"See It Again" Best

Praise For Review

(continued from Page 1) playfully passed from hand to hand. Todd Burns, Russ Norton, Eric Walker, Kay Thomson, Duncan Thomson, and Jim Ruzle appeared in this one.

Music DH IV
Kees Norton and Jim Carney in an up to date version of Mr. Gallagher and Mr. Shean, with names of well known localities substituted drew a big chuckle.

Despite all the skills it was probably the outstanding music and singing which pleased the audience most. Here Ken Harrison and Ralph Urael took a V bow, and soloists Tom Youns, Tom Darcie, Nadine Rupert and Vera Macdonald can certainly join them.

Not A Routine
Each night a different Barber Shop quartette appeared. Friday's quartette from the Oakville Chapter, and Saturday night a group from the Kitchener Chapter of the S.P.E.B. S.Q.S.A. sang to the hushed audience. Not even a rattle broke the spell when "Scarlet Ribbons" was sung.

The show was produced by Sleamer Emmerson, and directed by Ralph Urael, with the choral work being done by Ken Harrison. Others in the cast not previously mentioned were Jean Hancock, Marg Bailey, Isabel Dobson, Marilyn Barber, Elaine Phillips, Edna Turnbull, Crystal Wilson, Jamie Burns, Charlie Crimes, Jim Turnbull, and Tom Warnes.

Back Stage
The script was written by Anne Currie, and Jim Rundle, with a special lyric by Mauritan Walker. Choreography was by Vicki Lay, costumes by Enid Urael, and design and art work by Sheila Atkins.

The lighting was guided by Chris Fisher, Bob Burns, Ken Robertson, and Art Dixon, while Mike Fisher managed the curtain.
