Seek to Maintain County Lead in Christmas Seals

The tuberculosis toll may lessen its heavy weight by some measure each year, through research, x-rays, work and luck. But though its list of victims may shrink, its list of opponents seems to grow longer.

Recently, over one hundred women of Oakville and Acton voluntarily worked an eight-hour shift with Christmas seals in St. Jude's Church. Last year, there were only 32. Headed by Mrs. M. E. Lunau, executive secretary of the Halton County Tuberculosis and Health Association, Oakville women came from St. Jude's and St. John's Knox Presbyterian, and Church of the Epiphany, Sybil Bennett, Angela Bruce and White Oak IODE Chapters, the Women's Auxiliary of the Oakville-Trafalgar Memorial Hospital, to get the thousands of seals ready for distribution.

Last year, Halton County rose to the highest Easter seal average per capita in Canada, with a total of $31,500. Naturally, a record is made to be broken.

Since a Board of Directors took over the Christmas seal campaign from the Lions Club in 1951, executive secretary Mrs. Lunau has organized the campaign for Halton from her home on 184 Balsam Drive.

For the past eleven years, the doctor's widow has found her work a "great challenge, with the chance of doing something for others so you're not thinking about your own problems."

The Halton Association sponsors an educational program, sending speakers and films throughout Halton County, organizes school health fairs and contra clinics in all hospitals for monthly tests.

Your Christmas seal contribution help pay for regular monthly chest clinics, tuberculin testing in schools, and Mass Chest x-ray surveys.

Last year in 1961 seven active cases of TB were discovered in Halton County during the Mass Survey.

The Board of Directors for the Halton County Tuberculosis and Health Association includes Wm. J. Benson, president; B. C. MacNab, past president; E. F. Carberry, vice-president; J. A. Hone, honorary treasurer; Mrs. M. E. Lunau, executive secretary; E. G. Adamson, Mrs. Horace Blyth, H. A. Bradley, Dr. A. F. Bull, M.O.I.; Dr. D. B. Campbell, Mrs. Lloyd Davis, E. C. Foster, C. L. McFadden, Mrs. C. W. McKim, Mrs. R. R. Parker, Dr. G. K. Phillips, W. H. Pope, Mrs. E. Sanford, Wm. D. Savage, Mrs. George Somerville, Mrs. John Rennie, social worker.

Beeby-Grasby Wedding In St. Paul's, Norval

St. Paul's Anglican Church, Norval, decorated with white mums and its pews adorned with white satin bows, was the setting for the wedding of Colleen Mary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Earl Grasby of Norval and John Walter Beeby, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Sidney Beeby of Brampton.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gownned in white chantilly lace and nylon net over taffeta. Her floor-length skirt was fashioned with three tiers of net with lace insertions. The chantilly lace bodice featured a high collar and the long sleeves came to points at the wrists. Her tulle shoulder-length veil fell from a pill box style headpiece of pearls and sequins. Her necklace was a single cultured pearl and she wore matching earrings. The bridal bouquet was a cascade arrangement of tawny gold roses and white stephanotis.

The Rev. Ronald Stubbly, heard the wedding vows. "The Wedding Prayer" and "O Perfect Love" were the selections sung by Mrs. George Grasby, a sister-in-law of the bride. The organist was Mr. Ronald Laidlaw.

Kelly Green, Mrs. Tom Woolham, sister of the bride, was matron of honour and Mrs. Charles Armstrong and Mrs. Dale Se-more, also sister of the bride, were bridesmaids, as was the groom's sister, Mrs. Vern Wambolt. They were gownned alike in street-length sheath dresses of Kelly green and wore matching pill box hats.

Miss Kimberley Ann Woolham was flower girl and her dress of white pique de soie had a cummerbund of Kelly green. She carried a basket of yellow and white mums.

Mr. Jim Payne of Brampton was the best man and the ushers were Mr. Bruce Beeby of Brampton, Mr. Bob Grasby of Norval and Mr. Charles Armstrong, Georgetown.

