

Manor Bill Hits Snag in Committee

Seek Trust Custody Of Residents Property

A private bill from Halton County's Centennial Manor at Milton was stalled in the Ontario legislature's private bills committee on March 14, when its purpose became embroiled in confusion and emotion.

Halton MPP Stanley L. Hall entered the fray by charging that Toronto members were running the committee. He objected to one member not having the guts to stand and be counted on an issue.

The private bill seeks to give Halton Centennial Manor authority to hold properties of residents in trust and administer them until the resident leaves the home. It is intended to save residents from fraudulent use of their money by salesmen and improper management by relatives of residents.

The trouble in the private bills committee came after a 99 to 1 vote when a member for Toronto said he didn't vote but was against the bill. The chairman called the vote defeated. Mr. Hall, charging Toronto members with quashing the bill, stated Toronto houses, acquired properties of aged people even though there was no legislation — "and some members say Toronto should do the same, but we don't do things like that in Halton."

Present at the hearing beside Mr. Hall, was Stanley Allen, superintendent of Halton Manor. Mr. Allen testified for many years in town, being the father of the town and guardian of the county. Representing the county was solicitor W. E. Sharpe of Milton.

The outcome of the whole matter is still undecided, although a further meeting was held. The whole matter has been held over as the Department is presenting legislation that will substantially correct the situation complained about by the Halton legislation.

Mr. Hall told the Herald on Friday that the new regulations that the Department were presenting would eliminate the difficulties encountered by the local Manor in this regard.

Professor's Widow Helped Found Home & School Group

One of Georgetown's oldest residents, Mrs. H. L. Hull, 86, died on March 8th at her home, 87 Charles St. Although confined to bed by arthritis the last four years, she was otherwise well in mind and healthy until she suffered a stroke a week before her death. She enjoyed her visitors, news of her friends and maintained a keen interest in current affairs to the end.

The former Annie Cook, she was born in Toronto, the daughter of Richard and Euphemia Cornack Cook. She attended school in St. Mary's where she was a prolific contemporary of the late Halp Moss who was principal of the high school when she came to Georgetown.

She taught in Newcastle, where she was a friend of the late Hugh Davidson, father of Mrs. Percy Cleave of town; in Drummondville, St. Catharines and Niagara Falls. Professor and Mrs. Hull were married at Niagara in 1895 and went to Guelph where he was a professor of horticulture at OAC.

In 1917 they moved to Georgetown, where they had purchased 50 acres of the old Lawler farm just south of town on the 8th line. The farm, Millrig, now the Notre Dame de Beauregard farm, kept their "retirement" very active. They moved to their present address in 1940, buying and making over the old Culp house which had been partially destroyed by fire. Here Professor Hull grew gladiolus, iris and lilies until his death in 1948.

Mrs. Hull was one of the originators and was active in home and school associations in Guelph. She was a member of Norfolk Street United Church in Guelph and later St. John's United, Georgetown, where she had held office in the Women's Association and the Missionary Society. She was also active in the Local Council of Women.

She leaves three children, Gordon and Jean of 87 Charles St., and Dr. Fred Hull of Ithaca, N.Y.; three grandchildren, Bruce Hull in California; Robert Hull, Washington and Margaret Ann Hull of Ithaca, and three great-grandchildren. She was predeceased by sisters Isabel of Toronto in 1917 and Margaret of Windsor in 1954. Rev. Ian Fleming conducted the funeral service on Wednesday at the Harold C. McClure Funeral Home, with interment in Greenwood Cemetery. Pallbearers were Bruce Harding, Fred Huskin, Alex Marler, William Cromar, Graham Farwell and James Evans.

CLUB MIDTOWN

by STEVE

NEW — MARCH 5th — THE EMERALDS

This Friday The Emeralds will give us a try. The feature of the night will be this, something new — an honest election of the two Midtown executive officers "Pres" and "Vice". The fine candidates for these posts are John Benham, an outstanding teen who has served the Club as best he could for the past five years. John is ready to take over and make this club and its organization, the best possible dance in this area (North America). The Herald column of Club Midtown asks you write the initials "J. B." on your ballot (1961 Green membership card) and lead the way to progress. Thank you!

By the way, the other guy is Tom Marshall, whoever that is?

This election is this Friday night and the winner will be announced as soon as the balloting has been completed, the same night.

Last week The Twilights were the same as always — great. We hope to see them again soon as they are the greatest since The Consts. I understand The Centuries (March 2) were also very good and also that they were also from Guelph, not also Toronto. Sorry, group! What has happened to Elvis? His songs aren't just what they used to be. Too bad, "Lucky charm" will go high but not because it is so good, but because there is no opposition anymore. Also what happened to Jack Scott, one of the best all time singers of 1958 - 1960?

Next week — election results and don't forget to pick up your free membership card as you vote. If you don't have a 1961 card to vote with, buy a 1962 for only twenty five cents, and vote next year. Admission price for March 16 is one dollar or one and a half dollars.

Also remember — walk down the street with a smile on your face and you'll be surprised how many people stare at you!

CHEQUES SWELLING NEW SCHOOL FUND

MRS. DEAN TAYLOR of the Kinettes and Mrs. Tracey Barrager of the District Scout Committee turn over cheques for $36 and $25 respectively to the Retarded School Building Fund via Harold Henry, chairman of the Georgetown Building Committee. The presentations were made at a Kinettes meeting in the Corner Cupboard hall.

