Pacific Paradise is School Formal Theme

The Georgetown High School senior formal will have a T-bitan flavour this year. The high point of the school social calendar will be held tomorrow night in the High School Auditorium and right now the decorating committee is doing everything possible to put across the theme which this year is Pacific Paradise. The Debonnaires Orchestra will play for the crowd, expected to be in the neighbourhood of two hundred couples. Close to five hundred invitations went out last week. Adrienne Nurse, last year's prom queen and assistant, Jeanette Smith, Sharon Handel and Ann Pickup, have had the most to do with the decorating which features a miniature volcano at one end of the auditorium. Every authentic looking island hut has been included in the decor. One will be used as a pulling booth when it comes time to elect a 1963 queen. The annual formal is a project of the school's student council under president, Peter Forgave.

BALLINAFAD

Family Moves to Erin Community Gives Presentation

The Scout Mothers' Auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. H. French for their March meeting with 13 members present. The roll call was answered by an Easter verse and the general business was discussed, which included the Treasurer's report. Ways and means of fund raising were discussed and it was decided to sponsor a dance on April 20th. Committees were appointed to look after the details and the meeting adjourned. Lunch was served by the social committee, assisted by the hostess.

The GGT were entertained at an Easter party by the girls of Knox Presbyterian Church in Georgetown on Thursday evening. The first part of the evening was spent on a scavenger hunt and the girls enjoyed several amusing contests. After they returned to the church, lunch was served and Irene Kier, the president of the Ballinafad group, thanked the hostess and her girls and the evening closed with taps.

At a community gathering in the hall on Thursday night last week, Mr. and Mrs. L. Swindlehurst and family were presented with a breakfast suite as a gift from their friends and neighbours in the Ballinafad district prior to their moving to Erin. They both expressed their thanks and the evening was enjoyed by dance and lunch was served in the basement.

Start Karts Sunday Weather Permitting

If the weather is right the North Halton Kart Klub will open their Limehouse track for public kart rentals this Sunday according to club spokesman Al Ingles. At told the Herald this week that though plans for the summer racing schedule have not been finalized, it is expected that Sunday will be for public kart rentals only. Lights are being installed at the track and when work on them is completed the members will be doing their racing on a week night, probably Wednesday. Until that time there may be some competitions held on Sunday afternoons. It's doubtful that the installation of the lights will be finished in April.
