Local Witnesses Plan --Attendance at Assembly

All members of the Georgetown congregation of Jehovali's Witnesses will be leaving this area shortly to attend the "Courageous Ministers District Assembly" at Civie Stadium, Hamilton, August 3 to 5, it was announced today by Mel Taylor, presiding minister of the group.

This convention will bejust one of twelve such assemblies arranged by the Watch Tower Bible & Tract Society for Jehovah's Witnesses in Canada. Assembly locations will extend from Nanaimo B.C. in the west to Corner Brook. Newf. in the

"An attendance of over 12,000 is anticipated," stated Mr. Taylor. "Delegates will come from Ontario, Quebec and northern states of the United States: At this time when there is such fear in the world, it is important to reaffirm confidence for humankind under Christ's Kingdom. The 'Courageous' Ministers trict. Assembly' is an expression of our faith in the promises of a coming government where people can live on this earth in happiness and security in place of the existing uncertainty."

There are 21 departments.

required to successfully ob-of these departments Rooming which at present is engaged in the largest roomsearching campaign ever to be staged in Hamilton to find sufficient accommodations for visiting delegates. This has always been a unique feature characteristic at all these

Christian assemblies. The convention organization has developed its own system of mass catering so efficiently that the U.S. Army sent their experts down to a former New York gathering to see how it was done. The caleteria manager buys tons not pounds. They expect to serve at least 25,000 meals in three days. The convention director, Thomas R. Janes, 41, sets up 21 separate departments. Each is a story in itself. When operating at full capacity the entire convention staff is made up of 2000 unpaid volunteer workers andthis quality of dedication really gets things done.

The keynote of the convention is a special lecture to be held Sunday, August 5 at 3 p.m. entitled, "Take Courage - God's Kingdom 'Is At Hand." The speaker will be E. D. Rosan, Jr., supervisor
