

BILL'S CURRENT RACE AGAINST TIME

PHARMACIST BILL McCormack, of MacCormack's Drugs will be Georgetown's man on the racing circuits this year. Bill will be piloting a Formula Junior, a high speed car, one step down from the Grand Prix Formula Senior, and if time permits he'll be burning up the track by May 12th at Mosport. But with work still to be done on the bullet shaped car, his present race is against time. Paint, tune-up, minor motor work and installation of a windshield are still ahead of him and he'll be spending every spare evening and weekend working on the car at his home at 30 Maple Ave. W. Detroit, Montreal, Mosport, Goderich, and Harewood crowds will all see the racer.

Seek Direction on Ratepayers' Aims

At a brief meeting of the Georgetown Ratepayers Association Tuesday night Al Brewster, secretary of the organization, suggested a speaker should be asked to explain the aims of the ratepayers association. He felt too many people view it as a means of electing or deposing a candidate. It was decided to ask an executive member of Brampton ratepayers group to speak at a future meeting. Mr. Jack Critchlow, treasurer, felt a clean up campaign should be started. He felt the papers and tin can strewn around the streets had created an undesirable impression on visitors to the hockey tournament. In an effort to increase membership, Mr. J. McCauland suggested that the signers of the petition presented to council a few weeks ago be contacted in the hope they would join the association. Looking toward the reporters Mr. Critchlow observed, "The press should build up a ratepayers association rather than being sarcastic." Fed Up "The executive positions still unfilled should be taken by people from all over town," he advocated. "Since I'm sure people are fed up with the troubles of the east end," he went on to announce permission was granted to the association to meet in the council chamber every third Tuesday.

Someone Forgot To Tell the Fish . . . !

If you spot a kook wandering along the Credit River by long rocks to calendars and throwing them into mid-stream, don't run for the happy wagon. He's probably just notifying the trout that it's May already. To the army of anglers who slogged into the kitchen with empty creels late Sunday night there need be no explanation. To them it must have been obvious that the finney set weren't aware of the date.

Small Are Running

But sportsmen can turn their backs on the reluctant salmon tribe who turned up their collective noses at the under water smorgasbord they were offered opening, because it happens there are others in the creeks just itching to be hauled ashore. Perch and smelt are running and you won't even have to supplement them to get them into the net.

Unpredictable

Perch and smelt runs are generally unpredictable as to exact timing. But the first real challenge to eager anglers was April 28, the opening of the trout season. This included speckled, brown, rainbows and rainbow trout (which includes Kamloops trout), Atlantic salmon and ouananiche also are vulnerable beginning April 28.

Limits of Catch are

SPECKLED TROUT — One (1) and an additional 14 in one day, provided the additional 14 in the aggregate weight not more than 10 pounds (except in Elgin, Middlesex and Norfolk Counties: One (1) and an additional nine in the aggregate weight not more than five pounds). RAINBOW TROUT (including Kamloops trout), brown trout and aurora trout — five in one day. ATLANTIC SALMON and OUANANICHE — One in one day.

The speckled trout is found in some of the clear spring streams in the lower part of the province, in areas such as Simcoe, Pickering, Oshawa, Bowmanville, Port Hope. The north has its devotees, too, for results are being shown by speckled trout planted by the Department of Lands and Forests.

Good Systems

From Highway 7 to the borders of Algonquin Park some record fish are taken each year. Also, dozens of good trout streams beckon along the new highway along Lake Superior.

Where, along these northern highways, could a fisherman be fairly sure of a catch? Best answer is to call at the Lands and Forests office in the area you travel; the conservation of streams will have a good idea.

Baskets and Bags

Again this year, the shores of Lake Erie will be the scene for thousands of smelt fishermen from Ontario and the United States. They'll take baskets, bushels, bags and truck loads of the little fish. "This annual run of smelt is very hard to predict," say officials at the Lake Erie District

High School Athletes Will Defend Honours

District Track Meet Saturday At Guelph

When Georgetown District high school track and field athletes ride onto the Ontario Agricultural College campus at Guelph Saturday, it will be to defend the four school track and field championship which they championed last year.

Their chances of duplicating their 1961 feat depends on which side of the ledger you happen to be scanning. In their favour they have the fact that their 1962 team is basically the same group that did it in 1961. Milton, Acton, and Erin should be weaker. Georgetown high enrollment was even larger than it was 12 months ago giving Phys. Ed. instructors Lynn McLaren and Mrs. Volney Ray theoretically a wider selection of material from which to hand pick their athletes.

But points against another District 6 title equal and possibly outweigh the others. Some seniors have had training time cut into by exams and in general training for this one, has been shy of the work that went before the 1961 win. Construction has eliminated much of the school's track and field training area, and runners are limited to short straightaways. The senior girls champ, Liz Boltoms, isn't a high schooler any more which will mean a bigger burden on the junior unit. The biggest equalizing factor is the new points-scoring system by which Georgetown High will be low man on the totem pole. Because of the school's size GIS will receive one point where Acton and Milton will get 1½ and Erin 2.

