WATCH FOR FLYING PLANKS

Urge Full Arena For Title-Bound Midgets

The Georgetown Midgets are raring enthusiasm, a coach could ask for. Next Saturday, they'll know if they've got what it takes to go right to the top. An arena filled with cheering fans could well give our Midgets the extra spirit of energy to go on to win this crucial game in the semi-finals. Even here they could play either Orillia or Trenton for the Ontario championship.

In February they started in the OMHA, Ontario Minor Hockey Association, playdowns. They knocked out Preston in two games, straight 11-3 and 12-0. Then Hamilton 12-1 at home and 5-3 away. Erie came next and they beat them 9-4 at home and 6-3 in Fort Erie Travelling next to St. Thomas to win 5-1 and again on home ice by 5-0. Saturday they earned the Georgetown colours to Leamington and 2-2 came through with a win 5-2.

While playing these nine games they found time for the Respects tournament. They played classic Friday night and won 4-1. Saturday afternoon they won the Guelph trophy by beating Burlington 4-1. Sunday they played Hamilton and won a 5-3 victory. They should have had another trophy the Guelph championship.

During this season, despite the team's different coaches, key players, and some injuries, with the exception of one or two, all the boys of Georgetown's three midget teams have had good seasons. The Georgetown Midgets are the best team in the OMHA, Ontario Minor Hockey Association, playdowns.

By not specifying a set amount as in a bursary or scholarship, the club will be able to loan varying amounts depending upon the individual needs of each borrower. Since the money is repaid later and kept in circulation a greater number of students may benefit from the same initial outlays.

The Lions also felt that since the money is a loan and not a gift there will be a greater incentive in the student to succeed in his career.

"At the moment we don't yet know how much money will be lent G. W. McCallum and we required to make it work," Dr. secretary-treasurer Graham Far-

Lions Loan Fund Will Aid Deserving Students

Expect Auditor's Report Next Monday at Council

The 1962 auditor's report is expected to be presented to council next Monday.

Meanwhile Mr. Emmerson at the Monday council meeting complained that as police chairman he has passed $1124 in accounts this year which applied to last year's business. The fund may be borrowed from only if the necessary money is not available from the students' family or other sources.

He stressed that it would not necessarily be a top scholar that would benefit from the fund, since he or she would probably receive enough help through a scholarship. There will be no interest charged on the loans and no time limit for the return payment. The borrower will be on his honour to return the money as soon as is feasible so that other students may have the same opportunity.

All loans will be made strictly on a personal basis and in confidence. The Lions will have the assistance of principal J. L. Lambert in determining the worthy students.

Dr. Thompson said the club's reasoning in establishing an educational loan fund rather than a scholarship was to give the average student an opportunity to gain financial aid.

"It may not be as clever as the scholarship student but given the chance he may mature into as great an asset," he said.

Five Present Views On National Issues

"Have speech, will travel," Democratic Party candidate signed, the Halton boys could well be the calling card of the five Halton candidates for election, since this quintette have been appearing on platforms together for the last two weeks.

Monday night's appearance at the Jaycees sponsored meeting in Wriggleworth auditorium was the quintette's fifth performance as a group.

Only a little good natured heckling from the 250 people in the auditorium greeted the 5 Halton county candidates. The candidates all in good form returned the banner in the same jovial manner. However, these plans would have to be approved by government, which in turn has to be approved by the electorate, Ellis. (Continued on Page 2)
