TOURNAMENT WHEELS ARE TURNING

Y-WEEK PROBABLY doesn't mean anything to John Public right at the moment, but that won't be the situation in a matter of weeks. To the officials who make up the committee, Y-Week is Tournament Week when Bantam hockey teams from all over the country and the U.S.A. invade Georgetown to vie for the coveted championship. This year the tournament will be in full swing from April 21st to 28th, but the intricacies of arrangements are so extensive that the gears have already been set in motion. Here treasurer Jan Toxopeus, tournament chairman Red Asseltine, and secretary Paul Armstrong pose with the silverware.

Half Holiday When Fire Threatens School

Students of the Blue Mountain School were dismissed shortly after noon hour last Friday when a smouldering fire was discovered under the floor near the furnace. Mrs. Shortill, who is the teacher of the 34 township pupils sent one of the boys to the farm home of Mr. Elwood Snow who called the Georgetown fire department and immediately returned to the school to render immediate help.

As the fire was still at the smouldering stage, the firemen were able to douse it by extinguishers. There is no basement under the 91-year-old building, which is heated by a five-foot gas-burned furnace.

The furnace, sponsored by the Institute which was to have been held in the Blue Mountain School, went ahead successfully at the home of Mrs. J. W. Snow. Prize winners were Mrs. DeForest, Mrs. Leo Jamieson, Messrs. Bert Davidson, Harding Price and Mrs. Wilfred Burt. There were 10 tables.

Congratulations to the Scout hockey team who played their first game on Friday night. More details in the Scout Corner.

Mrs. Donald McLean is still confined to hospital in Guelph. Last week end her sister Mrs. Clayton Bewick from Hamilton, visited with her. We wish her a speedy recovery.
