

Jury Recommends Signs After Sideroad Accident

Signs indicating obstructed vision should be erected on either side of the hill where Ernest Batkin of Georgetown was killed in a car accident Nov. 20, a coroner's jury recommended at an inquest into his death held at the Halton Court House Tuesday evening, Dec. 11th.

Mr. Batkin had served as secretary-treasurer of the Esqueping Township school area board for the past six years. He was driving to Speyside School on November 20th to investigate a break-in when his car met one driven by Joseph Wagner of Georgetown head-on on 22 Sideroad, Esqueping, a mile east of Highway 22.

After listening to witnesses Joseph Wagner, driver of the other car, constable Wilfrid Griffith of North Halton OPP, and Percy Batkin, brother of the deceased, the jury found that lack of caution on the part of both drivers was the cause of the accident.

Balk Over
Constable Griffith testified that the skid marks of both cars indicated that each driver had been driving about a foot and a half on the wrong side of the road.

Mr. Wagner testified that he had been travelling east on the 22 sideroad when he heard the great of the hill and saw another car approaching. He then tried to steer his car into the embankment but it was too late and the two cars collided.

Percy Batkin appeared on the stand to see if someone could explain how it was possible for his brother to be killed instantly while the other driver escaped with only minor injuries. Dr. C. K. Stevenson, in charge of the inquest, noted that Mr. Batkin's age, 73, would be a contributing factor to his instant death.

Belt Might Help
The jury also thought seat belts could possibly have saved Mr. Batkin's life. P. K. McWilliams, attorney for P. K. Williams noted that most of us drive too fast on country roads, with a false sense of security. We should make a conscious effort all of the time to stay on the right side of the road and to slow down.

Church Ladies Help New Fund for Organ
Members of St. Andrew's United Church Women voted at their December 12th meeting to contribute all surplus funds in the treasury towards helping to pay for the church organ.

The ladies met in the church board room with 18 members and two guests present. Mrs. N. Wodham solicited volunteers to help fill remaining executive positions for 1963. Mrs. H. Maier will remain as president.

Delicious Sampling
The devotional was taken by Mrs. W. Robbins with assistance from Mrs. G. Greenaway, Mrs. J. Munro and Mrs. D. Baker. The remainder of the evening was enjoyed socially and concluded with the sampling of delicious desserts and coffee set out on a Christmas buffet table.

KINEWS

By Jack Findlay

Christmas time is always a very busy period for the Kinews Club and this year is no exception. Around the first of December we hosted the Guelph Kin Club and as a guest speaker we had our National President, Walter Bellian, who gave us an informal speech on the policies of the Kinews National Executive.

Our last meeting which was held in Star's Restaurant, was a much more quiet atmosphere. Much business was transacted involving our Xmas Tree and Nut projects which are now in full swing. The Club also voted unanimously to erect a fully decorated 12 ft. Christmas tree in the Reformed Children's School every Christmas. Also Kin Bob White and Kin Trev Moore were appointed to be in charge of the Welfare committee. This committee is very active this year as always, trying to make sure everyone has a happy Christmas.

Our Sports Committee reported they had arranged a hockey game with the Guelph club for Sunday, Dec. 16th. They also mentioned that the Georgetown Kin Hockey Team, (the World's Worst) would like to challenge any other service club to a game of hockey in January or February.

Our Christmas meeting will be held jointly with the Kin sites, who are serving a pot luck supper at the home of Kin President Harry Levy.

In closing we would like to take this opportunity to thank you for supporting our Christmas tree and Christmas nuts and to wish you all a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Undecided I don't know enough about the pros and cons.

For it, I think I suppose it would be all right, but I don't feel I know enough about it. I've never heard about any ill effects.
—Mr. J. Richardson, Main St.

Definitely yes. When fluoride is naturally present in some water supplies, why would there be any adverse effects when it is artificially added? In addition, dentists are now

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

THE QUESTION
If the question of adding fluoride to Georgetown's water supply were put to a vote, how would you vote?

Against it: There are other means by which the same thing can be achieved. There is enough bureaucratic interference in our lives at the moment.
—Mr. J. L. Lambert, Dalrymple Blvd.

For it: What's the delay? We're ten years late now.
—Ralph Ureid, Orchard St.

For it. I'd like my children to have the best teeth possible.
—Mrs. E. Foran, Elizabeth St.

—Mr. J. Richardson, Main St.

Definitely yes. When fluoride is naturally present in some water supplies, why would there be any adverse effects when it is artificially added? In addition, dentists are now overworked, and unless some way is found to decrease the number of dentists, the number of dentists now being trained will never be able to cope with the situation, according to the Dental Ass'n., who feel fluoride in the water is the best method.

—Mrs. George Howson, Valleyview Road
