Close, But Not Quite Raiders Miss Top Spot

Poor Officiating is Raider Claim

Georgetown Raiders may be wondering what they have to do to crash the barrier between second and first place in the Central Ontario hockey league.

Raiders crushed the current leaders, Bradford Reds, 12-4 here Friday and invaded the marshlands Saturday for the jump into the top slot but not prepared for one Jack Shropshire, an ex-Georgetown Raider who now blows whistles for the OHA.

Mixed Up

Shropshire drew trades from the Milton Merchants' fans for his handling of the Milton Bradford game last week which Milton lost 10-8, and Shropshire says the oblique, repeated the aromatic officiating for Bradford fans who didn't catch his last act, Saturday night, but this time with Raiders standing in for the Merchants.

At explosive intervals Shropshire kicked Raider coach Elmer Lee off the bench, kicked Raider defenseman Doug Falby, off the bench, kicked Elmer Lee out of the arena, threw a ten minute misconduct at alternate captain Bob Demerise and conducted a wholesale handout of minor penalties. Bradford won the game 7-6 to hang onto first place.

Raider temperatures started soaring early in the first period when a Bradford player grabbed goalie Harry Smith's stick and rapped him across the forehead with his own lumber, right in front of Shropshire who

LOT TO LIKE IN A MARLBORO —Peter Jones, Georgetown
YORONTO MARLBIES BRASS have a lot to like in this Marlboro. His name is Wayne Callon, He's from Beeton, and at 14 years of age is the youngest player in Junior A. hockey. His skating ability and marksmanship make him one of the club's captain NHL prospects. Here, in the recent exhibition game with Georgetown Raiders, young Wayne is foiled by All Trotta from close in, while George Grady and Gerry Inglis watch.

Midgets Beat Weston But Lose to Burlington

Georgetown Midgets were hosts to Burlington on Wednesday, Jan. 24th and Burlington won 3 to 1.

Burlington opened the scoring at 1:55, Slater scoring from a Humpf, and at the 4:35 mark Burlington made it 2 to 0, with Greenwood scoring from Daniel. Georgetown did everything but put the puck in the net.

Mike Cummins drew a penalty for elbowing and Burlington put the pressure on making it 3 to 0. Humpf from Rosaria doing the scoring. Rosari drew a holding penalty at the 12:25 mark, but Georgetown missed several scoring chances as Burlington goalie Adamson came up with some good saves.

In the second period there was no scoring. Blair of Georgetown received a holding penalty at 3:50 and Georgetown goalie D. Vivian had to come up with great saves. Haggerty of Burlington received a penalty at 9:55 for holding and Healer of Burlington received a penalty at 17:30 for tripping. The goalies of both teams were particularly brilliant in the second period.

In the 3rd period Georgetown broke into the scoring at the 9:45 mark, M. Cummins, from J. Gudgion, and Hiddall. Both teams played good hockey and it was anybody's game but Georgetown missed too many scoring chances.

On Saturday, January 27, Georgetown Midgets helped Weston end their Minor Hockey Week as they defeated Weston 4 to 3. Wayne Huddell opened the scoring for Georgetown at the 3:25 mark, unassisted. Terry Lane made it 2 to 0 from Red Presswood at 10:35. Presswood received a high stick on the head, accidentally and was taken to hospital for stitches. Weston scored, making it 2 to 1 for Georgetown at the 15:00 mark of the 2nd period. Weston's marksmanship, unassisted, J. Gudgion made it 3 to 1 for Georgetown at 19:25.

In the 3rd period, Weston came out strong and made it 3 to 2, Canning scoring from Wallton at the 6:30 mark, but Georgetown made it 4 to 2 T. Hinzham scoring from D. Norton at 14:35. Georgetown played the last five minutes with lay players sitting out penalties: W. Davison, R. Coburn, J. Blair, B. Kemshead and D. Vivian stopped Weston from tying up the game as they tried everything. Weston officials and fans paid the Georgetown club many compliments on their team efforts and the great hockey they came up with and are anxious to meet Georgetown again in the near future.

North Halton Golf and Country Club

Apologies are in order to the Ladies' Curling Club for the copy of their bonspiel of January 24th was reported. Mrs. Nelis Robinson said in a very complete report, but in setting it into type, some links in the copy were skipped unintentionally, and the names of some of the clubs participating were left out. Among the clubs missing were Burlington, Oakville, Galt, Brampton and Mississauga. Mr. A. Jeffrey of Guelph representing the company, presented the Curling Trophy to the rink skipped by Mrs. Edna Noble, from the Hamilton Victoria's. Sorry.

Last week a team from here returned the President's cup to the Orangeville club, after holding it for the year. Those taking part from the local club were G. Farnell, lead, R. Caruso, second, M. MacKinnon, vice and E. Olsen as skip. They did not bring the cup back with them, but they did take the second prize in a very close finish.

The ladies bonspiel on Saturday had some very close games. Each draw was short two teams, and only three were in use. Seem to be there are not as many of the ladies who want to curl in a bonspiel as anticipated.

That popular curler from Limehouse, Ben Mellarg, who was trampled by a steer while loading cattle in a truck on Monday, Jan. 29th, was not as badly hurt as at first feared. He was able to return home on Saturday from Georgetown and District Hospital.

The scores listed in the club curling ending 2 to 0 are games that have been defaulted by one team or another by not forming a team, or the Games committee have awarded the game to one team, regardless of who won the game, because the rules of the club had not been adhered to.

The scores listed in this column are those provided by the Games Committee, but mistakes do creep in, no matter how carefully they are checked. So if your score is not listed correctly, a word to the writer will correct it in the paper.

Friday, Feb. 1st, a team of the local ladies journeyed to Toronto to play at St. George's. They played teams from Scarborough and Peterborough and won, but in the last game they lost and did not bring home the trophy. Those taking part were Mrs. W. McNally, lead; Mrs. M. MacKinnon, second; Mrs. E. Curry, vice and Mrs. Wray Beasley skipping.

Six teams of ladies journeyed to Erin on Monday, but results were not available for the column this week.

The Ontario Milk Producers take over the rink tomorrow (Friday). They are the suppliers of milk in the Toronto market. Jack Pawley of Brampton is in charge.

Here are the results of the past week's curling, according to the official score sheet:
