Rebel Romp was A Big Success

The football season was drawn to a close on Saturday, December 14, with a dance which was appropriate. It was called the Rebel Romp. A terrific crowd turned out to give a final show of support for their 1961 football team.

Lots of ingenuity

The gym was exceptionally well-decorated, thanks to the ingenuity of Brian Lewis, Adrienne Murray, Dennis Martel and Jeanette Smith. Strings of balloons were strung from the balcony railing across to the opposite wall, and some odd balloon characters on the walls added a humorous touch.

At the end of the gym were lined up the tables who had prepared a subject in the last 'Touchdown' written across the bar, while the other teams were to get to the centre of the league games. All the Rebel couples to get to the centre of the back of the gym. In charged Bill and Roger. Word from the coach Romp was spelled out in large letters that they never moved that blue on gold letters. From the fast on the gridiron all season basketball-styled hung out.

Rebel flag. At the middle of each of the side walls, a horse shoe of Rebel sweaters, topped a golden football. At the front of the stage, encircled by five Rebel helmets, stood a foot ball on its tee, seemingly was ting to be kicked off to start another game. Behind this stood the 'D. J.' desk with 'Rebel Romp' spelled out across the front.

Dancing and Fun

The evening of dancing and fun was interspersed with contests directed by Bill Aiken. The Spot dances were won by Karna Nacton and Fred Harpison, and Gail Malcolm and Bob Bingham. Some real talent was shown when Sheila Wallace and Patie Lavell won first prize in the 'Trust' contest. The prizes were a shirt and blouse done and made by Cotton Bros. The judge as for this Mrs. McLaren and Mr. and Mrs. Peleschak. The elimination dance was won by a strange couple! They were out the season for their support Bill Aiken and Roger. Care! I know when I say this that I All the couples had been in speak for everyone on the team.

Christmas Party For Library Club

The Library Club wound up its activities this year by holding a Christmas party at the home of Mary Evans on Friday, December 15th. When we arrived early in the evening the laughter and chatter that goes with a good time soon announced that the 'soiree' was underway.

Cinderella

Couples paired off by selecting shoes (Cinderella style) from a pile in the centre of the room. Keen competition with which the members entered the games and contests indicated that the Library Club is not dull or uninteresting. Refreshments were served and all in all everyone had a wonderful time.

On behalf of the club we thank Ann Lorraine Noble and for the fine job of organization. Happy reading until we see you again in 1962.

New Chess Set For School Club

At the last meeting we saw our new chess set a six dollar set which we were lucky enough to get for two fifty. At though we originally decided to buy only one-dollar sets, the bus only one-dollar sets, the speaker, gave us an interesting lecture about psychology.

It is the science that studies why humans and animals behave as they do. Psychologists study how our senses work and why and how people learn and how they live while others are happy and do not work well. Psychologists investigate why people try to reach some goals and avoid others. Teachers use psychology to determine why students act the way they do. Advertisers use psychology to plan advertisements that will appeal to their customers.

At the conclusion of our meeting, Michael Payne, thanked Mrs. Chillingworth for a very interesting and enlightening talk.

Former Student Now In Army Service Corps

Ted Spicer, formerly of 100, 1950 writes to Mr. Lambert, staff and student as follows:

"Some, with good memories, will remember me as a trouble maker in my classes. Trouble making was not still in my business. It doesn't seem long ago that Gary Fullerton, Paul Marko, Bell and Ron Wilson and I were shouting at the GHS cadets. These were the times I look back at nowadays while I am sitting in a 'Reverberator' waiting for the 'Red on', 'Green on', or 'Jumps'.

The gym instructor would not recognize me now. I used to be fat, tall and had bad hair. I still had, not so fat, and tall, 6 feet, 2 1/2 inches. I've been in the Royal Army Service Corps for seven months, and have loved every minute of it. I have still eight years, and seven months to go, and I shall probably sign for another nine years.

I leave for a three and a half year tour of Africa and the Middle East in February next. I wish you all a Merry Christmas and a Prosperous New Year.

Psychology Lecture For Science Club

On Monday, November 27th, the Science Club of Georgetown District High School held its fourth meeting in Room 18. Mrs. Chillingworth, the speaker, gave us an interesting lecture about psychology.