Belge Lace

The reception was held in the Parish Hall. The bride's mother received wearing a rose lace dress with beige accessories. Her corsage was of pink roses. Assisting in the receiving line was the mother of the groom, wearing a beige lace dress with brown accessories and her corsage was of pink roses.

The couple left on a motor trip to New York City, Montreal and Ottawa. For travelling the bride chose a grey double knit suit with green accessories and her corsage was pink carnations. Following their return they will live at 122 Voddin Street, Brampton. The groom is employed at Coremetal Industries, Streetsville. Among the guests attending

$1200 Surplus Forecast For Esqueusing Township

A probable surplus of $1200 for the year was forecast in Esqueusing Township by auditor H. Lever, so Clerk K. C. Lindsay reported to council at their meeting Nov. 19th. The clerk pointed out that this surplus allowed for the spending of the complete road budget, which he felt would not be the case.

The information will be contained in the interim statement presented on nomination night, Monday, 26th.

While most municipalities are in the throes of election fever, elections in Esqueusing are uncertain. Just in case, however, council decided to order some election supplies. "They are not dated and can be used another year," the clerk stated philosophically.

With the usual calm reasonableness always displayed at Esqueusing Council, a solution was worked out with Henry Shiligt, engineer for the Canadian National Railway to end complaints about the railway crossing at no. 5 sideroad.

In raising the track, the extra fill required to bank the sides slid into the ditch after the recent heavy rain. With no spare left to provide an other ditch, it will be necessary to go on private property.

While not responsible in any way, since the railway caused the condition, both Councillor G. Currie and Road Superintendent W. Townsend will accompany the railway engineer to see the land owner, and try to work out an agreement.

The tender of Jack Ridley Cartage of Acton to provide washed road sand at $1.15 per ton delivered, was accepted. The sand will be hauled from Alex Sand and Gravel at Silver Creek.

"It is our responsibility to light the provincial highways to make it safe," queried Reeve G. Leslie, when a letter from St. John's United Church, a week ago Sunday, lights at the east limit of No. 5.

It was felt the matter should be referred back to the Department of Highways, when per-bay-bay it represented the Clerk K. C. Lindsay, pointed out that street lighting was a school that morning.

Martin Opens County Building

Dr. Carl Martin, Warden of Halton County cuts the ribbon and officially opens the new county administration building near Milton. The ceremony was Saturday.

Sneak Thieves Take Church School Money

Police Chief Roy Haley apprehended the "meanest thief" in the county who stole approximately $40 in collecting G. Leslie, when a letter from St. John's United Church, a week ago Sunday, lights at the east limit of No. 5.

The police report said the thief slipped into the minister's study and took the cash he was in two brown paper bags. He represented the Clerk K. C. Lindsay, pointed out that street lighting was a school that morning.

Local Band is Interested in Competitions at CNE

Hints that Georgetown will again become a familiar name in military band music competitions came out of a report on the Georgetown Citizens Band Association's annual meeting and election of officers this past week.

The report said that "the band has had a successful 1962 and hopes are high for greater achievement in '63. Possibly, the band will, in the coming year, seek entry into band competitions." Test pieces for bands entering the 1963 CNE competition have been made available and band committee are keeping it no secret that they intend to secure copies.

