OTTAWA REPORT

BI-MONTHLY OBSERVATIONS BY SANDY BEST, M.P. FOR HALTON

At Ottawa the Throne Speech debate continues. There is frequently an uneasy and restless feeling pervading the House of Commons. The Government's plans, as announced in the Speech from the Throne, have begun to be spelled out in more detail; The Prime Minister has announced an increase of $10 per month in the Old Age pension. when they longed to see old The House has debated acreage payments to western grain farmers.

Private Members' bills which come up for debate at specific pre-determined times have roused considerable interest. They are not new, but are being presented again with variations. Two discussions in the past two days have concerned national lotteries and hospital sweepstakes; on the one hand, and a new national flag, on the other. Both of these measures, proposed by Conservative members have roused much interest for
