Plan Fine Arts School In the Hockley Valley

The Arts & Crafts of Georgetown met at the home of Mrs. S. W. Orr, Market St., on Nov. 15th.

Business included a financial statement of the recent exhibition and sale, also nominations for the 1963 executive.

Mrs. Lingwood acquainted the group with the Hockley Valley School of Fine Arts and Crafts, which is now in the planning stage. It is sponsored by local residents, and holds its first summer session in 1963. Courses are planned in crafts, fashion designs, folk music and dancing, theatre, etc. Its success depends on ideas, financial and moral support from interested persons and groups.

Miss Dorothy Stone reminded members of the fine showing at our local art gallery, House Sol, and Mrs. D. W. Baxter mentioned the display of national gallery paintings now in the public library.

Mrs. L. E. Jacquith of Terra Cotta gave a very interesting talk on Indian Crafts. She spoke of her growing interest in Indian Crafts, after seeing these people working in their own surroundings, while on her travels with her husband in New Mexico, Alaska, etc. Her colored slides showed the different tribes in their forms of art.

Examples of pottery, basketry, and weaving were examined by the group. Assisting Mrs. Orr, with afternoon tea were: Mrs. Harry P. Clarke, Mrs. John Mills, Miss Laura Treble and Mrs. Daphne Lingwood.

Businesswomen Told of Elizabeth Fry Society

The Business & Professional Women's Club met in the Turquoise Room at the McClellan Hotel on Monday evening for their regular dinner meeting. Miss Jean Mackenzie, the president, presided. Mrs. Rutherford of the Elizabeth Fry Society, Toronto, guest speaker was introduced by Miss Marion Robinson.

Mrs. Rutherford who is a volunteer worker with the Society gave to the club a very graphic talk on the work of the society. Their objective is not only to help girls and women who have been in either the Mercer or Don jails or other such institutions but to work to find out why they have been there. They also try to implement legislation to correct unfair penal laws, they have been successful in a number of cases in this field, and it is partially through them that the Inglewood Home at Brampton has been started. This home educates first offenders in a trade such as hair dressing, sewing, cooking, or office work and lets them to take their place in society.

Drug Addicts

Girls and women coming from prison can go to the Elizabeth Fry Home on Millland Street, Toronto, where they are guided by professional case workers who help them secure positions, outfit them with proper clothes and let them stay at the home until they are back on their feet again. She also told of the parties that are given at Mercer every month and at the Don Jail every other month, of giving books and playing cards to the inmates of the Don where there are no recreational facilities at all. A shocking fact was that half of the women offenders are drug addicts and that this is why they commit various crimes to obtain money. Sometimes as much as $20 a day is required to satisfy their craving. Another shocking fact was that most of the women and girls start on this road to destruction because of their home life when they are young, either from a broken home or where the parents have been too strict or that there has been a glaring lack of guidance.

Mrs. Elizabeth Buck thanked Mrs. Rutherford and presented her with a gift.

Mrs. Ada Wilkinson was initiated as a new member of the club, and presented with the club emblem pin by the president.

Careers Preview

Mrs. Jean Rundle gave a successful report on the Rummage Sale held last Saturday which realized over $300. It was moved that next year's (or the 4th) donation of $300 forwarded to the Georgetown and District Memorial Hospital. It was also moved to join the Elizabeth Fry Society as corporate members. The report was given on the progress of the 'Careers Preview' program that is going to be given at the High School when it is hoped to have five speakers who will talk on various careers available for young women in their particular company. It is hoped to have someone from Chelaine Magazine, Eaton's, Steel Company of Canada, TCA, and the Ontario Hospital Services.

Miss Jean and Miss Margery Mackenzie will be hostesses for the club Christmas party to be held on the 10th of December.

at their home. Members were told particulars will be contained in the bulletin they will receive shortly. Mrs. Alison Bradley gave a brief talk on 'Comparisons' gleaned from her recent trip to England. The meeting adjourned after the club luncheon.

A heart attack at his home on Wednesday evening, November 21st was fatal for William Edward Younsaid, 57, of Norval. He had been road superintendent of Esquering Township for 17 years.

Korea Discussed By Mission Group

The scripture was from Galatians 1, verses 9-14 and 21-23 and the bible study was taken from Acts 9 and 10 and was the final study from Acts as in the new year a new book, "The Word and the Way" will be studied.

The theme study was from "On Asia's Rim" which is the new study book and deals with the islands in between, namely Hong Kong, Taiwan (Formosa), Korea and Okinawa. At the meeting the first island to be studied and discussed was Korea. As previously mentioned this was the last of the Unit meetings for 1962 and it was generally agreed that all the meetings were both enjoyable and well attended. LEGION NOTES

CALYPSO NIGHT
 A reminder to one and all that Friday night is Calypso night at the auditorium. To those of you who have never heard live and real West Indian Calypso music or seen the Limbo, then I suggest you be there.

Calypso music, steel bands and limbo dances were all originated from the West Indies and can be performed by almost anyone, but only West Indians can do it 100 per cent.

The Limbo is a dance in which one man or woman in a series of rhythmic shuffles, passes beneath a stick held at chest height by two persons. He inclines backward and each time he passes under the stick is lowered a little until it is at hip height or less. He is not permitted to touch the floor with anything but his feet at any time, great physical strength, coordination and suppleness are required to perform this dance.

Unusual Dancing
 So if you wish to see some unusual dancing and hear some real fine calypso music, be there Friday evening and hear Lord Power and his touring calypso group. Music for dancing will be provided by Aubrey and His Top-Hatters. Meeting: General meeting, Thursday evening, at the

Candidate Criticizes McNeilly, No Speech

Finance chairman Bob McNeilly was criticized by a council aspirant, Harrison Wood, for not speaking at Thursday's nomination meeting. Mr. Wood expressed his criticism to the council Monday. Cr. McNeilly explained that because of illness in the family he had gone home after being nominated, but noticed he would be one of the last speakers and planned to return in time. "When I got back to the meeting at 11:20 I found it was over," he said. "However, there will be a statement made in the press this week."
