Tribute Made to Bob McMenemy
31 Byron Street,
February 17th, 1962
Dear Mr. Editor:

I am sure I echo the sentiment of many persons who had the privilege of knowing the late Robert Sloan McMenemy. It was a great shock to learn of his passing at a time when we, who were his associates, were looking forward to his return to his job. Bob, as I knew him for the past several years, endured physical trials with illnesses which would be very difficult to bear. Despite this, he maintained his cheery disposition and never grumbled, even though it must have taken great fortitude to grin and bear it. Bob had a great sense of humour and personal interest in everything that came to his notice and you were not talking with him long until you realized the depth of his understanding and feeling regarding incidents, which to others might have gone unnoticed. His devotion to his family, his grandchildren and his neighbors and friends was likewise carried to his daily duties. He was very commonsense in his application to the work at hand and was recognized for his efficiency. He loved the great outdoors, his garden and he was an ardent fisherman. We, who knew him intimately will long treasure his memory. Yours truly,
Ed. A. Peters
