

Wears Grandmother's Ring In North Carolina Wedding

In a triple ring ceremony on Saturday, Oct. 28, Miss Beverly Ann Dewhurst, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dewhurst of 1862 Burchard Drive, Charlotte, N.C., was united in marriage to Jerry Parker Ratcliffe, son of Mrs. C. W. Ratcliffe, of 1008 Calhoun St., Monroe, and the late Mr. Ratcliffe De May.

The ceremony was officiated at the 7:30 a.m. service by pastoright in Monroe's First Presbyterian Church. The bride is a former resident of Georgetown and Milton.

Mrs. D. B. Gots, organist, played the wedding music. Mrs. Fred Tolley sang "Through the Years," "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The vows were spoken in an altar setting of green and white. A prayer bench was arranged before a basket filled with giant chrysanthemums and gladioli, which centred a tree of candles, flanked by white tapers in spiral candleholders.

Completing the decorations were standards of Oregon fern and palms in each window was a single white taper with ivy.

For the ceremony of signing the marriage certificate the wedding party retired from the sanctuary by a special arranged bridal aisle, marked by a white aisle cloth and lined with white tapers in candleholders attached with fern sprays.

For the third ring, the bride used her grandmother's ring.

Escorted by her father, who gave her hand in marriage, the bride wore a wedding gown of white silk organza, with Alençon lace applique, which featured a fitted bodice with scalloped neckline, embroidered with pearls and long lace sleeves.

The very full skirt edged in front over tiers of lace, extended into a chapel train. Her veil, bordered with lace, was worn mantilla style, and she carried a white lace-covered Bible with a white orchid, showered with ribbons tied with elephantine.

Mrs. Bobbie Hamilton of Charlotte was matron of honor. She wore a street length dress of apricot satin designed with square neckline, fitted bodice, and a side bow.

Her matching headband was detailed with a side bow, her shoes were dyed to match, and she wore white gloves. She carried a heart-shaped bouquet of maline and gold Chalice roses.

Bridesmaids were: Mrs. John D. Williams, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Earl Parker, cousin of the bridegroom, both of Monroe. Junior bridesmaids included: Miss Lynda Wood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Wood of Georgetown, Ontario, Canada, and Miss Mary Donaldson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Donaldson, of Toronto, Ontario, Canada, both cousins of the bride.

They were gowned in peppermint satin with matching headbands, dyed to match shoes, and white gloves. They carried hearts of Chalice roses and maline, and wore sterling silver hearts with set in stones, the gifts of the bride.

Danniro Parker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Parker of Monroe, was the flower girl. She was dressed in apricot as she carried a basket filled with rose petals.

William Terrell of Monroe was the groomsmen. He wore the groomsmen's suit, Earl Parker of Monroe, the bridegroom's cousin, John D. Williams of Monroe, brother in law of the bridegroom, Roger Dewhurst and Larry Dewhurst of Charlotte, brothers of the bride. Gentlemen of the wedding party wore tuxedos.

A dinner reception was held in the church social hall. The bride's mother received in gold and bronze brocade dress, fashioned with V-neckline, fitted bodice, short sleeves, and bell-shaped skirt. Her carriage was of white roses. The bridegroom's mother wore blue lace with matching shoes, and blue accessories. Her flowers were also white roses.

The bride's table was in U-shape arrangement, with formal length cover of white organza and lace with white ribbon drapes. The wedding cake, made in Canada by the bride's aunt, formed the centerpiece. Completing the decoration was the bride's bouquet, used with silver candelabra holding lily of the valley, and white roses.

The couple left for a wedding trip through the mountains of western North Carolina and eastern Tennessee, and will live in Dogwood Acres, Monroe.

For travelling, the bride wore a beige and taupe double-knit wool suit with black accessories.

Fun and Games For Boys and Sellers

Most of the population had no knowledge of it but Georgetown Monday night — that is that part of Georgetown between the Highway, Harrison Public School and the First Baptist Church.

These were the boundaries in which three Scout troops bought and sold jewelry — well they didn't exactly buy it, in fact they stole it — but that's not true either. What they did was try to keep it away from the police — and instead of getting caught themselves — only the police weren't really police.

But in a way they were — and when they caught one of the jewel thieves, or buyers — they kauled them off to jail — but it wasn't really a jail, it was Holy Cross School. Anyway these buyers were posted around town, so, like at various points — and they received stolen jewelry from these sellers — but it wasn't really stolen. That is they received it if the sellers — that is the thieves — could get through to them. The police or — same of the other scouts —
