

THESE KEGLERS MEET KEEN COMPETITION

GEORGETOWN'S ENTRIES in the tough Inter-county Bowling League are about as good a pair of representatives as ever indulged in pin-busting since the league began a couple of seasons back. The local teams compete against teams from Streetsville, Acton, Oakville, Lakeshore, Dixie and Brampton and in both the A and B League, Georgetown is contesting the top spot. Members on the A team (above) are George Barber and Don Wilkes (seated) Tom Graham, Jack Timpon, Glenn Gibbs and Shal Lawr.

MEMBERS OF THE B TEAM are Tom Kirby and Hank Chaplin (seated), Nick Brown, G. Nurta, Gerry Wasyluk, and Frank Ferguson.

CURLING CHATTER

Bob MacArthur from the

North Halton GOLF and COUNTRY CLUB

The open week at the club could not be considered anything but a roaring success any way you look at it. Most of the former members were out at least once to work out those kinks that have built up during the winter. And the visitors and prospective members were out in full force, too. Short games of four ends were played and some instructions were given to the beginners.

Who was the first to throw the rocks for the year? After some sneaky questioning the best that I could come up with was that President Stu Phillips, Honorary Chairman Oliver Hunter and Social Chairman Mac MacKinnon played golf Monday afternoon and when they came into the clubhouse, decided to see how the ice was before the other members got out that evening, but who has a better right to throw the first rock than those three?

The ice on Monday evening got a little sticky after a number of games were played but that can be expected from newly made ice. By the end of the week the surface was as good as midwinter ice and everybody was very pleased with the playing surface.

The painting of the whole ice surface with white paint before the final floods sure lets the house, painted in red and blue, stand out very clearly. It was an experiment that will pay off during the whole season for the players, as they can see exactly where their stones are resting.

All the improvements have not been made in the clubhouse. The west parking lot at the end of the clubhouse has been smoothed and gravelled. This will make for smoother parking and assist in the removal of snow.

The Saturday get-together of members and friends sure had the old clubhouse rocking on its foundations. The pig tails and spare ribs sure make a greasy, delicious dinner. And there was plenty for everyone, thanks to the planning of the social committee under Mac MacKinnon and the co-operation of the Spicers in the kitchen. When is the next one coming up?

The Games Committee, under the chairmanship of Bob Costley have drawn up the schedule for the first club competition which will run to December 14th. There are 28 teams in the club draw and the usual play-off will be the week before Christmas.

Quite a number of the regular players are off this week to try their hand at hunting in the northern and central Ontario hunting regions. This makes for quite a scramble to fill the team for the league games, but when the nimrods return the club competitions will settle down to a more even keel. Hope each and every hunter fills his licence this year, but if not, that all return to home safe without any hunting accidents. Good luck, all.

The installation of the intercom system in the club-rooms, locker rooms and out on the ice will be a big boon for those answering the phone.

KID HOCKEY
By J. Vales

From the results of last Saturday's exhibition games at the John St. ice palace, we are looking forward to an exciting season of Kid Hockey this year with teams in all leagues being fairly well balanced for the start of the league next Saturday.

A number of pieces of hockey equipment were left at the arena last Saturday, so we ask parents to make certain your boy's name is clearly marked on all hockey gear to facilitate its return to the proper owner.

So let's see a good turnout of spectators for the games this coming Saturday.
