

EVER WONDER HOW THEY DID IT?

CLOCKS GO BACK Saturday night as Georgetown returns to Standard Time, and the biggest local timepiece making the transition will be the clock atop the post office tower. If you've ever wondered how they did it, this candid shot by Herald photographer Peter Jones should satisfy your curiosity. If it doesn't there's always the other explanation (the real one) They simply stop it for an hour.

Return Local Men to Anglican Directorate

Two local men, Jack Armstrong and Thomas Parry were returned as executive officers of Halton Deaneery of the Brotherhood of Anglican Churchmen at a dinner meeting Thursday in St. George's Church. Mr. Armstrong will continue for another year as president, and Mr. Parry as secretary-treasurer of the organization which embraces Anglican churches in various parts of the county. St. Catharines lawyer Robert Welsh was guest speaker at the dinner. His talk, entitled "The Call is Clear" stressed the responsibilities of laymen in the church. At the suggestion of Captain Kelly of Burlington, who is the deanery vice president, the BAC pledged aid to the mission for seamen at the Port of Hamilton. It was also decided to have another service of witness this year for deanery men, a project which proved successful last spring in St. Christopher's Church, Burlington. William Swallow of Burlington, diocesan BAC president, brought greetings from the senior group. Preceding the dinner, Rev. John McMullin, conducted an evensong service in the church with organist George Dakker and the junior girls and boys choir taking part. Lessons were read by Thomas Parry and William Chaplin.

Car Advertisements Show Dillon Estate

Mr. Robert Addy is again a patient at Sunnybrook Hospital in Toronto. He was home only a few days when he was taken back. We hope it will only be for a short time and then he will be able to be home to stay.

Mr. Burwell Burgess passed away last week. He lived in this community nearly all his life and was well known among the stonemasons. Our sympathy is extended to his sister, Mrs. Monte Logan, who is the one member of the family that lives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Martin are back to their home in the village after spending a lovely autumn at their cottage near Huntsville.

If you were watching Ben Casey on TV last week (and who doesn't) you saw some of the beautiful Dillon estates on the 10th line as background for the advertising of the Ford cars. It was thrilling to see the spots we know so well on the screen.

There has been a great improvement made to Cliff Davidson's field by the bridge. It is cleaned up and levelled and certainly helps to make our main street more attractive.

It is nice to see Bill Wheeler home from hospital and will be back to school shortly.

Mrs. John Hepburn moved to Hamilton last week. She will be going back to her hometown after living here in the village for a number of years. We wish her well in her new home.

Last Wednesday afternoon, the United Church Women held a cleaning and scrubbing bee at the church.

The new addition is ready at the Apple Products factory; the apples are harvested so there will soon be full steam ahead.

There was a good crowd at the J. H. Hoare auction sale on Saturday despite the wet afternoon. Many items were of interest to antique seekers. Mr. and Mrs. Hoare were able to be in the village for the day and spent it with Mr. and Mrs. Bert Bullock.

If you are one of those who enjoy mushrooms, you'll no doubt have had your fill this fall. Never have they been so bountiful around these parts. Delicious!

On Nov. 4th United Church services of worship time changes to 10 a.m. local time.

Mrs. H. Steinfalt is in St. Joseph's Hospital, Guelph. We hope she gets along well and will soon be home again.

Tributes to Editor In Feather Fancier

Many fine tributes were paid to the late Corey C. Herrington in the Oct. issue of the Feather Fancier which he founded, 16 years ago, and edited until his sudden death in August of this year. These tributes came from all across Canada and the United States; from those who knew him personally and from others who knew him only through correspondence and through the pages of Feather Fancier. Ye-day the Feather Fancier has a new Editor and Publisher, Corey R. Herrington. Corey moved to Stewarttown from Georgetown with his parents and was one of the young people who took part in the activities of the village, a few years ago; later moving to Ballinacraig when his father purchased Sunset Farm. After his marriage he again lived in the village until he built his own present home near Ballinacraig. A photograph of Corey, with his wife Pauline and children, three-year-old Corinne and one-year-old Sandra is featured on the front page of the October Feather Fancier. On behalf of his friends in this community we extend our best wishes to Corey and wish him every success in publishing his monthly paper, Feather Fancier.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Grant and Kenneth visited in Scarborough on Sunday and attended the Christening party of Paul Eric, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Blunt.

Paul Eric is a grandson of Mrs. M. Patterson and the late Mr. Patterson and a great-grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Schoales who lived in Stewarttown a number of years ago.

The Rev. R. S. Cjobrook, a former rector of this parish, was the guest preacher at St. Stephen's, Hornby, on Sunday, and several from St. John's congregation attended the service. Rev. Cjobrook is at present in charge of the parish of Hornby and McNab.

Several from the district are taking the opportunity of attending Night School classes, being held in Georgetown High School.

Sympathy of the community is extended to Mrs. Willett and Mrs. C. Smith in the passing of a son and brother, Mr. Wellington Willett who died early Monday morning, in Georgetown and District Memorial Hospital.
