

CELEBRATED AT HOME THIS YEAR

Peter Jones, Georgetown

NEWS VOLUME in the Herald does not always overaw the number of pages and often the better half are spared. In this issue, however, there is no overawing the number of pages to pass by. Last week the Herald covered the first half of the year in its news columns. This week it is the turn of the second half. The following are some of the stories:

Fiftieth Wedding Date For Couple at Hornby

Hornby has been home to many a wedding since Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Hornby became parents.

It was the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Hornby, who have spent their entire married life in Hornby, where they have spent their entire married life.

Spent all of the years they were married in Mississauga, Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Hornby, the winters were harder than the summers. There was much more snow then. The day we were married we could hardly see the road for snow."

Mr. Hornby added: "There weren't any cars or snow plows back then. The roads were bad and we had to walk over them. There was much more snow then. The day we were married we could hardly see the road for snow."

The couple have now been married for 50 years.

Wedding Story

Among their treasured possessions are several copies of a clipping from the February 1911 edition of The Canadian Champion telling of their marriage and entitled "Wedding Story". Part of the story below:

"A happy event the marriage of Miss Mabel Maud, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Anderson, of Bonfield, Bruce, near Hornby, to Fredrick Hamilton Huffman, only son of Mr. and Mrs. John Huffman, of the Poplars, ninth line, Esquerring was solemnized by Rev. Mr. Booth, Presbyterian minister of Hornby on February 5th amidst a large gathering of immediate relatives."

Mr. C. Anderson, sister-in-law of the bride, was present on the occasion. Joseph Anderson, the bride's brother, acted as groomsman. Seventy-five attended the reception.

Many Guests

The slow transportation of the day proved little trouble for the story goes on. "The guests were from Buffalo, Niagara, Michigan, Stoney Creek, Ash, Milton, Brampton, Acton, Toronto, Campbellville, Trafalgar, Ashgrove, Norval, and Hornby."

After a honeymoon in Buffalo, Niagara, St. Catharines and Toronto, the couple returned to live on a farm on the 8th Line, Esquerring Township.

Mr. and Mrs. Huffman have three daughters--Violet (Mrs. Murray Hayward), Rita (Mrs. Addison Woodley) and Mabel (Mrs. Munroe Hooper).

Both are still active. Mr. Huff-

Neelands Explains First Aid Courses

Eight representatives of the Halton Farm Safety Council recently attended the Ontario Farm Safety Conference held at the University of Guelph Agricultural Campus in the Guelph Auditorium February 10th.

The conference was made up of delegates from all counties in the province and districts in Ontario and the meeting was sponsored by the Farm Safety Council of Ontario.

The conference addressed itself to the problem of how to make the farm accident problem more effective through the use of farm accident prevention programs and the use of farm safety courses.

At the conference, Mr. Neelands, chairman of the Johnston Neelands, presented an outline of the Farm Safety Council's program.
