

THEY EAT THEIR TROPHIES

MINOR BALL STARS AGREE — awards are better if you can eat and drink them. For the past few weeks the players making the best showing in each of the regular minor baseball games have qualified for Dairy Queen awards courtesy of Mrs. Sunnucks of the Dairy Queen on Guelph St. Helping themselves to milk shakes, sundaes and cones are this week's winners, Merv Denmore, Brian Beaumont, Eugene Inglis, Rod Alcorn, Keith Gillatt and Phil Jones.

Says Trade Unions Were Ignored in Exhibition

"Complete and utter disregard of members, trade unionists and all local New Democratic supporters" was the charge levelled in a letter read to council Monday from R. W. Francis, secretary of the Georgetown Area group, which commented on the recent industrial exhibition.

Trade unions had pledged their support for the exhibition some time ago when asked by Cr. Rex Cock, the letter said, but had not been approached for any specific part in the show.

The letter also noted that canisters on a fine exhibit, the public figures present were representative of one political party (Liberal leader John W. Sarny and Halton and Peel Liberal federal members Dr. Harry Harley and Bruce Bear) and among the official guests and reminded council the "The NDP polled the strongest labor vote in Georgetown's history in the recent federal election."

Shows

Mrs. H. T. Hamilton of Guelph and Mrs. P. W. Foster of Hespeler were joint hostesses at a miscellaneous shower at the latter's home Mrs. J. B. Dadds, assisted by Mrs. W. McDermott, entertained at the former's summer home, The Pinnacle, at Alton. Mrs. George Wilkinson, Cheltenham, entertained with a shower and an evening buffet.

Girl friends of the bride in Toronto gave her a pantry shower and three separate parties were held by the members of the Sun Life Assurance company. The bride was presented with oven ware, spice rack and spices and an automatic percolator urn.

BALLINAFAD

Honour Bride-Elect With Two Showers

Miss Doreen Smith, a bride elect of this month was honoured at two showers this past week. On Thursday night a group of former school friends were invited to the home of Miss Marilyn Madill where a social time was enjoyed by all.

On Monday night, Mrs. Dave McNery entertained at another surprise party. Everyone took part in some very amusing contests and after the bride-to-be opened the gifts, a delicious lunch was served and at both gatherings Doreen made a very fitting reply, thanking the hostess and her friends.

B.C. Telegram

Miss Jean Short was mistress of ceremonies and among the best wishes received was a telegram from Dr. Ralph Hilltop of Vancouver, B.C.

For a honeymoon to the Maritimes, Mrs. Anderson chose a green silk linen dress and jacket, with matching hat, black patent shoes and bag, white gloves and a white orchid corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson are making their home at 1133 Don Mills Road, Don Mills, Ontario.

Parties

Several parties were held in honor of the former Miss Marlene Hamilton, of Orangeville, whose marriage to Don Anderson of Terra Cotta was an event of mid-August.

On August 6th, the bride's mother, Mrs. Harold Hamilton of 51 Mill Street, Orangeville, held an afternoon tea in her daughter's honor. Pouring tea were the grandmothers of the bride and groom, Mrs. O. Hamilton and Mrs. A. McDonald together with Mrs. F. Short, Mrs. W. McDermott, Mrs. Wilson Bryan, and Mrs. Cecil Monary.

Serving and showing the gifts and trousseau were Nancy Dods, Mabel Foster, Roseanne Hamilton, Lisa Drolet, Mrs. N. Giffon, Mrs. P. Foster, Mrs. C. Foster, Marlon Downey, Betty Jean Anderson, Linda Foster and Mrs. Ray Anderson.

Receiving the guests at the door with Mrs. Hamilton and Marlene was the groom's mother, Mrs. C. Anderson of Terra Cotta.

Anderson-Hamilton Wedding In Westminster, Orangeville

Westminster United Church, Orangeville, decorated with baskets of mums and gladioli, was the setting for the double-ring ceremony uniting in marriage Kathryn Marlene Hamilton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hamilton, 51 Mill Street, Orangeville and James McDonald (Don) Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Anderson of Terra Cotta.

Dr. R. Davidson officiated for the ceremony which took place on Saturday, August 11, at 3 p.m.

Given in marriage by her father, Marlene wore a gown of floor-length silk organza over gelutred satin. The gown featured a V-shaped neckline with lace applique, lily-pointed sleeves and a bell-shaped skirt with a slight bustle effect. The wedding dress was designed and created by the bride. Her bouffant, shoulder-length veil was of French illusion and she carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses with stephanotis tied with streamers.

Yellow Silk

The bride's attendants included Miss Inne Stubbs, Orangeville, as maid of honor and Miss Jean Glowne, Orangeville, and Miss Betty Jean Anderson, of Terra Cotta, sister of the groom as bridesmaids. They were attired in yellow silk organza over taffeta gowns with bell-shaped skirts. They carried rose-colored carnations and their headresses were yellow bouffant veils, each attached to a single large, yellow rose. David Anderson of Terra Cotta was best man for his brother, with Raymond Anderson, Brampton, also a brother, as usher together with the bride's brother Terry Hamilton of Guelph.

Miss Sandra Sproule of Georgetown was soloist for the ceremony and sang the Wedding Prayer and the Lord's Prayer. She was accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Grant McDonald, Orangeville, who played the wedding music and also played softly during the service.

A reception followed in the Westminster church auditorium. The bride's mother, Mrs. Harold Hamilton, received her guests seated in French blue silk dresses and wearing a corsage

Old Mill in Operation Is Museum Possibility

Offer of a complete old mill — the original stone building with fully operative equipment — was reported to the Halton museum board members at their meeting in the museum in the Kelso dam conservation area park recently by museum curator Major Ial Newman. Possibilities were eagerly discussed and a committee will investigate.

Apparently this is the oldest mill in Ontario with equipment of this type which can still be used. It would be left on its present site.

Impressive changes in the museum were admired by the board. French doors and a large window replacing big barn doors to reveal the view of the escarpment, cement block work for the large fireplace and chimney, the curator's office as a museum exhibit were also inspected.

The curator said as well as the 400 items on display he has a list of close to 600 more which are all available. Board member Jack Pemberton will lend two carriages a month from his large collection of old vehicles, including four old-fashioned sleighs which could be used for rides outdoors. Ice boats can also be obtained for use on the lake in winter.

The forge building has been painted and a new canopy made. Work here should all be done this month and the forge will be completely ready for display as a museum exhibit.

Duff Alexander's father who owned the farm. New roofing and repair of loose boards were discussed. Although originally Major Newman was to work just part time beginning the middle of September, the amount of work remaining decided the board to retain him full time for the time being.

Everything required by the fire inspector has been completed, including a fire door upstairs. Fire fighting equipment (with a fog nozzle for minimum damage to exhibits) will be purchased. The hose will also be used to water gardens and flower beds which are visualized around the museum in the future.

Financial report showed the board running within its budget. Economies have been made by the curator who obtained suitable doors, old newel posts, windows, etc. from wreckers' yards.

Donations are arriving steadily, being catalogued, tagged and receipts given.

After the meeting members went from their picnic benches — improvised accommodation in the former horse stable of the barn — to see a film made by a Kitchener television station. A cut version had been shown on a program several weeks ago.

This complete film included many shots of the museum, the curator showing two Georgetown visitors the exhibits, Duff and Bill Alexander who live on the farm the artificial lake and dam.
