Overflow Congregation Greets Former Minister

Rev. G. Lockhart Royal of Goderich, former minister of the Norval and Union Presbyterian Churches, was guest preacher at the Church Anniversary services held on Sunday, May 26. His sermon for the morning service was "Saints Alive" and in the evening his sermon was on "A Call To Come And Go." Special music was provided by the choir under the direction of Music Director Lloyd Davison. At the morning service a duet was sung by Mrs. Don Dolson and Mrs. Lloyd Cychton. The evening service Miss Jean Anderson sang a solo. The church was packed to full capacity with an overflow in both vestibules for the morning service and comfortably filled in the evening. Rev. R. Duncanson, minister in the morning, and the Rev. G. Lockhart Royal in the evening. In the morning he was with Rev. Royal at the Union Anniversary Service.

Asks Regulation on Trailers Be Extended

Permission to have a couple live in a trailer on the former George Cleave farm for more than the 2-month period allowed by law was sought from council Monday by W. T. Craig Reid. Mr. Reid explained that he is bringing a couple from Spain to town to assist with work on the farm which he rents. His intention would be to have a trailer for a year, after which time permanent arrangements would be made. The property is an undeveloped portion of the Del-

BALLINAFAD

Ballinafad Institute Ladies See Stoney Creek Mementoes

The Institute met for their meeting at the home of Mrs. Win Kirkwood with 15 members present. The roll call was answered with ideas on "Should Nov. 11th be a school holiday and why" which developed into a very interesting discussion. The theme of the meeting was "Education" with Mrs. F. Smith as convener who gave a reading on "Values of Salt" and also a report of the District Annual held recently at Lambhouse. Current events were given by Mrs. P. Snow and the motto "Love is the best assurance of World Peace" given by Mrs. L. Marshall. The social committee who served the lunch were Mrs. D. Brown, Mrs. Wm. McLean and Mrs. R. B. Kirkwood. The business inclu-

Miss Flora MacDonald who is a government secretary at Ottawa visited on Sunday with Mrs. D. Fleming.

Mr. John Black attended a Seed School at the Ontario Agricultural College in Guelph for two days last week and on Thursday night Mr. and Mrs. Black, Bobby and Billy and Mr. and Mrs. Corey Hyde of St. Stewart attended an organ recital in Memorial Hall at the OAC by the well known organist Frank Renaud. Mr. Tom Given attended the annual Highland Light Infantry reunion in Windsor over the weekend. Quite a number of the Ballinafad congregation attended the anniversary services at Melville Church on Sunday when the Rev. Earl Brearley was the guest speaker. Getting mad is not only foolish but dangerous, as it often makes a person say what he thinks.
