

DON MACLACHLAN TOM JAMES TRACY BARRAGER

SLUGGERS KEEP IN SHAPE AS CAGERS

BASEBALL PLAYERS definitely do not go into hibernation at the first sign of frost. Three members of Georgetown's Intermediate ball club, Don MacLachlan, Tom James and Tracy Barrager are spending the off-season throwing basketballs through hoops as members of Brampton Y's men's basketball league to keep occupied and in shape while there's snow on the ground. The league is made up of four teams, Imperials, Cubs, Raiders and School Masters and is in action every Wednesday night. Other Georgetowners who take part in the weekly hoopla are Bill Bingham, Gary Terter and Bob Cowbrough.

Raiders and Welland Tied for Top Spot

The amazing Raiders have company atop the COHL. While they have been marking time with consecutive losses to Fort Erie, Welland Merchants have been busy collecting points and currently share first spot with Georgetown with 14 points. Welland also has a game in hand. Raiders continued their backsliding Tuesday night but this time got pushed from some questionable officiating. Fort Erie beat Raiders 5-4 in the border town. At least that is what will go into the score books.

One Fort Erie goal didn't go into the net, and one that the Raiders scored wasn't counted. The tainted marker was Fort Erie's first, a long shot from Podyak that Barry Smith knocked down and set on. The light didn't go on and no Fort players claimed a goal but the referee made the ruling while at centre ice. With time running out Wayne Thompson flipped the puck into the back of the Fort Erie net to tie things but this one was pushed out by the official who said he didn't see it. This time the light did go on and the players threw their sticks up to signal the goal.

Raiders came out of the first period with a 1-1 tie when Blake Inglis scored from the front end and Gland Fort Erie scored three times in the second. McGuire from Simms and Cheney, McGuire from Pullett and Chesney from Ahearn and Blair. A long shot by Gerry Inglis was Georgetown's second goal.

A hockey rarity featured Raiders' comeback in the 3rd period when Wally Magdy off when Gland popped in two goals while killing the penalty. Blake Inglis set the first one up and helped on the second one with Wayne Thompson. They came within a minute and nine seconds of scoring Owen's goal at 18:28 from Favero and Chesney was the winner.

Raiders argued strenuously when both Podyak's goal and when Wayne Thompson's leg counter was disallowed but the official knew enough about refereeing to stick by his decision. If little else.

Teenagers Bowling Smith & Stone Team Enters Industrial Hockey Loop

The Georgetown Industrial Hockey league is a six team loop again this week. But not because Toronto has reconsidered. Filling the hole left when Toronto pulled up stakes is a Smith & Stone team entered by Cal King. This week Oakville thumped the newcomer 10-3, but could hardly feel humiliated by the throttling since Standard Products did them one better and lost to Norval 14 to 2. The other game on the Sunday afternoon card was a close one. Superior Foods edged Glen Williams 3-2.
