a lunch of tea, coffee and sandwiches was served.

This same play is to be presented in the High School auditorium on Friday evening, November 24th, with the proceeds going to the School for Retarded Children.

Hornby Student is Poster Prizewinner

An Oakville boy and a Trafalgar township girl shared top honors this week when results of the Halton County Fire Prevention Bureau's annual poster contest were announced.

They are 10 year old Frank Vathy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vathy of 29 Douglas Avenue, Oakville, and Louise Pickett, 9, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Pickett of R R 1, Hornby. Frank is a grade 5 student at St. Mary's school, Oakville, and Louise attends grade 5 at the Percy Merry School, Drummond.

Announcement of the top boy and girl followed the judging of over 60 posters emphasizing fire prevention slogans, submitted by the county's grade 5 students.

The winners will receive an engraved desk pad set and their schools will hold the Halton Farmers' Mutual Insurance Co. challenge trophies for one year. The awards are to be presented at the annual poster contest winners' banquet in Milton, Nov. 27th.

Driver's Quick Action Avoids Injuring Child

Ruth Aggiss, 2 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Aggiss, 6 Balfour Cres., had a slight burn on the crown of her nose today, fortunately the only injury resulting from a minor accident last Tuesday morning which could have been tragic.

According to police the accident occurred at about 11:15 when Mrs. Lorraine Kennedy was backing a car out of her driveway at 36 Balfour. Police said Mrs. Kennedy shooed some youngsters from behind the car and then started to back up slowly. When she felt a gentle bump she stopped the car and went to investigate.

She found Ruth under the car with her head jammed between the chassis and the exhaust pipe, unable to move. When Capt. Dave Edwards arrived he got assistance from Postman Les Dickenson in freeing the girl. An examination by Dr. C. A. Thompson at Georgetown Hospital revealed no serious harm.

Police Chief Roy Haley said Mrs. Kennedy's action in stopping immediately and locking the brakes prevented worse results.

Six Hour Meters For Market Street

Noted down by council majority a week before, six hour parking meters on Market Street got a favorable nod on Nov. 20th when only Reeve Sargent opposed them in a new vote.

Cr. Wm. F. Hunter said he was bringing the motion again because he thought some councillors had misunderstood the situation. Meters are called for in the town by-law and unless a 6 hour, 25c fee is adopted, the standard one hour meters would remain on the street, he explained.

"I opposed the 6 hour meters last week because meters come no reason for removing meters altogether but if we must metering and had petitioned out together," said Cr. Jim Emerson on Main St. any more than "Meters aren't popular and are preferable."

"If you're serious I'll gladly prepare a motion," said Cr. Sargent, who has been an opponent of any street metering money to provide parking space. Deputy Reeve Elliott joined the group when he said things have changed in a year and with less parking spaces on Main St. he also favours no meters.

Extra Break
"I can't see your reasoning," said Cr. Ian Cass. "If it is valid to charge shoppers in a park on Main St. it is just as valid to charge them on Market Street and this gives an extra break to those rural people particularly, who have the longer parking time available and he doesn't think there will be objections to the 25c fee.

"If there are no meters, people will leave their cars there all day," Cr. Hunter pointed out.

Brewers Retail
Cr. Emerson pointed out that with the Brewers Retail store now moved from 7th and St. George, there is less need than ever for meters.

Cr. Brown said he thought removal of meters would be going back on council's word to Main St. merchants by removing a supplementary parking area.

Deputy Reeve Elliott and Cr. Burke supported the amendment which was lost on a 5-4 vote. The motion then carried.

Alloa School Replaces Four Township Schools

Chiniquousy Township proudly showed off its new $188,000 Alloa school to the public Monday night when the school held its official open house.

Open in time to begin fall classes this term, the school with some 302 pupils replaces four rural classrooms or four rural township schools. Reeve Cyril Clark told a capacity audience at the opening ceremonies of his pride in the township's schools and Bill Davis, Peet's MPP, congratulated the township on its new schools, praising the efforts of the school board.

The new school has eight classrooms, an auditorium and a teacher's room, both of which have kitchenettes, a kindergarten and a health room. Located on Sideroad 17 and the Third Line West, the school is part of the township's program of consolidating its rural schools.

Guest speaker of the evening, L. Woodruff, B.A. B.P.A., of the teachers' training branch, Dept. of Education, stressed the need for more humanism rather than more scientific instruction in today's schools. Mr. Woodruff was introduced by school principal K. J. Pearson and thanked by school board member C. Dolson.

Gordon Catton, school board chairman, introduced board members to the audience. Eldon Sparrow, secretary; Mrs. D. Woodall, assistant secretary; Mr. Dolson, D. Brown, H. Downey, and Robert Tate.

School staff introduced to the audience by Mr. Pearson were Mrs. D. Bowes, Mrs. D. Wilby, Miss M. French, Miss N. Murray, Mrs. M. McCulla, Mrs. F. Bennett, Miss L. Carney, E. Henry, Miss R. Jeffries and music supervisor, Mrs. C. Sharpe. Caretaker of the school is A. Westergaard.

Mary Dolson described the early history of Alloa, once a thriving community. She told of the early settlers and pointed out that shops once stood where the present school has been built.

Water Short, Well Drillers Are Busy

The well driller, busy at work these days as many homes are finding themselves short of water.

The sewers put in by the highway this summer may have cut off some springs and the gates of the dam open nearly all summer and fall, no doubt has lowered the water level but whatever the cause, there have been several new wells necessary and most residents are using their water sparingly.

The Men's Group Committee for Scouts and Cubs met at the home of Mr. Orville Carter on Tuesday evening, November 21. The main business was the election of officers. Those elected were: President, Keith Webb; vice president, Ormie Carter; treasurer, Tom Pettin; district representative, Fred Woollett; badge training secretary, T. Kjarstalen; secretary, Les. Market St.

On Tuesday evenings there has been a Bible Study course for Sunday School teachers and others interested in Bible Study held in the United Church under the leadership of Rev. Lloyd Frel and Rev. J. P. Ashwin of Huttonville United Church. It will continue for two more Tuesday evenings.

The "Sew to Save Dollars and Make Sense" group met at the home of Mrs. H. Collins on Tuesday evening, November 21 and made paper collars with a cord binding after which lunch was served by the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Orval Shea and Lynda and Mr. and Mrs. Murray Coe and Goldie motored to Belleville on Sunday, November 19th to visit Brian Coe at the School for the deaf. He is doing well and will be home for Christmas holidays on December 14th.

The Norval United Church Pastoral Charge Y.P.U. held their regular meeting on Sunday evening, November 19th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clure Dolson on the Fourth Line.

The president, Rob Murray, was in the chair for the meeting and Helen Dolson was in charge of the devotional after which a film strip "It happens every day" was shown and a lively discussion on segregation followed.

In the business part of the meeting, plans were made to attend a Buddhist Church service in Toronto on Sunday morning, November 26th and for a skating party to be held on Friday evening, December 1st.

Following the meeting lunch was served by the hostess.
