Tea, Special Features Local Hospital Week

In each community through-out Canada and the U.S. Sun day marks National Hospital Day, a day set aside to honor the basic works which sustain the community hospitals, be they big or small.

Hospitals hope that by focusing attention on this day, the public will become more aware of their aims and objectives. Many communities are pointing out the continuing qualities of their institutions.

Local restaurants are cooperating and using a special hospital place mat, telling of the aims and objectives of the hospital.

As a special feature, the Board of Directors have arranged special ceremonies on Sunday afternoon when several gifts will be officially received by the Board on behalf of the hospital.

The magnificent oak flagpole that adorns the front of the building, will be turned over by the donors, the Women's Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion Ladies, had donated this as a personal gift to add to a magnificent contribution of $10,000 given by the local Branch 120 Canadian Legion.

Another outstanding gift being received that day is a portrait of the first Hospital president, John Gunn, one of the original hospital group. A local artist, Miss Dorothy Stone, has painted the portrait as a personal gift and it will be unveiled on Sunday afternoon.

Miss Stone has many portraits in her credit and is at present completing one of an outstanding young man, who she recently painted one of the hands in the Lorne Scott's headquarters in Brampton.

However, now at age thirteen the boy is considered a man spiritually.

Following the Bar Mitzvah ceremony at 9:15 in the morning, a tea will be held in the Hospital from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. Everyone is invited, but only for the tea.

The Auxiliary of the Hospital under the leadership of the president, Mrs. Walter Pope is in charge of arrangements for the tea. It will be served in the canteen of the Hospital.

It is hoped that each citizen will make an earnest effort to be present.

Technicality Bars Neon Bus-Line Sign

While council denied Gray Coach Lines permission to install a neon sign at Stan's Restaurant Monday, it was a technicality in the zoning by-law which precludes two signs on one building.

Still Allow Cars Use of the Park

Existence doesn't always win the day, Cr. Bill Smith found out when he made a third attempt to have part of the park banned to vehicles.

At Monday's council meeting Cr. Smith who has been outspoken in his stand on parking cars in the park, other than in the area around the armory, again attempted to sway a majority in his way of thinking. A similar motion last week was defeated on a split 4-4 vote.

Cr. Smith said he had since checked with a number of people who use the park and had found general agreement that his idea is sound. He is particularly interested in the safety angle for children playing among the trees and said he is concerned about speeding cars.

"You've heard some opinions in favour but I've heard some against," said Mayor Ernie Hyde, indicating he is still undecided.

Voters lined up the same as a week ago with Dep. Reeve Hunter who was absent last week putting the vote to defeat the motion 5-4.

"How are we going to prevent speeding?" asked Cr. J. Young after the vote was counted.

A sharp head in the road was the deputy reeve's suggestion that police chairman on Emerson said he would have the police use the radar speed regulator in an attempt to catch offenders.

On Saturday May 11th Alexander Gaudkettling son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Gaudkettling will have his Bar Mitzvah celebration in Beth Israel Synagogue in Guelph.

Twister Tears Roof From Barn at Glen

It sounded like an aeroplane that tipped half the roof off his barn Saturday night. The Eason farm is on the 10th Line of Esqueuing, just north of the CNR north line about three miles from Georgetown.

The twister moved a tool shed 30 feet on the adjoining property of his brother, Paul Eason, and then it was gone.

"It moved so fast it was gone and gone before anyone had time to get frightened," George Eason said. "I was leaving the house with our daughter Evelyn, when my wife knocked us back inside and slammed the door shut."

Mrs. Eason who had been waiting outside in the car, ran for the house when the sky grew suddenly dark and she heard the twister roaring in from the northwest.

When it hit the barn, it splintered every beam in the roof. Sections of the roof were carried 100 feet into a nearby field and one door of the barn was ripped off.

Winds were estimated at 50 miles per hour and although no other properties in the area were damaged, the twister speeded over the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Collier, 200 yards northwest of the barn. It was Mrs. Collier, Mrs. Eason's sister who advised the Easons of the damage to their barn.

Mrs. Collier had just approached a rear window in her home when she noticed a part of the barn was blown off now being undertaken by a quiring skates for rental.

She telephoned Mr. Eason. "No one was in the barn at the time but 20 head of cattle and 70 sows were in lower stalls."

Study Roller Skating In Arena This Summer

Georgetown arena may be converted to a roller skating arena this summer depending on the results of fact finding investigations undertaken by a quiring skates for rental.

The committee will talk to arena officials at Port Elgin, New Hamburg and other towns where there is roller skating.

It is expected it will be another two or three weeks before a decision will be made. The possibility of public roller skating was the major topic of discussion at a meeting of the arena board last Thursday night.

A ratepayer with a problem has been promised an answer within a few months time.

Turnbull president Mr. Turnbull owns a property at the John McNabb corner which for several years has been neither leaseable nor buildable.

Representing him at Monday's council meeting, Roy Goodwin of the Wm. J. McLeod real estate firm told how after buying the land in 1955, Mr. Turnbull found it required as conservation land a year later. The town can issue no building permit yet taxes are assessed against it ($136 this year) he said.

Mr. Goodwin said the property is valued at $4,275 and the town should either purchase it or have it rezoned so it can be used by the owner.

"I told Mr. Turnbull Friday that I would contact him as soon as I have information," said property chairman B.I. Smith.

GRADE 13's SHADY PROJECT

BEVERLY WILKINSON AND SHARON HANDEL are all for reforestation but this particular arbor transplant has an ulterior motive. The girls and fellow members of the 1963 senior class at Georgetown High School decided recently they should contribute something more to their alma mater than their own attendance and came up with the idea of trees. In a ceremony last week the class enhanced the front of the school and perpetuated their memories by planting eight foot red maples on each side of the front walk.
