VANDALS, ADULT DELINQUENTS KILLING LACROSSE HERE

LACROSSE GETS back on its feet here this summer it will be no thanks to the vandals and adult lumber-hunters who stripped the lacrosse cushion at the corner of Sargent Road and Mountainview Road during the off-season. Above the dressing rooms are just a skeleton of what they once were.

IN THE FOREGROUND the gate to the cushion lies on the ground ripped from its hinges. Behind is all that remains of the booth. Some of the lumber is strewn around the immediate area but lacrosse officials blame adults just as much as the boisterous young people. A lacrosse association spokesman said adults have looked on the cushion as a place to get free lumber. The cushion was constructed three years ago on money from tag days and other projects. Now lacrosse men have to decide whether or not it is worth continuing to attempt to provide facilities for the sport.

Flagpole, Potrait are Presented to Hospital

With the unfurling and raising of the Red Ensign, Mrs. C. Day, president of the Women's Auxiliary, of the Canadian Legion, presented the new flagpole to the Georgetown and District Memorial Hospital, on Sunday afternoon. The ceremony was part of the National Hospital Day celebrations.

In accepting the flagpole on behalf of the board, chairman Ted Evans, felt it would be a permanent reminder of all the work done by the Legion for the Hospital.

When the spectators reassembled in the lobby of the Hospital, Mayor Ernie Hyde standing before the draped portrait of John Gunn, paid tribute to him. "Jack conceived the idea in 1954, of a local hospital, and spearheaded the drive for it, until it finally became a reality," said the Mayor. "However" continued the Mayor wryly, "I did'nt know he had an ulterior motive until now. He tried all the other hospitals to get a daughter, but he only succeeded when he ordered from this hospital." The mayor was referring to the recent birth of a daughter to the Gunns.

The mayor went on to point out that Miss Dorothy Stone had donated the portrait to the Hospital, a gift representing many hours of labour and much talent.

Thereupon Miss Stone unveiled the portrait, which stood on an easel in the lobby.

Standing behind his likeness Mr Gunn thanked Miss Stone and said he was honoured to have his portrait hang in the Hospital. Looking around he said "I see many old friends who were in at the beginning of the idea for a hospital." He emphasized that many people were involved, "many doing much more than I," he said. He concluded by telling the group that now he had first hand knowledge of the unexcelled service in the hospital.

At the conclusion of the formalities refreshments were served in the cafeteria. Tea and coffee were poured by Mrs. T Evans, Miss Ruth Evans, Mrs J B Chamberlain and Mrs W Hamilton and the ladies of the Hospital Auxiliary served.

401 Opening Delays No. 7 Corrections

A spokesman for the Ontario Dept. of Highways told the Herald this week that highway officials will be taking another look at the McCullough corner just at the town's western limit in a few weeks with reconstruction in mind, but cautioned that it is unlikely work will commence on the curve this year.

He said the department has had the corner under study for some time but action was delayed when Hwy. 401 which parallels No 7 was extended south of here in 1959. He said the 401 opening meant a new traffic survey here.

He pointed out that the section of Hwy 7 through town now costs the town less to maintain since the provincial subsidy, which was 75 per cent last year has been upped to 90 per cent. Any improvements in the connecting link in town would be subject to the same rate of assistance.
