CAR CLUB VISUALIZE "RADICAL" CHANGES

THE TRANSITION from pumpkin to royal coach parallels Georgetown's Radical Car Club operation when they intend to create another breathtaking road buggy. This old body for instance, will be hacked and chopped from its original roadster frame, fitted with power plant and ready for drag racing this summer. Inspecting the shell at their limousine garage are Radical Car Club members Dave Rawson, secretary Ernie Pearce, Vice president Ron Copland, Wayne Presswood, treasurer Phil Rau, Barry Hamilton and Bob Donaldson. The club meets weekly.

WHAT COUNCIL DID

Study Tenders for Equipment Rental

Tenders for equipment rental from seven firms were opened by council on Monday and turned over to the road committee for study.

Council recently decided to advertise for such tenders for renting various types of equipment.

"A man in our area told me he heard the town is paying $40 an hour to have the snow plow in operation," said Cr. McNeilly. "That was mentioned in just I would say," answered Cr. Harrison. "I got calls objecting to roads only being opened in the centre on Saturday. We weren't trying to make our roads look like California, only to make every street passable. Maybe some people left their cars on the roadway and slept in Saturday instead of shovelling them out and if that were the case we could perhaps spend $40 an hour."

Glen Native Dies in Los Angeles

A Glen Williams native, Mrs. John McKenzie 82, was buried in Glen Williams cemetery on Friday, following service at the Harold C. McClure Funeral Home.

Died in Los Angeles

Mrs. McKenzie died in Los Angeles, California, on February 17th. The former Mrs. Martin was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Martin.

Toboggan Party for Georgetown Golfers

Georgetown Golf and Country Club couples discovered the rolling terrain on their 18 hole course just north of town is ideal for winter frolics as well as golf Saturday.

The Georgetown golfers utilized part of their snow blanketed first fairway for tobogganing and later repaired to the club house and roaring fires in fireplaces in the lounge and dining room.

Music for dancing was on tap, and volunteer chefs served up trays of hot dogs and coffee for the hungry crowd around midnight.

SOCIAL and PERSONAL

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Stephenson and family, 108 McIntyre Street, were in Kenmore, New York, last weekend where they had with Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Schuchman.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Thompson, 221 1/2 St. have returned home after attending the funeral of his brother-in-law, Louis J. Pulling of Mt. Vernon, Indiana, Col. Pulling died of a heart attack and died in Rochester, Indiana hospital on February 9th. He was the husband of Norma Thompson, Ballantyne.

Police Cruiser

Following the last class in oil painting at night school last Wednesday, instructor Frank C. Black and his wife entertained at their home 80 Guelph St. Members of the class are Mrs. Harry Savary, Mrs. Robert McMurtry, Mrs. John Milton, Miss Marion Scarlett, Miss Helen Murphy, Mrs. William Ennis, Mrs. J. Young, Miss Christine Hopley, Mr. Wally Parker, Mr. George Baker and Mrs. G. Klatt.

At this point Cr. Brown and Deputy Reeve Hunter agreed to withdraw their motion for a week, but a majority of council members favoured a vote.

The deputy then asked a recorded vote and said he would oppose the purchase as he favoured a week's delay.

Following the vote, Larry McCharles, who had tendered for a cruiser to be supplied by Stonehouse Sales, asked to address council.

"Our tender specified we would supply a police cruiser, and we would certainly be servicing it in town," he said. "I don't know who checked the tenders but there has certainly been misrepresentation somewhere and I intend to say so in the local press."

Bantams Drop Play-off Game to Brampton, 4-3

Georgetown Bantams dropped their first Tri-County Playoff game with Brampton in Brampton 4-3.

Hay, Blair and Briggs, scored for Georgetown while Popel, Maloim, and Telford picked up assists. The next game is back here on Sunday.

Thursday the locals downed Weston in an exhibition game 4-3 on goals by Blair (2), Sheppard, and Briggs with Lane (2), Maloim, and Telford collecting the assists. McClosky, Ashbee, and Brown scored for Weston.

Pole Cat was No Gentleman

Life will find a way, and on St. Valentine's Day two capricious cats found it, and really got away from it all.

The headline seeking cat, who twice has had his name in the paper, again went up an Elizabeth Street hydro pole, but this time he took a girl cat with him.

He probably purred into her coal-black ear "Stuck with me baby, and you'll go right to the top" — and she did.

What transpired will be forever locked up in the green slitted eyes, or should be at least, the gentleman.

But as he came down and left his lady love, complete with red ribbon for St. Valentine's Day, meowing pitifully on her perch, he returned home with a self-satisfied grin, like a Cheshire cat a state which did not last long, since he was greeted with a severe reprimand for conduct unbecoming a gentleman by his owner.

After a long lecture on behaviour befitting the noble cat including a short sermon on the fact his species was worshipped as a god by the Egyptians, he stalked away to ruminate on his sins. However, he watched "her" from the window, while all day she looked down at him with reproachful eyes.

A spark of chivalry still burned however. At night, he gave her a fast brush off, or did he let her down lightly?

The question remains "Did he give her a fast brush off, or did he let her down lightly?"

Your reporter harbours some doubts regarding the prouder of the animals, and on receipt of proof to the contrary, will gladly apologize to the animals involved.