Find Lost Boy in Abandoned Icebox

Lost for two and a half hours, six-year-old Jimmy Harris was finally discovered around 8 p.m. Saturday night, March 3rd, stiff and extremely cold in an old abandoned ice box on the property owned by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Harris, near Silvercreek. The child was located by his mother after she heard a faint call directing her "Mummy, I'm in the bush." She rushed to the old ice box at the edge of the bush and freed the youngster who was cold and shivering and suffering from shock.

Truck Trouble
Mrs. Harris had earlier gone to town to shop, leaving her children with her husband. Mr. Harris, a scrap dealer, had packed up the ice box and two old washing machines that afternoon but since he was having trouble with his truck, didn't take time to knock off the door as is his usual practice.

Didn't Answer
Young Jimmy, who was playing around the yard, disappeared about the time his father was repairing the truck and when called for supper didn't answer. The neighbors were alerted in the event he had gone missing and then his father thought he might have ventured to the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. McNaue, R. R. 4, Acton.

Joined Search
Mrs. Harris, still in town shopping, was waiting for her husband to pick her up. When he didn't arrive she left for home with her mother and father-in-law. When she arrived she learned the youngster was missing and joined in the search.

Prior to her hearing the child call out faintly, researchers had passed by the ice box time and time again but didn't hear a sound. They believe now he was asleep at these times.

ONTARIO

ELMA needs to establish a warm and deep relationship with Protestant parents. She truly respects who give her love and attention which has so far in her life been sadly missing. Elma is an average little girl of nine years, attractive in appearance with blue eyes and brown hair. She'd like to be a nurse.

DEWANEY—This bright ten year old Protestant lad is of Indian racial origin. He has a sturdy physique with dark brown eyes, black hair and a cheerful complexion. Dewane is quite shy and fearful, but tries hard to please. Warm affectionate people, able to accept Dewane's Indian background are needed.

DINAH is a healthy 11 year old girl of French Canadian and Scotch Origin. She is short and slight with blond eyes, light brown hair and fair complexion. Dinah is placid and inclined to accept support from others rather than rely on herself. This likable youngster needs Roman Catholic parents who will give her individual praise and encouragement.

ELLEN feels deeply the separation from her family due to a broken home. She needs permanent parents who will give her constant love and understanding. She is a beautiful 9 year old Roman Catholic child with hazel eyes, light brown hair, pretty features and very attractive. She is in Grade 3 and is an excellent student. A Roman Catholic couple who are steadfast but light hearted and jolly would be most fortunate to have this child for an adopted daughter.

GRACE & DOREEN—These French Canadian Roman Catholic sisters, Grace 7 and Doreen 10 would love to stay together but this may not be possible unless parents somewhere are hoping for just such daughters as these. Doreen is a small, plump little girl with blue eyes, regular features and a wide smile. She is a bright, strong, fearful little girl because of a tragedy in her life. She has an excellent singing voice and is in grade 4 and shows a lot of promise if she gets the right home. Grace is thin and small boned with brown eyes and hair, regular features and attractive. She is reserved and depends on her older sister Doreen. She is well mannered and responds to affection. Grace has a clear true voice from her youth and is in grade 2. She and her sister need permanent parents in a real home.

FRID—6 year old Fred has large appealing green eyes, wavy blond hair and even features. He is rather shy but will hold his own and is quite easily managed. He is well liked and loves to school, but is doubtful if his ability will carry him far academically. Fred has a slight speech impediment which will be overcome with help. Roman Catholic parents with patience, understanding and love could give Fred a feeling of achievement and security.

DICK is a handsome middle little boy who needs his own Roman Catholic parents. He is an Anglo-Saxon of 7 years and in Grade 2 at school. He has blue eyes and blonde hair with even attractive features. He is fairly placid, shy and well behaved. Dick has a slight speech defect which is gradually being overcome. He needs understanding warm Roman Catholic parents who will not be demanding of this boy's school work.

MARTIN is a 5 1/2 year old Anglo-Saxon with wavy brown hair, large blue eyes and quite handsome. Martin is shy, easily managed and affectionate. He has a speech defect that is improving, but it is felt he may not go far academically. He will always be well liked. Martin wants Roman Catholic parents who will help him to be LOVEY—This attractive 13 year old American English lad, tall and of average build. He has brown eyes and hair and olive complexion. Lovey has an attractive personality and needs understanding Protestant parents in a home where he would have plenty of stimulation to achieve his potential academically and socially.

A FAMILY OF SIX CHILDREN FOR ADOPTION—These Protestant brothers and sister have made up their own minds that they intend to remain together. They want Protestant parents who have sufficient big hearts and house to include all 6 of them. The eldest is 12 year old Louisa who is a little mother to her 5 younger brothers ranging in age from 11 to 4 years. These children are Anglo-Saxon Canadians and all have normal intelligence. Louisa is pretty and the 3 boys are handsome and active with attractive personalities. They are well mannered with the exception of one who is a real little "rough neck". The boys are in all the local activities and sports. They are mischievous, but have never been in any serious trouble. The fortunate Protestant parents who are selected for these children have busy and active times to look forward to with the responsibilities and fun of guiding the future for a daughter and five sons.