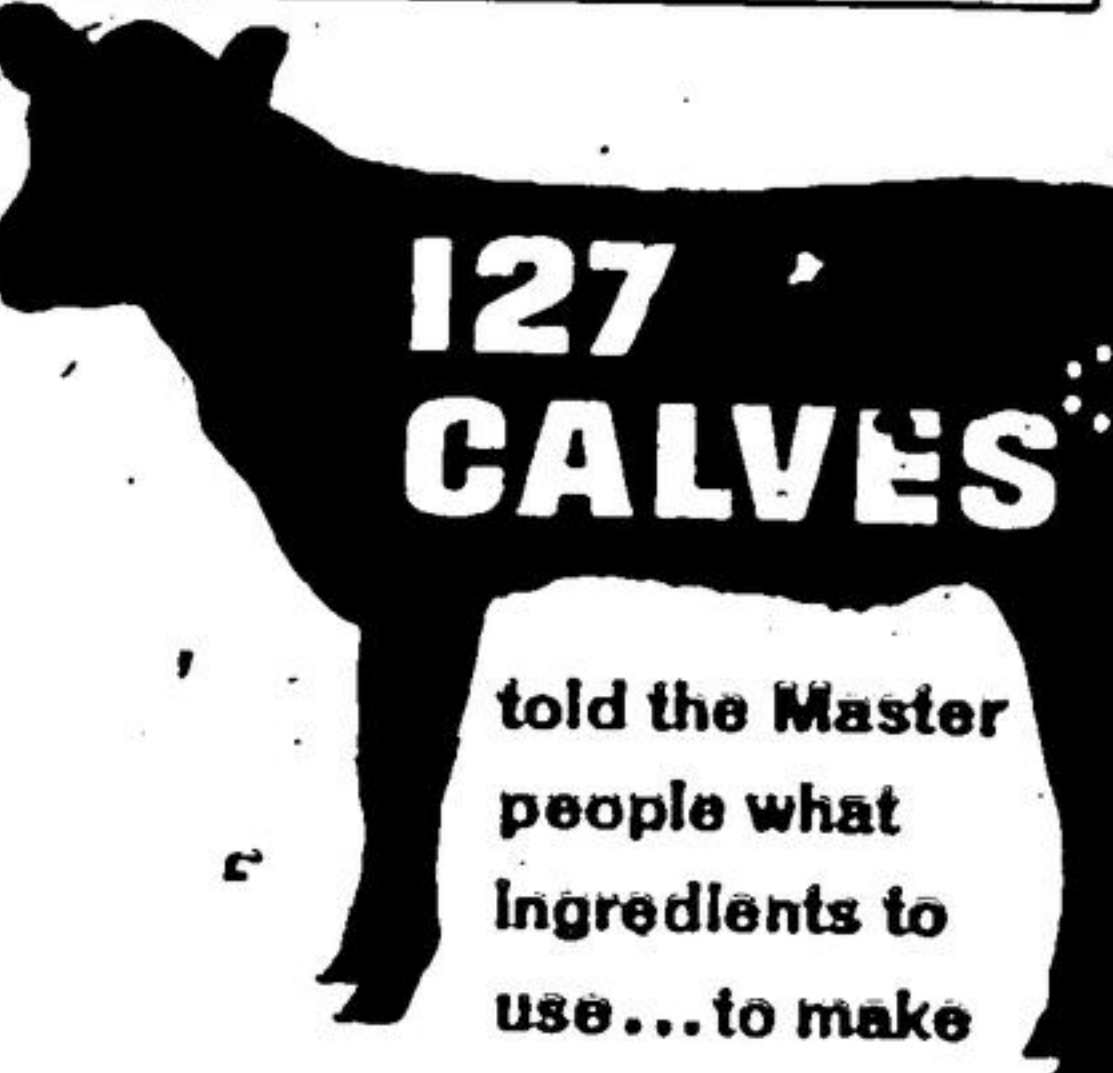

Still on the agenda for this year is the Santa Claus parade in which the band will take a major part, and a program of Christmas music which will be channelled into the streets via the United Church amplifier during Christmas week. A band concert is also being planned for January.

Stewart Prozy

Dr. O. M. Brewster is the honorary president of the association, and in the election Clyde Stewart, succeeded Walter Parker as president. Lloyd Windy is vice president, Andy Hittakes is secretary, and Vern McCumber is treasurer. Members of the committee are Mrs. J. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brown, Peter Jones, Rick Parry, Kolf Tomlins, and Mike Baker.

Senior players as well as beginners are always welcome in the band, and anyone interested can arrange membership by calling the president at 747-4725, after 7 p.m.

Halton Jerseymen Show at Royal

The Jersey show at the Royal Winter Fair has just been completed with one of the largest exhibits in recent years. Halton Jersey breeders were pleased that Maurice C. Healy of Milton, was the judge of this outstanding show.

