NEW HAMPSHIRE FARMERETTE LIKES IT HERE

GETTING HER FIRST look at Ontario, Doris Mellett of New Hampshire, is the guest of the Andersons, on the town line between the Glen and Terra Cotta where she will make her home until the end of the month. During July Betty Jean Anderson was Doris' guest on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McDonald near Woodstock, New Hampshire, USA. Here Doris watched the 4-H Club offer one of the young boys on her students some choice trout. The exchange of Farmerettes is worked through the Ontario Junior Farmers.

STEWARTTOWN

Town Meetings Held in Early Esquerring Days

With news of the new manor ship was governed by the Jutteig building being built in fact in Sorel, and afterwards the near future, it might be of the Gore District Council interest to some of our readers. The few meetings were held to note that the first Town at the Standish home for some meeting was held New Years time, then later were held at a Day 1821 at the home of Joseph Fawcett on the 7th Line owned Standish Lot 13, 6th Concession. ADULT TO THIS the exploding population in our schools and the result is a complex problem. But this is one which can be stated in simple terms. How will we teach more and more subjects to more and more students in less and less time? One solution states our state of knowledge is doubling every eight to ten years. Others in charge of the service stand in mind, and the result is a complex problem. An morning at St. John's Church, with Miss Jacky Barclay as organist, next Sunday the Rev. Mr. Joseph Water, Lay Reader at Grace Church Milton, is in charge of the service. Sunday school, our present Clerk was appointed to the office in 1947.

Isaac Bennett, who also kept the grocery store in the part of the building which is now the Community Hall, succeeded him in 1928, and M. C. Lindsay, our present Clerk was appointed to the office in 1947.

HORNBY

Had Front Row Seats At Maple Holocaust

Viewed Terrible Propane Fire

Geoffrey and Jean Drew-Brook were visiting with their cousins Hugh and Wilma Drew-Brook at Maple last Saturday night when the propane gas explosion occurred.

The four were enjoying Hi-Fi music in their basement recreation room when the first blast occurred at 11:15 p.m. A momentary disruption of hydro, along with the concussion of the blast soon made it apparent that this was no lightning bolt.

From the front door an eerie-yellow light not three blocks away could be seen in the sky. Wilma thought a jet had crashed. The roar of the fire sounded like jet engines. The fire was soon visually pinpointed as being at the propane storage yard area, three blocks from the Drew-Brook home. It continued for twenty minutes, constantly interspersed with many small explosions prob. Hail will be sorry to hear he is only caused by combustion of patient in the Milton Hospital again. A speedy rescue team loaded on trucks parked in the yard.

Four large explosions follow. The family and friends of Mrs. Edith Costello were at the Malton airport Sunday afternoon to say goodbye to her and her children Linda and Sue. After a five weeks visit only be described as beheading. With her sister, Mrs. Edna Holden, she is returning to her home in Arizona, USA.

With some of the sensational radio reports it was no wonder that the Houghn Drew-Brook met hordes of people walking up Keele St. for a considerable distance south of Maple at 12:30 p.m. as they left for home, the fire having remained constant for three quarters of an hour.

Several ladies of the district attended the troupe tea at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alan Harrington on Saturday in honour of their daughter Joan who is being married this Saturday.

Donald Leslie had the misfortune of stepping on a nail Saturday night and had to be taken to the doctor on Sunday.
