

NOBODY CHALLENGES THIS UMP'S DECISION

Peter Jones, Georgetown

GET THE PICTURE? Player runs to second and is safe. Umpire calls him out. Cries rule No. 8, Thou Shalt Not Steal. It could have happened at the challenge ball game Thursday night between the Elders of St. Andrew's United Church and the Board of Stewards. The umpire was the church minister, Rev. Kelvin C. Johnston. Above Ken South waits for the next pitch to be delivered to catcher Fred Zorge while Rev. Johnston peers over his shoulder.

JOAN BAKER, wife of church elder David Baker reaches for a high one at the ball game between the elders and stewards of St. Andrew's United Church, played at the Harrison Public School grounds. The groups became so enthused over playing the game they have issued a challenge to St. John's United Church boards. Incidentally the elders won the game 21 to 6.

Teeners Plan Sunday Afternoons at Riviera

"Dancing by the river on a Sunday afternoon" will be available to Georgetown and district teen agers at the Riviera on the afternoon of September 9th from 2 till 5 and if the response is worthy each Sunday afternoon thereafter. Determined to overcome the boredom of a Sunday afternoon, two of that much maligned group known as teen agers, Marina Fraser, and Johnny Rawlings, Delrex Blvd., approached Riviera owner Emil Zuber with the idea. He was enthusiastic and he in turn approached CHIC radio. As a result Johnny Price of CHIC will spin the discs and MC the show. There is also the possibility of live radio broadcasting from the dance.

The admission charge is fifty cents, and soft drinks will be available. However, to the first thirty guests the pop will be free. It is quite permissible to come stag, but not permissible to wear jeans or slims. The two young sponsors plan to put announcements on the high school bulletin board, telling of the indoor and outdoor dance. For the benefit of the parents, they would like it known that the management will be in attendance at all times.

WHAT COUNCIL DID

Works Employee Says Corruption

No public statement has yet been made by council on last week's suspension of town works superintendent Geoffrey Bligh and foreman George Rowe. Tuesday, Mayor Sargent said, in answer to a ratepayers query, that the matter would be cleared up as quickly as possible. Following the regular council meeting, council met in a closed committee session with town solicitor George H. Brown, to discuss the suspensions. Earlier a member of the works staff, Thomas Slater, revealed that he was the instigator of an enquiry which led to the suspensions. He claimed he had gone to a town official 4 months ago, later to the police and then to Mayor Hyde with evidence which he thought showed corruption. "If no action is taken tonight, I'm going to call the crown attorney," he threatened.

Owen Sound Ousts Baseball Midget Team

Georgetown Midget All Stars dropped out of the Ontario Baseball playoffs by dropping their second game to Owen Sound, Saturday, 61 at two runs in the 6th on 2 singles, a walk, and 2 Georgetown errors. Georgetown again stranded 10 base runners, failing to come up with the big hits when needed.

Georgetown had one run on two hits and two errors. Owen Sound had six runs on four hits and three errors.

Local People in CNE Demonstrations

Paul Barber, who operates the local Barber Piano & Organ firm, was prominent at the Canadian National Exhibition this year. Mr Barber was one of the demonstrators at the Baldwin booth in the new Better Living building and many local people heard him as they stopped to see the display.

Another Main Streeter Jim Walsh was at the Ex every day with Singer Sewing, and Mrs. Gord Inglis, Mrs. Norma Long of town, and Fred Hutson of Norval worked in the Chambers Food Club booth in the Queen Elizabeth Building.

LEGION NOTES
by Andy A. St. Laurent

I hate to see this happening as much as the next guy, but the best part of the summer has gone by and we are heading towards fall. Fall means reactivating such things as general meetings, Glee Club practices, Dart league, Cribbage league, etc., and of course, ANDY A. will be wishing his column on a more regular basis.

What has summer been to me so far? Well I worked harder this summer than I did last summer, made more money, but spent more as well, played more golf this summer than I did the last but shot worse scores (figure that one out) and my evaluation of Georgetown and its residents has increased by 14 per cent.

How was your summer? Here I want to give you advance notice that the first general meeting of the membership will be held at the branch on Thursday, September the 27th, so keep that date in mind. Further notices will be published later on during the month.

GLEE CLUB
The first practice of the fall program for all glee club members will be held at the Legion auditorium on the 9th of September at 1 p.m. All
