Stuff if desired and sew or skewer. Place a sheet of heavy greased or parchment paper in baking pan, having it large enough so that it can be used to lift fish from pan when done. Place a bay leaf and a few slices of onion and bacon or salt pork on the paper and the fish on top.

If fish is lean, cut a few shallow pan and a brown skin. Turn Ace Bailey carefully and cook flesh side 8 minutes, depending on thickness. Fillets are cooked in 4 to 6 minutes on each side. Do not overcook. Fat fish need no basting but lean fish should be basted well with butter during broiling.