High School Recruit Finds Cadets Do Have Value

"Why did I join the Cadets?" This question though strange as it may seem, has been asked me many times. Like everyone else my first feeling when I heard of the Cadets was the usual "I don't want anybody telling me what to do." For some weeks after, I continued along this line of thought, considering the Army Cadets to be just another branch of the Boy Scouts. Then, what I thought was going to be a normal five-day week of school turned out to be far more.

In this short period of time the Cadets, I am thankful that my interest towards the Cadets did. For the last two years I was increased by two factors, have been going, and I am now first, our class was visited one sergeant. Now, I am always morning by Major Wilson who asked "What do we do with instructed us in the activities the Cadets." Contrary to common done at the Armouries, every drill, march, etc. but carry on Wednesday night. Before the drill, march, etc. but carry on time I had been told by a few such things as instruction in friends how utterly boring Ca the 203 rifle, in the Bren gun, det activities were because of in field craft and in communicating the lack of enjoyable things called radio. Note that when there, and the over-sufficient, I say instruction. I do not drilling. However, what Major merely means lectures on that will sound genuine subject, for every cadet gets and I decided to inquire further parts of activities to take into it.

Curiosity Aroused

Second, the teacher we had, Going to Georgetown High at this time affirmed Major W.P. Lambert myself. I know what son's remarks by stating what goes on at the school. For every Cadets had done for her, certain people continue brother. After hearing these all carry on a private war with person, my curiosity was great. Cadets by going around ally aroused, and so I spoke to spreading false tales of how a quite close friend of mine, saying it was I feel very sorry whom I knew already belonged for those who believe these to the Cadets. He also helped lies. I just hope that this war provoke my interest by telling, will cease so that more people of the fun he had there, can be informed of the fun we the next Wednesday I went to have at the Cadets.

Grad Hockey is Excellent Sport

This year hockey has returned to Georgetown High after a long absence. After obtaining Mr. Lambert's O.K., a group of senior students and a few younger grade nines and tens formed four Georgetown High school house league hockey teams. The games take place every Wednesday and Thursday from 4.30 to 5.30 at the Arena.

Although the hockey may not come up to professional standards, there are many good players in the league. A good natured rivalry has occurred among the players, and each game is usually good for a few laughs because of the unorthodox style in hockey.

The teams, as of yet, are still unnamed. They are simply called Team 1, Team 2, Team King, Edward VIII abdicated 3 and Team 4. By the time of English throne; Dec. 11, 1941 the next House League hockey (20 years ago), Germany and columns in High News; names they declared war on U.S. will have been chosen.

As of last week the standings Marconi sent first wireless signal as follows: First Team 3rd place across the Atlantic; Dec. and Team 4 Second; Team 2 14, 1911, (50 years ago), Norway and Team 1.

From the standings it is evident that the South Pole; Dec. 16, dent that it is an evenly bal-1944 (17 years ago). Battle of needed league. Each team has huge got underway as Nazis played 3 games. Teams 3 and 4 launched savage counter attack won 2 and lost 1. Team 2 fack in the Ardennes.

BASKETBALL

John Pennock

Although the Georgetown Basketball team has diminished in number from last year's squad, we have a very well balanced and sound club. Throughout the winter season about seven games are scheduled, four of which are group games with Aclon and Milton, the remaining three are exhibition games played with Orangeville and Brampton.

The team again itself is being coached by Mr. McLaren, who wasn't planning on undertaking this task at the start of the season, but who is going to try to build up the new students who were athletically inclined, so that in future years we will be even stronger.

The season started out very quickly with a defeat against Orangeville on Dec. 7th in Georgetown. We managed to out-score them 37-30 in a very hard fought game. At the end of the second period we were winning 10-17 but Orangeville came on strongly in the third period and scored twice as many pts. They failed to come through in the final rally and we held them to 8 points. Tony Crimes was the high scorer with ten points, playing a very strong game.

Our most recent game on Wednesday the 13th was a different story. We played in Brampton against a very strong Junior team, and were lucky to lose by only 0 points — the final score being 25-16 in favour of Brampton. "According to the statistics of the game, we shot 21 shots in the final half but only made one. With the next game being played at home against them, we are hoping to subdue their attacks and come out on top.