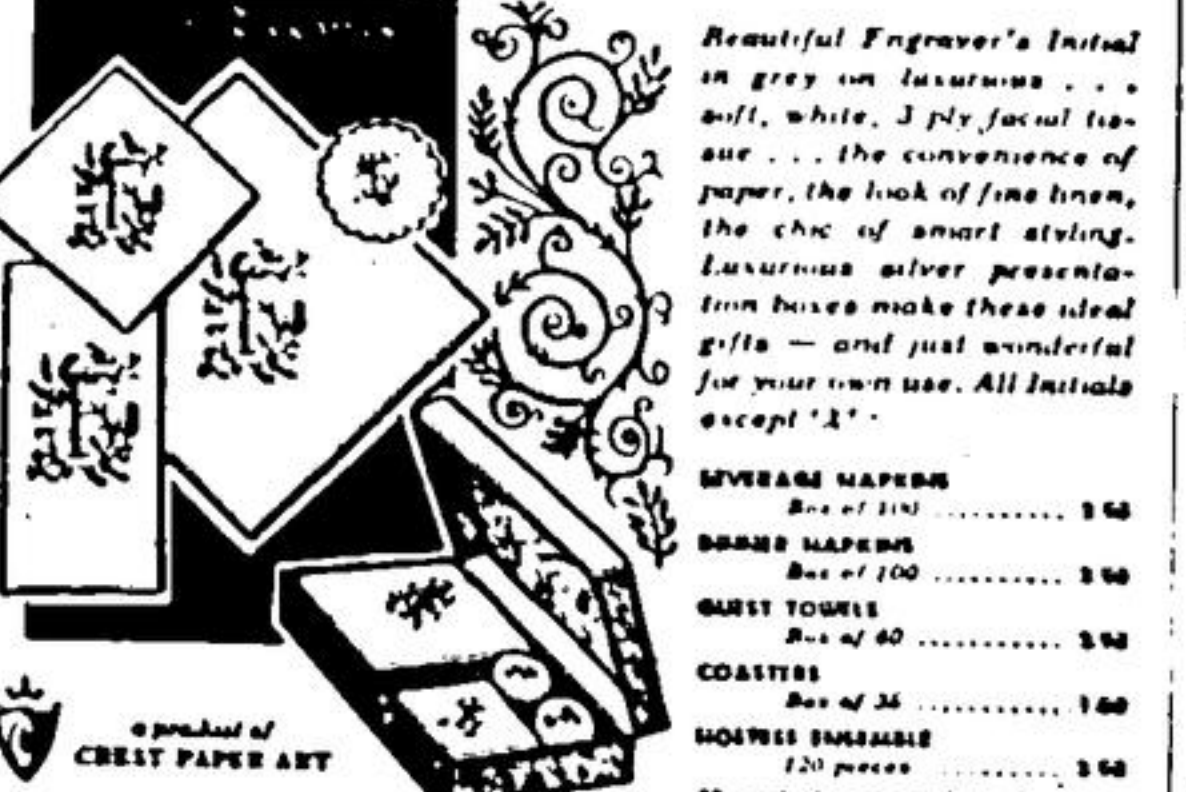

Mr. Healy is a past-president of the Canadian Jersey Cattle Club and is one of Halton's outstanding livestock farmers. Among the exhibitors were several members of the Halton Jersey Breeders' Association. Included were entries from the herds of Mac Alexander and Sons, Norval; Ernest M. Davies, Guelph; Mrs. M. W. Staples, Guelph; and Featherstone Bros., Oakville.

The Grand Champion bull at the Royal was Fairmount Premier Radar, bred by Geo. Innes, of Woodstock, and owned jointly with Douglas Gole. He won the Aged Bull class and at the recent All-American Show in Columbus, Ohio, was winner of the Jersey Jug Competition in the Male Section.

Grand Champion was May Lads Wallflower, for Heaven Hill Farm, in New York state. At the Sale of the Stars, 30 head were sold for an average of $805, an increase of $205 over last year's average. Highest priced animal was Kinghurst Supreme Zanna, con signed by Campbell Mackay, of Rothsay, N.B., and sold to Marlu Farm of N.J. for $1000.

from Brampton, Toronto, Port Credit, Cookville and Georgetown were the grandparents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Merritt of Brampton and Mr. Walter Beeby also from Brampton.
