Consider Calling For Garbage Tenders
Indications that the town may call for garbage collection tenders this year was contained in a short discussion at Monday's council meeting.
Mr. Harrison introduced the matter when he said he would like to see tenders called for a three or five year period.
"No one in their right mind would tender for one year unless they already had the equipment," he said.
Public works chairman Jim Brown said he would have a committee meeting in the near future.

WHAT COUNCIL DID
Barrager Boosts Town Manager
Cr. Don Barrager brought forward a pet project, engaging a town manager, during a council discussion Monday.
When Deputy Reeve Hunter complained that a town workmap had been posted to check excavations on Valleyview Rd. during a road project, and opened that either the works superintendent, general foreman or town foreman should have been doing the job, Cr. Barrager said this indicated the value of a town manager.
Don't expect to get such a man under twelve or fifteen thousand dollars" warned Cr. Harrison. "And he would want a lot of staff. It could run into a lot of money."
"I would estimate three thousand meetings a month and that would be some saving," replied Cr. Barrager.
Mayor Sargent said the Chamber of Commerce had talked about sponsoring an evening for discussion of pros and cons of a manager, but the deputy reeve said he thought the Chamber had dropped the idea.
If that is perhaps council should be looking into it now, Cr. Barrager said. However, there were estimating contractors for Mr. Hunter's election, but he is out of the picture because of the vacation period.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess McHenry attended the Oct. 10th and 11th of the 1st in Strathroy on Friday night.
Mr. and Mrs. Mike Norton and family attended a Christ the Family's Week camp at Five Oaks in Elm last week.
Mr. Garrison of Georgetown, representing the Geeseons, took the service at Ballinatal on Saturday morning.
Mrs. Beth McHenry has completed her second year course in Home Economics sponsored by the Department of Education. School at the College of Education in Toronto.

Salvation Ceremony For Hanover Couple

A quiet wedding took place at Hanover when Major H. Mayara united in marriage Mrs. Catherine E. Mordiek of Hanover and Mr. Ruben Richardson of Toronto, on Saturday, August 4th. The bridal party was situated in Salvation Army uniforms.
The bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Mr. Andrew Mann of Georgetown.
Mrs. Carl Stewart of Hanover was bridesmaid, while Mr. Carl Stewart acted as groomsman. During the signing of the register, Mrs. Major Mordiek sang the Wedding Prayer.
After the reception, Mr. and Mrs. Richardson left for a trip to points East and showers of congratulations and good wishes. The couple will reside in Hanover.
Guests from a distance came from Georgetown, Brantford, Navar, Clear Lake and Elm.

New Pro Choice of 65 Applicants

A MAN who knows golf and equipment, is Georgetown Golf and Country Club's new pro. The past seven years has been with Campbells of Canada and was in charge of all professional accounts across the country when he submitted his application along with 64 others seeking the position. Prior to his years with Campbells, Doug was an assistant pro at Okdale for six years. To prove he could beat the little white sphere with the hole in the middle, he set an 18-hole record at North Hallow, that being eliminated by Gary Cowan on the first playoff hole. He also set an 18-hole record at North Hallow, that being eliminated by Gary Cowan on the first playoff hole. He also set an 18-hole record at North Hallow, that being eliminated by Gary Cowan on the first playoff hole. There was an anniversary cake Doug calls the rolling course, and a happy evening with family and a few close friends. His new job officially on Monday
