Rebels Lose Conference Title by a Single Point

Waterloo-Oxford is Just a Little Bit Better

The football team that deserved a better fate is dead. Georgetown High School Rebels' record for the 1962 season is over. The Rebels lost their 1962 conference title by a single point when Waterloo-Oxford retained unbeaten by scraping by Preston 13-12 the same afternoon.

A Preston win would have forced a playoff, and there is little doubt in observers' minds that Rebels had the muscle to vault to the championship from here.

In their only loss of an almost son Marchand, Frazer, a footballer's campaign the Rebels Carney and Barnes blocked surrendered 15-14 to the soon well Gord Lee turned an annual champs after pushing the their line defensive effort, and heavier bodies all over the though he didn't score. Bob Wrigglesworth was a standout on offense.

The traditional cry "There's always next year" stuck in the throats of some of the GHS Rebels. They were sadly aware that ten first line starters will not be around after graduation crop is reaped next June.

One Year Better. This year's squad was one of the finest football aggregations ever to sink cleats in the mud at stadium and head coach Lynn McLaren is philosophical about losing his key men. "They're products of the junior team and this season we had six or seven in junior ranks that could make the jump to senior ball any time," he told the Herald after the action game.

"And the rest of the regulars will be one year better. To get a look at the talent he will have to work with in 1963 coach McLaren used his entire bench in the last fling and it paid off with a shutout. The first half was unimpressive as Georgetown opened a 14-0 advantage. It would have been more, but for penalties. More than once long yardage plays were called back because of rule infractions. And on one Pennek was into the end zone only to have it nullified by an offside. The score plays were from inside the five. McGill carried on a sneak over centre and Pennek on a dive play. Heppes converted both.

In the second half Georgetown went to the air. McGill threw strikes to his ends Martin and Richardson and wing backs Pete Forgrave and Don Sargent. A 60 yard march with Peter Forgrave at quarterback was capped with a three yard sneak and the convert made it 21-0. A 40 yard pass and run play was called back because of clipping penalties. But McGill stuck to the air and threw to Richardson for 12 then Pennek for another 20 to move into scoring position. Again Gord Lee dove over the left side for the major score. When the pass attack bogged because his receivers suddenly developed greasy fingers, McGill pitched to Pennek for a 45 yard TD scamper that brought it to the final score.

The offense went 200 yards on the ground and 100 via the pass in crushing the team that managed only one win all season.

The annual meeting of the Scout Group Committee was held in the church on Monday night but due to the poor turnout of parents and members, most of the business had to be left over until another time.

The guest minister on Sunday for communion service at all three churches on the Ballinafad charge was Rev. Brearly of Burlington who was a former friend of the church people in this district when Mr. and Mrs. Gibb were here.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Lawr and Mr. M Norton attended the 125th anniversary service at St. John's Church in Georgetown on Sunday evening and heard a wonderful message by Dr. McKenzie who is the superintendent of Home Missions.

Wellington Willett Papermill Employee

A Provincial Paper, Ltd. employee in the Maintenance Department, Wellington Willett, 60, of 11 Ontario Street, died at Georgetown Hospital on October 22nd following a lengthy illness.

Born at Lisle, the son of William and Mary McKinnon Willett, his family moved to Glen Williams when he was a child. He continued to live there after his marriage to Ellen James until they moved to Georgetown, twenty years ago.

Mr. Willett enlisted in the Army in World War 2, but was injured at training camp. He later served as a civilian driver at No 1 RCAF Depot in Toronto. He rejoined the Provincial Mill staff after the war.

Predeceased by one son, Laurel Robert, he leaves his wife, five daughters, Mrs. Herbert Robinson (Doreen), Mrs. Gerald Feenley (Winifred), Mrs. Arthur Sheppard (Mary), Mrs. Clifford Norton (Heleen) and Mrs. Margaret Wyllie, all of Georgetown, his mother, and a sister, Mrs. Cecil Smith, of Stewarttown. There are three grandchildren.

Rev. Ronald Stubbly of St. Alban's Anglican Church, Glen Williams, conducted the funeral service, Wednesday at the Harold C. McCure Funeral Home and interment was in Greenwood Cemetery. Pall bearers were Grover Norton, Arthur Norton, William Norton, Harvey Garvin, William Pugham and Barry Clarke.

Points Need For Sidewalk Repairs

Ratepayer Milton Barker told council Monday that the sidewalk on the Main St North bridge needs repairs and that the bridge should have a light Council promised action on repairs but indicated it would be difficult to provide bridge lighting at present.

CARS DAMAGED IN WINDSOR ROAD ACCIDENT

Cars driven by Jack Mould of Toronto and Ema Louise Seckington of 45 Prince Charles Drive were damaged in an accident at the corner of No. 7 Highway and Windsor Rd. Friday.

The Mould car, a 1950 Dodge was westbound in the eastbound lane passing another car when it collided with the front end of the 1958 Meteor driven by Mrs. Seckington, which was stopped at the Windsor Road stop sign. Cat Mike Christopher, who made the investigation placed the damage at close to $300.

CRUISER ACCIDENT DAMAGE IS $1,000

A collision has knocked the town's 1961 Chev Cruiser out of commission. The car was being used by Cat Mike Christopher for patrolling Tuesday morning when it collided with a 1962 Fargo truck driven by John Waulby of Cheltenham. The cruiser was westbound on Guelph St. and the Waulby truck was making a left turn into a lane. Damage was estimate at $1,000.

St. Andrew's Couples Go Masquerading

A variety of games which tested the skill and agility of members of St. Andrew's Couples Club featured a Halloween masquerade party, Saturday in a suitably decorated church hall.

Following a brief business period at which the constitution was read and approved by members, costumes were judged by Mrs. K. Johnston and Mrs. H. Maier. Prizes were awarded to Mr. and Mrs. John Pickup as the best dressed couple, Mrs. James Munro, best dressed lady, Grant Greenaway, best dressed man and Mrs. Helen Stewart for best disguise.

A devotional period, led by Mr. and Mrs. John Pickup was followed by refreshments. The next meeting is planned for Nov. 24th with program to be announced later.

The sympathy of the community is extended to Mrs. A. Himes who is in Windsor this week attending the funeral of her brother.

Unusual Weather as Snow Halts Plowmen

The Halton Plowing Match can boast of a most unusual incident. The Plowing Match scheduled for Saturday, October 27th, was postponed because of snow-to Saturday, November 3rd.

Previous matches have been interrupted with rain and cold weather, however, the sudden snow storm made it necessary to delay the match.

The President of the Halton Plowmen's Association, Mr. Stan May, announced that the winter program would continue as planned, except for the change in date.

This year's Match includes eight plowing classes, farm machinery demonstrations, and a Queen of the Furrow competition.

Council promised action on repairs but indicated it would be difficult to provide bridge lighting at present.
