

Vote Fourth Term for Fair Board President

STILL GOOD SHOW DESPITE RAINFALL

Garfield McGillvray was given a fourth term as president. Albert Hunter and Guy Wilson were added to the board of directors and Fred Wigglesworth made an honorary member.

Although sub-zero weather prevailed last Wednesday evening, there was a good turnout at the annual meeting of the Esqueving Agricultural Society, held in the basement of Ashgrove United Church.

President Garfield McGillvray in his opening remarks said that while the 1962 fair was not all that had been hoped for due to the wet weather, it was not a complete loss, and that many sections of the show had carried on and proved entertaining for those who did attend.

While it was regrettable that the horse races had to be cancelled, the jumping horses and midway kept things moving. Cattle classes made a good showing.

He congratulated the ladies section for their work in the hall and catering to the social side of the society's activities. He further said much credit must be given to the exhibitors who make the show, the institutes, the junior section and the school children. The president expressed thanks to the Junior Farmers organization for their help and to the Boy Scouts who had assisted on fair day.

Mrs. Ken Ella, lady president, reported for the ladies division, and various directors reported on the fair generally. Robert Lawson gave the treasurer's report in which a very gratifying balance was left after paying $2,300 in prize money, and having a total expenditure of $4,888.00.

Dun Wingrove presided for the election of officers at which

Timber Wolf is Shot Near Terra Cotta

THE GEORGETOWN HERALD
Thursday, January 31, 1963
PAGE 3

Timber wolves have been reported moving south east into Peel county but so far, none have been reported in north Halton.

Packs of wolves are reported from the Orangeville district and six have been shot in Mono Township in Dufferin County during the last six weeks.

One kill in Terra Cotta last week confirmed that the wolves occasionally move south into Caledon Township in the direction of Georgetown.

The first of six wolves shot this season proved to be a rapid runner and was described as a wolf and a dog. It was only 50 feet away while he was hunting in the Terra Cotta District, January 25th. The wolf had just killed a racoon.

Mr. Pickles said he had never seen a wolf and described it as looking like a German Shepherd dog.

The health of animals division of the federal department of agriculture said no wolf had previously been reported in Peel County since 1958. There is a $25 bounty from the provincial government on all wolves shot and some counties, including Dufferin pay an additional bounty.

No More Bounty

Bob Reid, game warden for Halton, said there is no additional bounty in Halton. He does not remember a timber wolf being reported here at any time and only occasionally is a brush wolf reported.

The last brush wolf in the county was shot along the creek near the Fourth Line dump in Oakville last November. It was thought to be a fox at first and was only confirmed as a wolf after being sent in for routine rabies checks.

19 Tables Play at W.I. Euchre Party

A good attendance at the evening W.I. Euchre Saturday night in the Community Hall made up 19 tables. Prize winners for the ladies were Mrs. Kay Graham of Mallon and Mrs. Neilson Stark, and for the men Mrs. Audrey McCleary playing a man's card and Mr. Keith Webb.

Mrs. Norman Snyder won a beautiful plant donated by Harris Floral with the lucky number door prize. Special thanks also to Young's Pharmacy and Jackson's Bargain Centre who generously donated prizes.

Mrs. George Atkinson and Mrs. Robert McDonald formed the committee in charge of the evening and announced another Euchre to be held in March. Sandwiches, homemade jars and coffee were served by the ladies.

We are pleased to report that Mrs. E. Hicken who has been a patient in Georgetown District Memorial Hospital since before Christmas, was able to return to her home on Friday last.

Evangelism Prominent in First Baptist Church

An evangelical program last night, conducted by a group of Baptist laymen from Toronto, the charter presentation of cups and scarves in April and a mission fair, conducted by the Mission Circle, with many interesting exhibits from foreign and home mission fields, films and missionary speakers, were recalled when members of First Baptist Church held their annual business meeting on January 23rd.

Seventeen of the Sunday School children attended Camp Hermosa last summer, and it was reported that one found Christ as her personal saviour while there.

Supper served by ladies of the Sunshine Club preceded the meeting. Attractive scripture text place cards had been made by the CGH.

Rev. Lloyd Whan was chairman of the meeting which opened with singing of a hymn "Standing on the Promises", a scripture reading from Corinthians and prayer. Presidents of organizations reported a successful and fruitful year.

Mission Ladies Study Asian Rim Countries

The first meeting of the year of the Union W.M.S. was held at the home of Mrs. W. H. Ostrander on January 24th. Installation of officers for the year was conducted by Mrs. Harvey Puckering. The devotional period was taken by Mrs. Herb Dolson and Mrs. O. A. Macdonald.

During the business portion of the meeting it was decided to again hold a quilting with Mrs. J. L. Young and Mrs. C. Anderson in charge of buying
