

"I'LL SEE YOU IN FIVE DAYS"

After an exhausting few weeks of personal appearances at department stores, parades and street corners, Santa Claus waves farewell just before heading back to the North Pole for a load of gifts and a running start at the homes of anxious boys and girls everywhere. While here he has ridden every modern means of conveyance imaginable, but come Christmas Eve you can bet he'll be again juggling at the reins and directing the course of his well rested deer led by

NORVAL

Four Generations at Two Norval Baptisms

Following the baptismal service at Norval Presbyterian Church on Sunday, December 6th, Mr and Mrs. Wm. Donaldson held a family dinner for four generations who were present for the service. Baby Douglas Elgin, his father, Bill Donaldson, his grandmother, Mrs. Percy Donaldson, and his great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ackroyd of Brampton, made up the four generations. Also attending the service and dinner were his grandfather, Percy Donaldson, his father, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Donaldson, Mr. and Mrs. Donaldson, and Bob Donaldson.

Overheated stove pipes at the home of Harold and Chester Early who live on the 10th line, south of the village, caused considerable excitement for a short time on Sunday afternoon, December 15th. Miss Lizzie Cross heard the crackling of the fire in the pipes and called neighbours who assisted in getting the flames under control. The escaping fire truck arrived on the scene and confined the damage to the chimney, a scorched wall and smoked walls in the kitchen.

Mr and Mrs. James Davis grandparents of baby Carol Anne Little, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Wilmer Little, also entertained four generations at their home following the baptism service. The four generations present were baby Carol Anne, her mother, Mrs. Wilmer Little, her grandmother, Mrs. James Davis and her great-grandfather, Mr. Arthur McClure. Also present at the service and dinner were her other grandparents, Mr and Mrs. Emerson Little of Glen Cross, Mr and Mrs. Robert Draper of Weston and Mr. Glenford Little.

Mr and Mrs. Robert Davis held a family dinner following the baptism of baby William George. Present were his grandparents, Mr and Mrs. William South of Georgetown, Mr and Mrs. Lloyd O'Leary and children, Eunice, Glenda and David of Sunnyside and his sisters, Barbara, Linda and Penny.

White Gift Sunday was held at Norval United Church Sunday school on Sunday, December 16th, and a large hamper was filled with gifts for the Red Cross Mission Toronto, by the Sunday School children.

An old time Norval resident, Alec Gregg, who will celebrate his 80th birthday in January is a patient in Georgetown and District Memorial Hospital following a bout of pneumonia. In recent years he has lived at the home of Mr and Mrs. Wm. Funnamore.

Not all tumors are cancer, but as with cancer, the earlier treatment is begun, the better.

TASTY GIFT IDEAS

While food is a great part of the family Christmas observance, many of us overlook the fact that food products offer an endless variety of holiday possibilities.

Cheese, of course, is an old favorite. Ready-made gift packages are available, or one can make up a "party" package, placed in a wooden basket or on a small chopping board, or surrounding a cheese knife. Baskets of colourful fruits, long a gift favourite, may also be "ordered" or prepared at home. It's much more fun to prepare, using as a final touch unshelled nuts of the type or types available locally.

Vegetables may also be used — as decorations for a presentation of canned fancy vegetables — artichoke hearts, asparagus, pickled onions, etc. Good gift for a gourmet.

And, in the meat line, who wouldn't appreciate the gift of a baked ham.

A POPPIN' GOOD TIME

Children often get ready for Santa long before time for the old gentlemen to arrive — and parents are faced with the difficult task of planning some type of indoor entertainment for bored youngsters.

Most any child will be delighted to hear someone say, "It's corn popping time!"

Popcorn has become such a popular snack that producing states have doubled production in recent years and in many homes the holiday scene is not complete, until someone gets out the corn popper.

A corn popper isn't necessary, however, as corn may be popped in a broiler or any old pot or pan if one follows the directions on the jar of corn which may be purchased at the neighbourhood grocery.

Although popcorn vendors prefer large kernels for their machines, smaller kernels are best for home popping. When figuring how much you'll need, allow one ounce of corn for each quart of popped corn.

Pop corn may be served in many ways. For children, you may use toothpicks to make a clown or a snowman. For adults try seasoning with garlic or onion salt, chili or curry powder, or grated cheese.
