SHOPPERS COP TOP OF PRIZE CROP

MRS. D. ROBERTSON wastes no time in making use of the first prize, a stereo record player. The two other major prizes, a watch and a bicycle were won by Mrs. Roughley and Mrs. William Kirkwood.

Presentation and Buffet at Employees' Holiday Party

The Apple Products employees sung by the congregation are as fortunate as the school children in that they have the same holidays. Before leaving for the holiday they held a party. A buffet lunch was enjoyed by all. Tables were spread with cold meat, salads, relishes, mince meat tart, Christmas cake and coffee. There was an exchange of gifts and the ladies presented the forelady, Mrs. P. Waststaffe, with a clothes hamper. The exchange of good wishes with their families to return to the production of Perfect-Fy

Mr. and Mrs. B. Moody and Mr. and Mrs. M. Segler of St. Catharines on Sunday, a week ago. Mr. and Mrs. George Preston were able to leave their business over the holiday to visit with their family. They had Christmas dinner with their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Usher and family in Woodbridge and spent last Sunday with their son Gilbert and his wife and family in Georgetown. New Year's day they had all the family home here.

The Annual United Church Candlelight Service was held Sunday evening, Dec. 23. The story of the Nativity was read by Rev. Lloyd Frost from the Scripture, interspersed with

MR. AND MRS. ART ROY look through the pile of tickets they accumulated during the Downtown Lucky Shopper Draw. They got most of them when they purchased a Chesterfield suite at McClure's. One of them was Lucky and now they own two Chesterfield suites.

SECOND PRIZE BELONGS to Mrs. Alex Korzak. A lucky purchase paid this big dividend... a mink stole.

Amid all the gay festivities at this time of year, there are always those who have a touch of sadness and so it was with the Paul family, whose mother passed away. To them we extend our sympathy.

The Girl Guides held their Christmas Party at the home of their captain, Mrs. G. Hillis. After spending some of the evening carolling around the village they returned to the Hillis' recreation room for lunch and exchange of gifts.

The Hi-C group of the Norval and Glen United churches held a party in the Glen church on Saturday evening.

Visitors in the village during the holiday season were: Mr. and Mrs. F. Forsythe of Toronto with the W. McGowans, Miss V. Sainsbury and Mr. M. Jones of Toronto with the Alex Hunsdales.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Middleton of Dunnville with the John Waststaffe. Mr. and Mrs. R. Dickson of Espanola with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Dixon. Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Barth and family of Baden with the C. Barths. Mr. and Mrs. S. Williams, Beverley and Shelly spent New Year's with Mr. and Mrs. Ted Williams in Rexdale.

On Sunday the C Barths held a family get-together. While the younger members enjoyed skating on the farm pond, the older ones stayed in the warmth of the living room around the Christmas tree. A buffet supper was served to guests: Mr. and Mrs. John Wagstaffe and Danny, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Giles, Diane and Brett, Susan and Brian, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wagstaffe, Mitchell and Peter, Bonnie Stokes, Kon Bram and Mrs. P. Wagstaffe, Sr.

Students home for the holidays were: Joan Davis from York University, Toronto; Tim and Laddie Haines from Appleby College, Oakville; Marlene Kemshead from McMaster University, Hamilton; Bill Wheeler from John H. Ross School, Guelph; Carol Barth from Toronto Western Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Hancock, Terry and Kenny and Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Hancock, Brampton, spent a Sunday recently with Mrs. Hancock's mother, Mrs. B. Scott in Bronte.

The Anglican Young People held a party in the Parish Hall. They had an evening of games and dancing to the "Gay Notes." The spot dance was won by Judy Mills and Doug Hills. The twist contest was won by Jane Bouskill and Peter Norton.