Some members of the local team have worked out when they could during the Easter holidays to try to hit their peak condition by the weekend, but boys' coach Lynn McLaren told the Herald that the school will be in better shape the following weekend when they try it again in the Spring CWOSSA meet on the same field. He intimated that GIS may even have some CWOSSA champs among the 35 athletes who will bear the red and blue in that one. Final selecting will be made at the time trials being run off yesterday and today. Georgetown had no entry in the CWOSSA meet last spring because it was too early. The intra-school meet was held last fall.

The first blood transfusion, was given to Pope Innocent VIII in 1492.

Almost 99, Death Takes Mrs. Everett

Mrs. Sarah Hayes Wagstaff Everett, a former resident of Georgetown and Glen Williams, died on April 24th in the Orangeville Hospital. Had Mrs. Everett lived until the 13th of May she would have been ninety-nine years of age. She was the mother of the late Mrs. John Evans (Florence) of Georgetown; Mrs. Reg Snyder (Frances) of Weston and Fred Wagstaff of Bolton.

Active Part

Mrs. Everett was active in the Anglican Church in Georgetown, Glen Williams and later in Bolton where she has lived for the past several years. She was very interested in her garden and took an active part in the community life around her. Funeral services were conducted from the Egan Brothers Funeral Home, Bolton, and interment was in Greenwood Cemetery, Georgetown.

Ratepayers Meet in Municipal Chambers

Meetings of Georgetown Ratepayers Association will be held in the Council Chambers from now on. Council okayed an association request Monday, and allotted the chambers to the group on the third Tuesday of each month.

Originally known as Delrex Ratepayers, and later Georgetown East, the association met until recently in the Delrex office building.

Attendance—Jack Critchlow, an Association official, use of the Delrex building was denied recently, and the last two meetings have been held in the auditorium of Wrigglesworth School.

Twenty-Four From Local Mill Attend Quarter Century Dinner

Twenty-four Alliance Paper Mill employees and their wives from the Georgetown division attended the annual 25 Year Club dinner in the Queensway Hotel in St. Catharines Friday night, where assistant manager here, Stan Finlay and Tom Norton of the mill rewinding department, joined the quarter century group.

It was a combined function bringing together all employees with 25 years service or more at mills in Georgetown, St. Catharines and Don Valley divisions, and the crowd exceeded two hundred. It was the largest turnout in the history of the club.

New Corporation

Jack Wright brought greetings from the Georgetown mill, G. H. Howard from Don Valley, and H. J. Sperry from St. Catharines. The main speaker was W. P. Nesbitt, General Manager for the Craft and Fine Paper group of Dominion Tar and Chemical, the parent company of the organization. He reviewed the progress of Alliance in the past twenty years, and compared today with the old days, and stressed the great increase in production and number of employees since then. He also brought the club members up to date on the new corporation headed by Dominion Tire and Chemical and broke it down into its various families.

Floor Show

The floor show featured magicians, an accordionist, and a juggler. The group was chaired by H. E. Karberg, president of the St. Catharines division of the club. In the Georgetown division of the club are 19 active members and 13 retired from the mill.

The German fortress — a thorn to the British in both wars; was once a British possession for 80 years.

Two Share Lions Two Thousand Dollars

Dr. J. H. Chamberlain and George Hewson, of Hewson, Ford and Helson, were the nominal winners in the $2,000 elimination draw the Lions Club's $25 dinner Thursday at the Riviera.

The ticket holders agreed to split the $2,000 prize when only their tickets remained rather than take a chance on all or nothing. Both men shared their half of the prize money with others who jointly purchased the ticket.

Eight other prizes of $25 were given away, one to the holder of each 25th ticket pulled.

Nurses Attend Toronto Convention

Several local Registered Nurses attended the ICNAO convention held in the Royal York Hotel last Thursday, Friday and Saturday. One of the main issues of the convention was much discussion regarding salaries and the fact that so many Canadian nurses are going to the United States where the salaries are much higher than in Canada.

Attending from town were Miss Zena Hopwood, Miss Norma O'Shea and Miss Violet Hand, Mrs. R. G. Hetherington, Mrs. S. Martin and Mrs. C. Wilson.

Says Town Sits Atop Lake Of Gas

Anthony Gas and Oil Explorations are 700 feet down on the newest drilling site, the Mrs. A. McDonald farm between the 4th and 5th lines of Esplanade.

Mr. Anthony told the Herald last week that they would probably have to go down 2,000 to hit gas and expected to reach that level about the 24th of May. The drilling site is one of the six between the 4th and 6th lines which will be probed by the company.

"If I could get the rights, I'd sink shafts all the way down Georgetown's Main St. between the street lights," joked Mr. Anthony, who claims the town is right on top of a lake of gas.
