

Family Ties With Stars of Hockey

Hundreds of local families have youngsters playing hockey in the Little N.H.L., a fact well known and not particularly of note. But it is a fact that 99.9% of the population aren't aware of Georgetown's many family ties with the real National Hockey League.

—Jim Harvey, 41 Prince Charles Drive is a brother of Doug Harvey, famous playing coach of the New York Rangers.

—Ernie Bodnar, 58 Rowley Drive, is a brother of former Toronto Maple Leaf and Chicago Blackhawk great, Gus Bodnar.

—Ted Quackenbush, 23 Mc-Gilvray, is a brother of former all-star Boston defenseman Bill Quackenbush, and another brother, Max, was with the Bruins for a while.

—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Goldham, 12 Orchard Blvd., are the parents of former Toronto Maple Leaf and Detroit Red Wing defense star, Bob Goldham.

And there are probably others. If you can add to it pick up the phone, the Herald's number is TR. 7-3301.

PRACTICES WHAT HE PREACHES

THE CHIEF INSTRUCTOR of the Rescue Training course in the Georgetown Armoury, and Halton's Deputy Chief Rescue Instructor for Emergency Measures Organizations, Harold Doane of Oakville, is as efficient in actual rescue as he is in theory. Here Halton County Warden Alex Phillips praises the rescue instructor for his courage during a recent accident when Mr. Doane put his skill to work and freed a truck driver trapped in an overturned truck. Warden Phillips is presenting him with the EMO certificate for recently completing successfully a Rescue Instructors Course in Guelph.

OHA Business Manager Suffers Heart Attack

Bill Hanley, business manager of the Ontario Hockey Association, suffering a slight heart seizure during a subcommittee meeting in the OHA on Saturday morning. Ken McMillan, past president of the OHA, and local hockey enthusiast, told the Herald this would entail a great deal of extra work for the executive, as Mr. Hanley is the one fulltime officer of the group.

Early in the meeting, Hanley complained of a stomach upset. As the pain increased, he was rushed to his home and medical aid was summoned. He has been ordered to rest completely for six weeks.

The 43-year-old Hanley is the sole fulltime OHA officer and his absence from office will force extra meetings of subcommittees and executive members. Subcommittee meetings will be held very Saturday in the future and W. A. Hewitt, OHA secretary, will be in the office daily to handle much of the routine.

WRONG MAN
Cutlines under a picture in last week's Herald labeling the scorer in an Industrial League game were a little off the target. Instead of Ron Ritchie as the cutlines stated, the puck was put in the net by teammate Walter Dixon, also in the picture.

New Year's Foal Surprise on Farm

Most dumbfounded family in the district on New Year's morning was the Hammersleys of R.R. 2, Norval. Out in their stable was a wobbly legged foal not due to be born until the spring.

"My husband nearly fell over backwards when he opened the door," said Mrs. Hammersley. "No one could have been more surprised." Not expecting the blessed event for several months, nothing had been prepared. "We hadn't even moved the mare to a box stall," said Mrs. Hammersley.

The newcomer is a chestnut filly with black mane and tail and a white flash on her forehead. "She looks just like her mother," commented Mrs. Hammersley, "and we are still too taken aback to think of a name for her."

The mother's name is Sheila, broken in both western and English saddles, and a favourite mount of 12 year old Nicholas Hammersley.

On their property at the corner of Highway 7 and the Fifth Line West, the Hammersleys also have two other mares.

THE GEORGETOWN High School Senior Basketball squad claimed a big name when they opened their season with a win over Acton. Here in a practice session on their home court the local cagers clown for the camera in going after a rebound.

CURLING CHATTER

by Bob MacArthur from the

The first games of the new draw were played on Thursday and Friday evening of last Monday week. The skips were getting acquainted with their men, but some good scores were recorded.

Now that the new year is over, the curling can settle down to some serious curling with no celebrating until the Easter holidays — be that time the curling should be over for the season.

The mixed curling bonspiel for the MacCormack cup will draw on this coming Saturday week. The skips were getting acquainted with their men, but some good scores were recorded.

In the men's spiel last Saturday, the winners were as follows: Bill Schenk's team were the three game winners with 29 points in the 9 o'clock draw; George Drennan and his rink from Guelph took the 2 game wins with 25 points while J. Moore and his rink of Burlington were the one game winners with 11 points.

I see by the papers that the Acton Curling Club held an open curling night last Monday night. They had about 100 sign up to say they were interested in curling, so it looks like the lanners will get a Club underway. Some members of the North Halton Club were present to see the new facilities offered by the new club.

Those hardy souls that went curling Friday night found, when they came to their cars, that they were coated with plenty of ice. Some took a 100 longer to clean off their windshields than it took them to get home.

In the 11 o'clock draw it was J. Beckett and his foursome from Dixie that lined up for the big prizes with 31 points. Second place was taken by an Orangeville rink winning two games and 23 points. Dr. L. MacDonald of Toronto was the one game winner with 10 points. Teams were present from Toronto, Fergus, Guelph, Orangeville, Oakville, Dixie and Georgetown.

The ladies only had club curling this past week, but were preparing for the division playoffs of the Tankard. More will be heard of this curling later.

Some new rules have been added at the club, one of which is that you must play your position as drawn. This means that if the full rink is present, the skip must throw the last rocks, and the vice skip must throw the second last rocks, not the lead rocks as has been the case with a few of the rinks. But if you are substiting for an absent player, your play where designated.

Plans are being made to list the standing of the rinks in relation to the games played for this draw. A new system is also being inaugurated — that of filling in cards at the end of the game, not marking the score on the board. It was found that too many rinks failed to mark up the score and so the true standing could not be figured out when the schedule was completed.

Glen Hockey Team Pulls Hat Trick

The Glen Williams Industrial team is probably the only aggregation in the district to hold down first place in two hockey leagues at the same time. The Glen, which is viding high in the local Industrial League, shares the top spot in the Milton Industrial loop with Queenston Motors. The Glen stayed up top in Milton last week by thumping Gerry's 6 to 2. Bud Haines paced the scorers with a hat trick.
