

Many Winners Still To Claim Prizes

CORRECTION
Blame it on the holidays! Last week's Herald contained a couple of errors which we take this opportunity to correct.

The Mr. and Mrs. Cameron who invited friends to their 50th wedding anniversary this Friday night in Sheraton Hall are really Mr. and Mrs. Cameron McEneaney. Somehow the one word was dropped from the announcement.

And Shagette Shere, which has been on Mills Street, for several months, has not moved back to its old Mill Street location, as the signature in a greeting ad would have you believe.

Sorry!

If you haven't been checking your Downtown Lucky draw coupons you may owe a sheep, a hamster, a pig, a rabbit, a dog, a cat, a horse, a turkey, a piggy bank, or all of them — and not know it.

The final draw was made Monday and to date eight lucky shoppers have matched their ticket numbers with those in the McClure's Furniture window and in the Herald ad. The final numbers appear in this week's issue.

Only one of the five top prizes, the turkey, has been won, that by Mrs. Roughley with ticket number K 302440.

Three blankets have gone to Harry Levy (ticket No. M300427), Wayne Reid (ticket K302415), and Mr. Armstrong (M305798).

Turkey winners were Mrs. Albert Downes (M305793), A. Anderson (M300903), D. Richardson (M302897), Cyril Bradford (M304791), Mrs. Doornbach (M304484), and Mrs. Y. Beckett (M301594).

Still awaiting claimers are the four remaining major prizes, two Hudson Bay blankets, and nine turkeys.

INJURES KNEE CAP
Cars collided head on No. 7 Highway opposite the Delrex Plaza during the snowstorm Sunday.

Involved in the collision were cars driven by Wileid Baranowski of 49 Windsor Road and Adam Schmidt of Bird Ave., Brampton. The Baranowski car was westbound and the Schmidt car was travelling east three the drifted snow when they met. High winds whipping the snow made visibility almost nil.

Cat. Harley Low who made the investigation placed the damage at $500 to each car. Baranowski suffered a fractured knee cap.

SKIDS ON ICE
Poor road conditions were blamed for an accident at the corner of Edward and Margaret Streets Friday in which one car slid into another resulting in $100 damage.

Petrick Stoyles of Brampton was the driver of the 1957 Ford which skidded after rounding the corner off Edward St. onto Margaret St. and collided with a parked 1959 Volkswagen owned by Ross Cunningham of Narsal.

The accident occurred at about 3:20 p.m. and was investigated by Cst. Bruce McQuarrie.

TAKE NOTICE

Because of the many, many requests in letters (and whispered in my ear) for particular toys, and in spite of the many, many hours of overtime put in by my workshop elves this year, some of you did not receive exactly what you wished for.

In each case where one of my boys and girls had asked for something that I just did not have, I tried my best to choose something that he or she would enjoy just as much (and I pride myself on being able to match the gift to the youngster.)

To those who found something other than what they hoped for under their tree Christmas morning, I hope you were not disappointed and I promise I will attempt to do better in the future. My, but there were a lot of houses to call on this year, and those Christmas trees were the very prettiest I've seen in some time, and I've seen them all, you know.

Until next December then,
Yours truly,
SANTA CLAUS

P.S.: To those thoughtful children who left good things for me to eat before going to bed Christmas Eve, thank you so much. Everything was delicious.
